War Bread Exhibition.

With the chief purpose of showing how best to save wheat for the soldiers who are fighting German aggression, coupled with the lust for conquest and world dominion, and to ensure that a sufficiency of flour be at the disposal of the Army Commissariat, not only for the feeding of our own men, but those of the Allies as well, the bread exhibition at the British Hall last evening read a lesson which might well be learned by our people. The need for economy is being emphasized more and more as the war advances. That the end is not yet, and that greater need for still more close and keen frugality in our consumption of foods which are not absolutely necessary to us but are absolutely necessary to the men in the field, is becoming alarmingly apparent. Our thrift will be tried to the utmost during the months to come, and we must be true to ourselves and true to those who are fighting our battles by practicing as well as preaching, food economy. Are we doing so? No person disputes the preaching, but many cast grave doubts on the practicing. The bulk of our people must be shown the example by those who take the lead in advocating the living of the simple life, and once they are satisfied that the prime desire is for the welfare and ultimate success of the Allied forces, there will not be a man, or woman, or child even, who will hesitate for one moment to follow the lead that the Government and the people, though easily led, sometimes "have to be shown." The present is the time to show them. Two hundred and ten thousand people outside the city of St. John's are waiting for a sign to indicate the course to be followed. Yesterday's exhibition will convey nothing to them, unless its warning is brought home. Some of them will read of it in the papers and promptly forget it. The lessons, if they are to be of value, must be impressed on the mind, and to have these become an educational factor in teaching our people to be more than provident, must be continued and followed up. As a first step in this direction, it may be advisable for the promoters of yesterday's exhibition to make some arrangement whereby leaves of bread showing the greatest saving in wheat flour can be sent to the principal outposts, for examination by the housewives at these places, or if that method is not feasible or practicable, the recipes therefor can be printed and copies sent to the postal offices in post towns and settlements for distribution among the people. In this way the saving, which is now the true type of national service, will be encouraged. It will be too late to begin economizing when dire necessity demands, because then we shall be compelled to, whether we like it or not.

In another column we take pleasure in printing a detailed report of the exhibition, together with the names of the prize winners and of those who received honourable mention.

Interview

WITH HIS LORDSHIP BISHOP WILLIAMS, OF QUEBEC.

The Telegram had the distinct privilege and pleasure on Tuesday morning of interviewing His Lordship Bishop Williams of Quebec, one of the distinguished dignitaries of the Canadian Church, at the residence of the Misses Browning, Richmond, Topsail Road. His Lordship, it will be remembered was one of the officiating Bishops at the consecration of the Right Rev. W. Charles White, D.D., on Sunday last.

Bishop Williams is a son of the late Right Rev. James Williams, M.A., D.D., fourth Bishop of Quebec, and was consecrated to the exalted office of Bishop in 1915. His Lordship Bishop Williams visited this country some thirty years ago. Shortly after he was priested he went as chaplain to his father (then Bishop of Quebec) on a visit to the Labrador coast. It was on this return trip that his Lordship landed here and proceeded to Quebec by the Black Diamond Line, after being most hospitably entertained at St. John's for a short period. After enjoying a very interesting conversation, for the learned Bishop is a very excellent conversationalist, we proceeded, with his consent to ask the following questions:

Q.—What was your Lordship's impression of our steamer Kyle and train service?

A.—The Kyle is a very fine boat and we experienced a heavy storm, it taking forty-one hours to make the trip. But despite the storm (the worst for years as the wind was blowing from 80 to 85 miles per hour) we suffered no discomfort whatever and thoroughly enjoyed the trip. Everything was done by the officials on the boat to make us comfortable which was appreciated very much. We were the guests of the Reid N.S. Co., while on their boat and train and everything was arranged and carried out in detail for our comfort. Although the trip across your Dominion is a long one we enjoyed it and appreciated the very excellent service at our disposal.

Q.—My Lord, what were your impressions of the country as seen under existing conditions?

A.—It is most difficult, of course, to really form any accurate or definite opinion, but the scenery along the line was exceedingly grand and fine. I believe you have a country possessing great possibilities. Judging from our general observations I would like to have the pleasure of crossing your Dominion in the summer time when nature is seen at its best. On our arrival at St. John's we were met by the Bishop-elect and clergy as well as a large number of citizens. We were given a very warm welcome and have been most hospitably entertained. I am very happy here and have thoroughly enjoyed the hospitality of the good ladies who so kindly entertained me.

Q.—How was Your Lordship impressed with the spirit of devotion displayed by the congregations attending the different services?

A.—We were indeed deeply impressed by the devotion of the different congregations and one is glad to see such a good enthusiastic church spirit amongst the church people of Newfoundland. One special feature which struck us all very forcibly was the hearty congregational singing and the very large attendance. We were all exceedingly proud to notice such a large number of men attending the services.

Q.—Regarding general war conditions in Canada, would Your Lordship condemn some of them?

A.—We are just beginning to feel the pressure of the food regulations. Food saving campaigns have been inaugurated in all cities and have been taken up generally and are being prosecuted in a most vigorous manner. This food saving is not as much for our own interests directly, as it is to give our men overseas more food and to benefit the Allies in general. These campaigns have been a great success and the people have done well. They have largely given up the use of white bread, bacon and beef, and are using as little sugar as possible in order that these commodities so necessary and vital may go overseas. The clergy from the pulpit, and the press are doing their utmost to bring before the people of the Dominion of Canada the great need for food saving. The ladies are getting all householders to pledge themselves to the food saving campaign, and pledge cards have been issued to be placed in windows signifying their intention to save, and much good has resulted therefrom. (These pledge cards are similar to ours in use here.)

Q.—My Lord, how has the war affected the Canadian Universities, particularly the University of Bishop's College, of which Your Lordship is Vice-President?

A.—The Canadian Universities have responded to the call to arms in a most patriotic manner. The ranks of the students are very much depleted and but few are attending who are either under the age limit or are physically unfit. The University you mention in particular has a record of which we all feel proud. For the number of students in attendance and her proportion, the University of Bishop's College has I think the largest percentage of men in khaki of any University in Canada.

Q.—I presume Your Lordship has considerable work awaiting your arrival?

A.—Yes. I have a number of engagements, the first being on Sunday the 17th inst., when I have a confirmation at the Cathedral, Quebec City. At the conclusion when asked if there was anything about the capital of this Dominion he had noted particularly, His Lordship mentioned the fact that he had many pleasant reminiscences of the hospitality extended to him some thirty years ago and he would remember this trip with a great deal of pleasure. We have all thoroughly enjoyed the trip and have been greatly pleased with the enthusiastic welcome we have received. We have acquired a delightful experience which we will never forget. You have in your Governor a very fine gentleman. An earnest man possessing great ability and a man keen to do anything he can for the benefit of the community. We dined at Government House last night and he was exceedingly kind and courteous and we are exceedingly grateful, and in general we shall never forget the kindness and hospitality of the good people of St. John's.

"Myles Aroon" at the Casino.

The B. I. S. Dramatic Company will be seen on Monday afternoon and night in the production of Andrew Mack's great American success, "Myles Aroon." The B. I. S. orchestra will be present. It will, no doubt, be remembered that this play has been produced here once before and scored a great hit, and we are glad to know that many of the original cast will again appear. Tickets will be on sale at the Casino box office at noon and it would be advisable for those wishing to secure good seats to be on hand early.

The Passing of the Rt. Rev. Mgr. St. John.

The Rt. Rev. Mons. St. John, Chancellor of the Archdiocese, and P.P. of Torbay, ceased from his labours at 10.30 yesterday morning after a very short illness. Father St. John was ordained on April 4th, 1874, and was therefore in his 44th year of the Priesthood. The Monsignor was beloved and respected in the different parishes where he had laboured, not only by his own parishioners but by those of all denominations. He was a great worker as well as a magnificent leader. Father St. John accompanied the late Archbishop Howley on his last visit to Rome where he was made a prelate to His Holiness the Pope. The Right Rev. Monsignor St. John was born in St. John's on October 2nd, 1848, and was therefore in his 70th year. At 16 he entered the College des Lazaristes, Montfidiel, France. Later he entered St. Kyran's College, Killarney, Ireland. From the latter place he went to All Hallows Missionary College, Drumcondra, and entered the Propaganda College at Rome. Ordained on April 4th, 1874 in Rome by Constantine Cardinal Patrizi in the Basilica of St. John's on Latero, he left Rome for St. John's where he arrived on June 24th. His first appointment was to the curacy of St. Mary's, the Very Rev. Richard O'Donnell being the then Parish Priest. In the next Presbytery at Salmon he went into residence after a period of 21 years in the scattered parishes he received the appointment of Parish Priest of Little Piccadilly, now Argentea, where his labours of 15 years will ever be remembered. In 1910 Father St. John was appointed to the Parish of Torbay and at same time was made Chancellor of the Archdiocese.

The death of Father St. John has brought a great loss to Torbay as well as to the Church of which he was a priest of profound learning.

His body lay in state at Torbay yesterday afternoon and last night. It was conveyed to the Cathedral today and will remain in state till tomorrow at 8.30 at which time solemn mass of Requiem will be sung and interment will follow at Belvedere. Mr. John St. John is a nephew, J. T. Fitzpatrick is a cousin, both of this city, and Dr. E. Howley in Australia, a nephew, Mrs. Geo. Foreman, and Mrs. A. H. Clarke are the only immediate relatives of the late Monsignor.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Caroline Pike took place yesterday evening; interment being in the C. B. cemetery.

A number of carmen are now engaged in hauling ice. The men were put to much discomfort the past few days while engaged at the work, owing to the severe frost.

The funeral of the late George Pammit took place yesterday afternoon and was largely attended by sympathizing citizens, including the Masonic brethren of the town, as the deceased was a member of that fraternity.

Monday night's storm was very severe, and passengers who arrived by train last night had much difficulty in getting to their homes from the station.

Our Methodist friends are enjoying a season of special services in Coughlan Hall. The meetings have been well attended.

The ice at the rink has been excellent for skating during the past couple of weeks, and the patrons fully enjoyed this health-giving pastime.

St. Patrick's entertainment now being prepared by the local talent, held fair to be up to it not only in former efforts. It is sufficient to say that Mr. W. H. Kennedy has the management in hand, to assure a complete success. Mr. W. Madigan who had been over to the city on business and pleasure, returned by train last night.
