H. Bowyer, M. P. P. of East Kent, in answer to a question, asked him by that journal, "Has Whitney made good?"

Has Whitney made good?

That is the question which the intelligent, independent electors of Ontario may be expected to ask themselves at the term of the first Largis.

Better Thaining of a union of teachers among themselves or by legislative action. Recognizing this fact, the Government has increased the grant made from the general Provincial revenues to rural schools by $200,000 a year, the object being to ease off the burden which will necessarily be imposed upon the first Largis.

replaced by government by the plugger and personator. We have had four bye-elections since the new Government came into power, and not in one single case has there been so much as a breath of suspicion cast on the fairness with which these contests were conducted. If the Whitney Government had nothing else on which to base its claims for a renewal of confidence it would be justified in asking for renewal on this one ground alone.

THE MAKING OF CITIZENS.

Next to purity of elections, the most important factor in the preservation of a self-governing community is efficiency in public education. It is necessary that the rising generation be prepared in the primary schools of the Province for the ordinary business life. It is doubly necessary that the system of education, who have had merely a Model to the four province of the province of the province of a second or first class certificate should be much more officient than those teachers of today, who have had merely a Model the amount under the previous Government. Has at least doubled the amount under the previous Government the previous Government. I have been asked by The Sun to give answer to the question from the wind to give answer to the question from the standpoint of an independent Conservative. In doing so I shall condemy self to a few of the more important features of the case as it presents itself to my mind.

BASIS OF POPULAR GOVERN-MENT.

The matter which is of most vital importance to a self-governing community is that elections shall be honselly conducted. Unless the ballotbox is regarded as ascred, the foundation on which our whole superstructure rests becomes insecure. If tampering with ballot boxes, and with the matter which is of most vital importance to a self-governing community is that elections shall be honselly conducted. Unless the ballotbox is regarded as ascred, the foundation on which our whole superstructure rests becomes insecure. If tampering with ballot boxes, and with the mathematical consecuration on which our whole superstructure rests becomes insecure. If tampering with ballot boxes, and with the machinery of elections in general, goes far enough, popular government ceases to be a reality, and becomes a sharp a pretense. I need because it by sea, the bullot of the burden which will the desired the burden which will the desired the burden which will the Government has not, perhaps days, held as strictly to the line as some of the would desire, still that some of the same time, the Government has not, perhaps days, held as strictly to the line as some of the season of $55,000 to the same of the sensition which which which which which with the grant of a line general that the content of the care and allog of a line connecting and allog 255,000 for a line connecting and the perhaps are suited to a self-government was manifest. Abolish Preference,

Abolish Preference,

London, April 26.—(C. A. P.)—Senator Choquette has been talking to an occasional correspondent of The Pall Mall Gazette.

Choquette says the cattle embargo is politically dishonest. It is a slur on Canadian cattle to say they are diseased, and if the British Parliament does not do something towards removing this slur Choquette, thinks that, were a motion brought up in the Canadian House to abolish the British preference, it would, in its present humor, give it a majority.

Though Choquette says he has not directly discussed the matter with Laurier, he is of the opinion that Laurier would support such a motion. MONEY IN CANARIES COTTAM BIRD SEED It never is a waste of time to take time to do a thing well, 19 Bathurst Street, London, Ont.
