CONSUMPTION CURE. Prof. Behring Reveals Operation to

Congress. Paris, Oct. 8.—Prof. Behring read yesterday in the Tuberculosis Congress a paper upon his discovery of a cure for consumption. Summed up, Prof. Behring's paper affirms the discovery of the curative principle in tuberculosis, consisting in the impregberculosis, consisting in the impreg-nation of the living cells of the or-ganism with a certain substance. The principle seems to have been effective against the malady in the case of cattle. Prof. Behring believes that it will be equally effective in the case of humans.

will be equally effective in the case of humans.

Prof. Behring said: "Within the last two years I discovered the existence of a curative principle, completely diferent from the antitoxin I described 15 years ago. This principle is based on impregnating the living cells of the organism with a substance drawn from tuberculosis veins, which substance I have named T. C.

"This agent can be fixed by contact with other substances by the phenomenon known as absorption. Furthermore, under cettain conditions, it possesses assimilating qualities. In one word, it represents the quasi-vital principles of the baciri. In the process of immunizing bovines against tuberculosis the T. C. of bacilli is freed from one word, it represents the quasi-vital principles of the baciri. In the process of immunizing bovines against tuberculosis the T. C. of bacilli is freed from accidental substances. It exerts symbiotic action in the interor of the organic cells. The presence of T. C. is the cause, on the one hand, of hypersensibility to Koch's tuberculin, and, on the other hand, of protecting reaction against tuberculosis."

Prof. Behring believes that his new method will protect mankind threatened with phthisis against harmful consequences from tubercular infection. He admits that he never would have dreamed of cellular immunity had not Dr. Metchnikoff written on phagocytes and entered closely into technical details of how he managed to dispose of substances that were likely to prevent therapeutic action. The professor ended nis paper by congratulating himself on having secured Prof. Roux's collaboration. and by hoping that at the next congress he would be able to record progress made against human phthisis.

Dr. Bever, official representative of the United States, invited the congress to meet in America in 1908. The invitation was accepted.

Unclaimed Goods.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—When Frank Walsh, a bricklayer, 514 King street east, purchased in Henderson's auction rooms for $2.50 a large packing case, he struck a bonanza. The box had been sent from Derry, Ireland, to Robert Moore, London, Ont., but was never claimed, and had been in the auction rooms for over five years. When Mr. Walsh opened the case on Saturday afternoon, he was surprised to find it filled with guns, swords, blackthorn canes, pikes, and surprised to find it filled with guns, swords, blackthorn canes, pikes, and all manner of goods. The most valuable things in the box were some four dozen willow pattern plates and platters of very old design, some of which, however, had been cracked. BATTERED RAFT A CLUE. Washed Up on Shore of Vancouver Is-

Victoria B. C., Oet. 8.—Circumstantial evidence is multiplying to make it all too certain that a grim tragedy has been enacted off the entrance of the Straits of Fuea during recent days.

There is small doubt that the little raft with empty water barrels, some salmon tins and some bottles picked up by Lightkeeper saykin at Point Carmana is the same which, when sighted off Bandon, Ore., Wednesday, held five human lives.

A gale was raging all night, and of the victims on the raft nothing will ever be told, as they must have perished long ere the frail timbers that for a time supported anem were dashed on the desolate Vancouver Island shore.

A large quantity of timber and other flotsam was washed ashore where the telltale raft was found.

A supplementary report from Light-keeper Daykin states further that he has found amongst the wreckage of the raft a triangle with pieces of canvas tacked on it, having all the appearance of a used sea-anchor.

"On one of the empty's," the message states, "is the names T. Stewart, and in addition to the tins of salmon already reported there were a number of sauce bottles. Capt. Pittsburg, Oct. 7.—John Mitchell, President of the United Mine Workers of America, arrived here to-day from New York on his way to Elizabeth. Regarding the possibilities of a strike next spring Mr. Mitchell said:

YESTERDAY IN CITY CHURCHES. PRESENTED WITH GOLD LOCKET

ess, pride and cowardice—and then turned to the question of suicide Canada, umbering two a day or 624 a year. Suicide may in a large measure, he said, be accounted for by the materialistic tendency of the age. Anarchy is to be traced to the same source. The anarchists may have suffered wrong, but the real reason for the existence is that they have lost faith in the immortality of the soul, and the justice of God. In a large measure suicide may be accounted for by the greed for gold of this age. The struggle for luxury, honor, position and riches is so great that those engaged in it have no time to east or rest, or sleep or play. Even the sanctity of the Sabbath is invaded and they spend the day scheming and planing and doing foundation work. The result is, sooner or later, health gives out and man goes down. Reverses come and rather than suffer disgrace, he courts death. The desire to live beyond one's means is another fruitful cause of self destruction, and in part it is due to sensational novels. Mr. Treleaven referred to the statement that large publishing houses in the United States engage the best lawyers at large salaries to go over novels with instructions to leave in all they can that is bad without bringing the book within the condemnation of the law. He urged upon parents the necessity of providing their children with good books. As conducive to suicide he mentioned slavery to vice, remore of sin, the cup that inebriates and the hell of the gambler, speaking strongly on the evils of intemperance and mentioning cases that had come under his own observations of ruin through betting at the Woodbine race track. In this city, and to reduce the total amount of their investment, the remainder of the profits from the operation of the twenty-five saloons to revert to the city treasury.

The lad wanted the ring, but said he could not win it. He called upon men of clear minds, sound judgment and strong wills to give up smoking on acount of the influence of their example. Mr. Treleaven also spoke of the suicides brought about by dispondency and of the cure—unfaltering, unfailing trust in God.

from 121st Psalm and the 5th chapter of Matthew. The subject selected for the children was "Thy word is a lamp nnto my feet and a light to my pathway." He impressed upon the minds and hearts of the children the lesson of having right companionship along life's pathway and of being by word and example a comfort and help to others, going about doing good. In the afternoon the regular Sunday school session was held, and in the evening a sermon to parents and friends of the Sabbath school was preached. The subject chosen by Rev. preached. Large congregations yesterday attended the special anniversary services held in Centenary Church. They were of particular attractiveness. In the morning the pulpit was occupied by Rev. C. E. He pointed out that the only true conception of God was that of a father, and of the universe that of a home, and, one great warrant for of a home, and one great warrant for this belief was the attitude of Jesus Christ when on earth, for no one would deny that He was at home in the world.

New York, Oct. 7.—Denton H. Hopkins, a die-cutter in Brooklyn, shot and instantly killed his wife in a duel in the hallway of her flat on Johnson street, Brooklyn, to-day. Although married 30 years, the two were living apart, having quarrelled over money matters. To-day Hopkins called at his wife's flat, knocked for admission, and when she opened the door they began to fire at each other with revolvers.

Hopkin's sister, who witnessed the duel was unable to say who shot first. Hopkins was wounded in the hand by a bullet from his wife's weapon, and finally shot her in the eye. She died instantly, Hopkins was arrested and charged with murder.
