

Gleaned by the Way.

A receiving teller—a gossiping woman. A hen is always satisfied with a picketed dinner. The ocean never sleeps, yet it never gets out of its bed. Bearine feeds the dry and unhealthy scalp, softens and gives vim to the hair. 50c. a jar.

"Let me give you a new wrinkle," said worry to the woman. Talk about hard times, just think of what they must have been in the stone age.

"Why does he say that her face is like one of Browning's poems?" "Because it has some hard lines in it."

Just as good a coat of tan may be obtained by wading the garden as by going to the seashore, and at considerable less expense.

Women Have Backache. Many women have kidney disease and do not know it, because they attribute backache to other causes. The use of Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills makes short work of backache and prevents serious trouble from developing. Ask your neighbors about this great family medicine.

"Why do you insist on having a native of Italy to work on your farm?" "Because I've read so much about them in the Italian hands."

"Books help a man's conversation." "Undoubtedly. But the man who buys them seldom gets to be as good a talker as the man who sold them to him."

The girl who did not go on a vacation may not have had so many proposals as the one who went, but neither has she so many files on her conscience.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S CATARRH POWDER 25c. is sent direct to the diseased parts by the blow, clears the throat, relieves the irritation, and permanently cures the Catarrh of the Throat, Larynx, and Bronchus. It is a safe and effective remedy. All druggists.

Gerald—I have never kissed a girl before. Geraldine—You have come to the wrong place; I'm not running a preparatory school.

Salior—Just at that moment my father received a bullet that cut off both his arms and legs and threw him into the sea. Fortunately he knew how to swim.

"Pa, it says here that he spoke with restraint. What does that mean?" "It probably means that he referred in a general way to a lot of things he didn't know much about."

Pale, Anaemic Girls. The languid, semi-inert girl is no longer popular. First, she is a healthy glow to the complexion are the result of using Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food. Mrs. Goodson, 104 Belmont St., Montreal, Que., writes: "My daughter's appetite was bad and she was pale and bloodless. Since using Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food there is marked change in her condition. She is stronger and healthier than ever."

"I see you have only one chair in the kitchen, Mary. I must get another one for you." "You needn't mind, ma'am, I have none but gentleman callers."

You won't be disappointed if you get the genuine D. & L. Menthol Plasters for stiffness, backache, etc. Successful remedies are imitated, look out for the original "D. & L." made by Davis and Lawrence Co.

Tattered Timothy—I've been tramping four years, ma'am, an' it's all 'cause I heard the doctors recommended walkin' as the best exercise. Mrs. Prim—Well, the doctors are right. Walk along.

We recommended Ferravin, the invigorating tonic, to elderly people whose strength is beginning to wane, and who suffer frequently from attacks of sudden exhaustion, chilliness, weak heart action, etc. Ferravin contains fresh lean beef, Citrate of Iron, and pure old Spanish Sherry Wine. $1.00 at druggists.

"I hear Lem Boggs Sundayed with ye, desorn?" "Ya'as."

"Goin' to lose yer darter, eh?" "I reckon, but not to Lem. Zeb Higgs Mondayed, Tuesdayed, Wednesdayed and Thursdayed with us. I judge Zeb is the lucky man."

Newbride—Didn't you hire that cook I sent up from the intelligence office?

Mrs. Newbride—No, dear; she did not answer my questions satisfactorily. For one thing, when I asked her what kind of soup she used to wash vegetables, she said she didn't use any.

MINARD'S LIMENT CO. LIMITED. DEAR SIR—I had a bleeding tumor on my face for a long time and tried a number of remedies without any good results. I was advised to try MINARD'S LIMENT, and after using several bottles it made a complete cure and I healed all up and disappeared altogether. DAVID HENDERSON, Belleville Station, Kingston, Ont., N. S., Sept. 17, 1910.

A story credited to the late Justice Brewer, has it that, while he was presiding at a minor court, he was presiding at the trial of a wife's suit for separation and alimony. The defendant acknowledged that he hadn't spoken to his wife for five years, and Justice Brewer took a hard from the bench in examining the witness.

"What explanation have you," he said severely to the defendant, "for not speaking to your wife for five years?" "Your honor," replied the imbedded, "I didn't like to interrupt the lady."

What Shall We Eat this Summer?

Catering for the household in summer is not a difficult task provided the family are of one mind. Nature furnishes fruit in abundance, and a diet largely composed of milk and fruit, good bread and butter and fresh vegetables is the one to be recommended in the summer season. Very little meat is needed in summer. Hot joints and highly spiced food are as great mistakes as might be the wearing of a fur coat. The custom of a hearty American breakfast, once universal, has become obsolete, and the European breakfast of rolls and coffee, or coffee with toast and marmalade, a little fruit and a cereal at discretion, is at present popular. To prepare breakfast with coffee and rolls and boiled eggs is an easy affair. The other meals of the day may likewise be simple. If there are men whose work requires them to have a heartier diet, they should be provided for at dinner or supper. Americans need not be ashamed of liking pie as their forefathers did. A toothsome berry pie is a dish fit to set before a king. The summer housekeeper may decline to make pastry oftener than on Saturday morning, and when the supply of Saturday baking is exhausted she should serve the family with uncooked fruit until the return of baking day.

Good for Biliousness. "I took two Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets last night, and I feel fifty per cent. better than I have for weeks," says J. J. Firestone, of Allegan, Mich. "They are certainly a fine article or billiousness." For sale by Rand's Drug Store. Samples free.

Gordon Scott bought a new table for his office in the Symes building the other day. When it was delivered he decided that it was too well varnished.

"It was too smooth," said Mr. Scott yesterday to a couple of friends. "Why, the first day I had it a fly lit on it, slipped and broke its neck and three of its arms."

Heretofore Gordon Scott has borne a reputation for truth and veracity—Denver Post.

"Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by Rand's Drug Store.

Wise Words. Fancies have more to do with love-making than facts. If wishes were horses there would soon be a hay famine. It's easy to prescribe a remedy for other people's ills. The hedgehog and the porcupine are tricky as people's hearts.

A man is apt to get his back up when he is told to hump himself. The heirs of a self-made man are mostly of the fresh or hot brand.

A man may be a power in financial circles and still be on the square. Never judge a man's worth by the amount of insurance he carries. Money doesn't talk long before it begins to brag. The greatness of many a man is due to inherited money. Occasionally a man who is open to conviction is shut up in jail. But a divorce usually costs less than a breach of promise. In a musician's strike the wind instrument players are not likely to come to blows. Just think of the clothes a man's wife could buy with the money he squanders for cigars.

Absent Minded Workmen. The boss was a hustler. Two of his men were not. Long experience, however, had made them wise in their way.

"Now, then, where are you going?" asked the foreman on one occasion. "Please, sir," responded one of the men, "we're takin' this 'ere plank up to the sawmill."

"Plank? What plank?" snapped the boss. "Why, bless me, Bill," he exclaimed, "if we ain't been and forgot the plank!"—From Answers.

Mrs. Youngbride—Mrs. Smith says there is lots of cream on her milk bottles every morning. Why is there never any on yours?

The Milkman—I'm too honest, lady, that's why. I fill my bottles so full that there ain't never no room for cream."

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unusual loosening of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by Rand's Drug Store.

Country Farmer—I always set my hens in the spring. City Farmer—Indeed? Why say poultry book says emphatically to set them in a dry place.—Judge.

Don't waste your money buying plasters when you can get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liment for twenty-five cents. A plaster's benefit compared with this Liment is superior to any plaster for lumbago, pain in the side and chest, and much cheaper. Sold by Rand's Drug Store.

No one disputes the splendid quality of Red Rose Tea. Here in the East as well as in the West it is used every day in thousands of homes where its unvarying fine quality has been proven by years of continuous use.

Is Your Loaf Like This?

If your flour is of the right quality, it ought to produce uniformly good bread. When the loaf comes out of the oven it ought to be appetizing and inviting in appearance. The crust should be crisp, tender and sweet as a nut. The pores of the bread should be regular showing uniform expansion by the yeast and every loaf should be light, plump and should expand over the top of the pan. Bread made from Ogilvie's

Royal Household Flour always comes up to the highest standard of excellence when made right. It is always uniform, and good to look at as well as good to eat.

Summer and winter, day after day, month after month, "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" is milled by exactly the same process from exactly the same standard uniform grade of the best Red Fife wheat. And this uniformity is guaranteed by rigid safeguarding tests at the mill before the flour is shipped. Get ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR from your grocer and stick to it.

"Ogilvie's Back for a Cook," with 100 pages of recipes that have been tried and tested, will be sent free if you will send us your address and mention the name of your dealer. THE OGILVIE FLOUR MILLS CO. LIMITED, MONTREAL.

Father Morrissey's Liniment Relieves Pain Aches and pains yield quickly to Father Morrissey's Liniment. It is absorbed quickly by the skin, and penetrates deep into the tissues, making it splendid for sore muscles, stiff joints, rheumatic pains, backache, sore throat or lungs, or any deep-seated pain.

It eases at once and heals surface hurts, such as cuts, bruises, burns, scalds and frost-bites. For tooth-ache and ear-ache it is an excellent remedy. Father Morrissey's Liniment is exceptionally good as "rub" for athletes. It takes out stiffness and soreness after severe exercise, and never blisters the skin. Keep a bottle handy, for "There's ease in every drop". 25c. a bottle—at your dealer's.

Let us put one up in your yard ready for next wash-day. Or call and see it. Quotations gladly furnished on application. Hillsley & Harvey Co., Ltd. PORT WILLIAMS, N. S.

Each grate bar has three sides—long wear When only one side of a grate bar is continually next to the fire all the wear is concentrated on that one side. The life of the grate bar is thus naturally just one-third as long as when the wear is distributed on three sides.

That explains why Sunshine grates have three lives. Each of the four grate bars has three sides. Each time the ashes are "rocked down" (no shaking the sides next to the fire can be changed. Thus the life of the grate is greatly prolonged.

When desired, the heavy bull dog teeth on the grates will seize hold of clinkers, grind them up, and drop the particles into the ash-pan. Buy the Sunshine—the durable, convenient, economical furnace, guaranteed by the largest furnace makers in British Empire.

A Kind Word When You Can. Do you know a heart that hungers for a word of love and cheer? There are many such about us—

It may be that one is near. Look around you. If you find it, Speak the word that's needed so: And your own heart may be strengthened. By the help that you bestow.

It may be that someone falters On the brink of sin and wrong; And a word from you might save him—

Help to make the tempted strong. Look around you, O my brother! What a sin to yours and mine If we see that help is needed, And we give no friendly sign.

Never think kind words are wasted— Bread on waters cast are they: And it may be we shall find them. Coming back to us some day— Coming back when sorely needed, In a time of sharp distress. So, my friend, let's give them freely; Gift and giver God will bless.

A Wrecked Family. A teacher writes: "The death of a young man in this country a few weeks ago, has made me more than ever realize the enormity of the crimes arising from the use of strong drink. From excessive drinking this young man had spent about all his money, and in a state of despondency left his wife and children, and was heard of no more until a notice in the paper informed his friends that he was found dead in bed with empty laudanum bottles by his side.

"The grandfather of this young man was a moderate drinker, who left seven sons with about $10,000 each. The first son went early to a drunkard's tremens; the second died of delirium tremens, and was found next morning dead in bed; the fourth was found dead in a barn, where, not worth a dollar, he had shot himself; the fifth had spent his patrimony, and is now a day-laborer; the sixth has spent his own property and that of his wife, and is now a farm-laborer; and the seventh has disappeared from the community. Some of the grandsons of this moderate drinker are drunkards, some are, notwithstanding the innate influence, a few of the grandsons have, by God's help, been able to withstand the terrible temptation, and are living usefully and Christian lives. I give you the above to show the effects of moderate drinking by one man. Far be it from me to wound the feelings of the family, but I write with the hope that it may be a warning to my fellow-men. All this can be testified to by hundreds of living witnesses, for the family was widely known and much respected."—The Safeguard.

His Badge. "Freckles" was his nickname. He had no mother. He had a drunkard for a father. But he had a Sunday school, and there he learned about temperance and decent living and the fight against evil. Freckles served salt at people's back doors, but he had the steady spirit of a crusader, young as he was. When the town had a local option election—it was out in Illinois, and Mrs. Stevens tells the story—Freckles put on a white badge, marked in gold letters with the slogan, "The Saloon Must Go," and did his best to help, for, as he said, "It's awful hard town to live in the way it is!"

Plenty of men wore the badge, too; but the liquor forces were too strong, and it was discouraging from the first. When election day came, the town went "wet"—overwhelming—and the men took off their badges and said, "It's no use; we might have known it was no use to have a local-option election in this town!" But Freckles—well, Freckles went round serving milk the next morning, still with his badge on. "The Saloon Must Go." Why, you haven't taken off your badge yet," said one of his customers.

"What should I do that for?" was Freckles' reply. "It was the men that voted yesterday; but it won't be long before we Sunday school boys will be doing the voting—and then the saloons are going to go!"

It was an answer that caused every temperance worker in town to take courage. It is the answer to many problems—the answer of the boy, who is the future embodied. The Sunday school boy and his ideals are the hope

AFTER SUFFERING YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fox Creek, N. B.—"I have always had pain in the loins and a weakness there, and often after my meals in my food would distress me and cause soreness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me much good. I am stronger, digestion is better and I can walk with ambition. I have encouraged many mothers of families to take it, as it is the best remedy in the world. You can publish this in the papers."—Mrs. WILLIAM BOURQUE, Fox Creek, N. B., Canada.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medical Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at once give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

of America, Honor to Freckles—and may there be more of him in every community, making the future bright in its outlook.

Your complexion as well as your temper is rendered miserable by a disordered liver. By taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets you can improve both. Sold by Rand's Drug Store.

Closing the liquor saloon is sometimes said to be depriving the working man of his right; that the saloon is his "friend," and like nonsense. In a recent speech the Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, of the British Parliament, referred to the relation between the temperance reform and the working man in this pitiful sentence:

"Has it ever occurred to you, that there never has been a working man who rose above the rank of his class, or who obtained great distinction as a labor leader, who was not at the same time a temperance reformer?"

The saloon robs and debases, not only the working man and his family, but everybody who has any connection with it.

Most cases of baldness are due solely to neglect. The hair often becomes dry and dandruff forms because the hair glands do not supply enough natural oil. Nothing overcomes this deficiency so effectively as that delicately perfumed, refreshing hair pomade, Bearine. Avoid baldness; apply Bearine to your hair occasionally. All druggists, 50 cts. a jar.
