Gower St. Church S.S. Anniversary

The services at Gower Street Church yesterday were of an unusually high order, and must certainly have left lasting impressions upon all who attended. In the morning the Rev. F. R. Matthews of Wesley Church was the preacher, and delivered a very able discourse bearing upon Christmas and the festive season.

In the afternoon an enthusiastic Sunday School service was held, and was very much enjoyed by the scholars and teachers and all the friends. A special feature of this service was the Christmas presents of the children, which in the aggregate made a marked the services as a truly Christmas children's service. At night the service was conducted by the Rev. John Peters, son of our respected and well known townsman Mr. J. E. P. Peters, who for the past few years has been labouring in one of our Canadian Conferences. The subject of Mr. Peter's text was based ipon a petition of the Lord's Prayer namely, "Give us this day our daily bread," and the discourse proved wel worthy of such a topic, and was such as suited the different experiences o all ranks, classes and conditions c

The petition for daily bread is made by universal Christendom, but per haps sometimes made without due thought as to what it really implies and even some who offer the prayer and make their request do not really think that their blessings and their bounties really come from God, and they act as if He were left out of it But this was a mistake, because al our blessings bespeak of Providence and declare his over-ruling power The seed may be sown and the grain may be garnered, and all the toil o the harvest be bestowed upon it, bu unless there be life in the seed it cannot bud nor grow. In the life of the seed lies the mystery of production and it is in this aspect that we fine the care of God and see His power and thus understand the necessity o the prayer, because we ask it of Hin who is the author and source of al

While the petition was universally used in the Churchs, yet it had a per sonal application, and contained great truth as to what man should possess. Our daily bread implied ou own share of it, and it also implied that there was a share for our neigh bour. This principle affected th present agitation of Labor and Capi tal, and it taught us that if each mar were satisfied with his proper share o daily bread, and one would not striv to have his neighbour's share beyond what is fair and legitimate, then i would be very possble to settle th differences and solve the problems which seem to force themselves upon business and society in general.

The question of daily bread taught us many lessons, but we are slow to learn them. It taught us the lesson if our dependence upon God, and o the dependence of one country upon another, and of one people upon another, and hence the necessity o roduced variety enough to supply a that we use in daily life are the pro ducts of nations and peoples far apart. Our breakfast table, or our dinner table, if we look at the ingredients which compose these re pasts, will reveal the fact that some of these came from Canada, some from England or France, some from far off China and Japan; but in the course of trade, and by the law of commerce, and under the Providence of God, they have been brought to gether and they make up what known as "our daily bread."

The products of nature were suf ficient for its annual supply of food but by one season of failure manking would be destitute of food. Bu every season produced it own crops Thus it is that food is ever fresh and new, and contains the life-giving pro-perties necessary to the body. Therefore when we make the petition fo daily bread we are acknowledging ou dependence upon Higher Power, and that our daily wants are supplied from above. But there was a higher aspect in which man partook o bread. The daily bread perished in asmuch as it only gives physical life, but there is a greater bread than daily bread; there is the bread of life; he bread of which the disciples "Lord, evermore give us this

The entire discourse was well prepared, and was delivered in such a manner and with such a spirit as reflected credit upon the speaker, and was very edifying to the congregation. Mr. Peters, is an old Sunday School scholar of Gower Street Church, and if any of his teachers were present last night they must certainly have felt thankful that they had been in strumental in his early training. The crowning of the day's services was in the rendition of a beautiful our talented vocalist, Mrs. solo l

New York, Dec. 12.-The Evening World yesterday stated that Presidentelect Wilson is planning to appoint President Taft to the first vacancy which occurs on the bench of the United States Supreme Court during his administration.

The World quotes President-elect during a discussion on the usefulness of ex-Presidents: "I know what I will do with one ex-President if he will be grachous enough to allow me so to dispose of him. I shall ask Mr. Taft to fill the first vacancy which occurs on the Bench of the Supreme Court,"

AT COCHRANE ST. CHURCH.

Cochrane Street Sunday School held its anniversary services yesterday and were a decided success, Special sermons were preached, in the morning by the Rev. J. W. Bartlett, and in the evening by the Pastor, Rev. C. A. Whitemarsh, M.A., B.D. Both sermons, were bristling with hints to mons, were bristling with hints to parents, and if wisely acted upon will be a great help to the Sunday School workers in the future. The afternoon meeting presided over by John Maundmeeting presided over by John Maunder, Esq., was all that could be desired. The little ones performed their part well. Miss Story, representing George Street Church, sang a beautiful solo; Miss Horwood, from Gower Street School, gave a reading; Miss Marguerite Parsons a vectories and guerite Parsons, a recitation, and a duet by Misses Marjorie Haddon and very imposing display, and which marked the services as a truly Christ-who is on a visit to the city, gave a short address which was much appreciated. At the evening service Miss Herder rendered O Holy Night in her usual pleasing manner, the soloist was accompanied with the Organ and Cello. Much credit is due Mr. Arthur Mews for the successful carrying out of yesterday's services. The training of the scholars must have taken quite a lot of time and trouble. They certainly did their part well, as he singing was highly commented on by the large congregations present. The "Babe Wonderful" was the subject of the day's worship and we congretulate Superintendent Woods and all his workers on the success which attended their efforts.

Wesley Church.

The Sunday School Anniversary and annual Christmas services at Wesley Church were largely attended yesterlay. Rev. Dr. Rogers preached a zery eloquent sermon at the former in the morning and Rev. J. S. Sutherland, M. A., at night. In the afternoon Principal Dewar, of the Presbyterian College addressed a largely attended meeting at which some sixty members of the Adult Bible Class were present with Supt. A. W. Martin. The prizes were distributed at the close by the Pastor, Rev. F. R. Matthews. 3. A. The school exercises and singing by the children were excellent. A.
