Probably the worst result of this unpatriotic course has been the aid and comfort given to a number of malcontents in Manitoba who, in seeking redress for alleged grievances, have done all in their power to retard the progress and development of the country. The malicious falsehoods scattered over Europe from the Farmers' Convention have done more to check the stream of immigration to the North-West than all the taxation cries and exodus fables of the Grit press, while the discontented Manitoba farmers, who based their grievances on the absence of trainsportation facilities, have used the most likely means to delay the improvements for which they have been clasmoring.
