SURES CAUSE PAYMENT lichael Cashin rose on the mothe Committee rise, and for a considerable time on the on of fishery supplies. He reto an editorial article in the which had stated that $31,ad been paid by the Union g Co. to the Government on t of fishery supplies. Sir Michid these returns were made as ult of the exposure of the scanthe House and in the antiment press. This payment was 50 per cent, of the whole, but it evidence of troubled conces. He again stated that the supplies scandal should be investigated. The money ald had been gambled with to a extent. In some cases, it had given to merchants who were rent. If the Government honestshed to save the large amount buted, they should get to work liately. It was evident, said Sir ael, that all the details attendant is scandal had not yet been unled. These would come to light. would the Union Trading Co. he balance owed by it, he asked?

THE TRUCK SCANDAL soon as the Union Trading Comhad been paid for its fish, said chael, it should have made its ns to the Government. He next red to what he termed the k scandal." Four trucks had purchased for use on the South ch coal deposits. They cost the y something over thirty-two and dollars. He had taken the le to procure a catalogue of trucks in which they were list-$1500.00 each. guarantee. He stated that it was to help the many "lame ducks" of Spaniard's Bay. His firm supplied with $4,500 of Government money and an equal amount of their own. Then the fishermen sold their catch to another firm and he could not make returns because he had not been naid. He wanted Sir Michael Cashin to ex-amine supplying accounts, but this Sir Michael did not wish to do.

Mr. Archibald resented Mr. Gosse's reference to the men of Spaniard's Bay. If the Spaniard's Bay men had received anything for their fish, they would have paid Mr. Gosse. They were a good clean type of men and as for selling their fish, they had a perfect right to sell it to whoever they pleased. Mr. Gosse retorted that the Su-In all-White; assorted sized coin spots.

hesitate last year to sell his fish to the Government and leave his constitutents' to rot. After further crossfiring Mr. Gosse became excited and asked Mr. Higgins if he did not think Mr. Archibald was insane? "Is not the centre of the House the proper place for him " he asked." Mr. Higgins .- "Keep it up. You're not been done. It was time to begin to clear up last year's business.

A PROUD RECORD.

Mr. Cheeseman, in a sound, pracpractical speech, declared that Burin district had not received a single cent of Government money for supplies.

He stated that the supplying policy of last year had been an unwise one and had tended towards the demoralization of the people who benefitted by it. He was pleased that the morale of the people of his district had not been affected. They had carried on their business last year without outside help, and would continue to do or go out of business altogether. He was fully in accord with Sir Michael Cashin when he asked for a full investigation into the supply scandal. If the Government supply this year, they would drive every independent man out of business. He contrasted his district with that of Placentia and St. Mary's, which had received the Government guarantee, T. P. Kemp fitted out a banker in Placentia, said Mr. Cheese-man, and he had to go to Burin to get fifteen of the twenty men he needed.

The Government supplying, had left those who took advantage of it, poor-spirited people. He again declared that every man who obtained Govern-
