Chas. Algernon Swinburne's

IMMORTAL POEM "FAUSTINE" FORMS BASIS OF LAVISH PHOTODRAMA.

Charles Algernon Swinburne's immortal poem, "Faustine," forms the basis of one of the most lavish photodramas presented in many seasons, "The Black Panther's Cub," produced by W. K. Ziegfeld and starring Florence Reed, which is shown at the majestic theatre to-day.

As "The Black Panther's Cub," Miss Reed returns to the screen, after a prolonged absence, in one of the most entertaining and spectacular roles she has ever essayed. Scarcely less important is the supporting cast with which Mr. Ziegfeld has surrounded the leading figure in the play. Such names as Norman Trevor, Earle Foxe, Tyrone Power and Henry Stephenson are sufficiently important in the amusement world to individually insure the success of any production, whether on the stage or screen.

Still others of hardly less equal prominence in the cast are William Rosello, Mlle. Dazle and Paula Shay. The production in itself is one of the fastest-moving pieces of photoplay work ever seen on the screen. Emile Chantard, who directed the production, is himself a Frenchman, and the scenes that are laid in the French capital are particularly true to life and atmosphere.

SOME JOB.

"John, your face looks terribly battered up," said the teacher to John, aged seven. "You haven't been fighting on the way to school, have you?" she inquired. "No," said John, "We moved yesterday and I had to carry the cat."

Wedding Bells.

BUCKLE-McCARTHY.

A very pretty wedding took place in the Church of the Sacred Heart, Curling, Bay of Islands, on Wednesday, November 15th, when Miss Julia Buckle, daughter of Mr. J. L. Buckle of Corner Brook, Bay of Islands, was united in matrimony to Mr. Vincent J. McCarthy, son of Mr. William McCarthy, Tailor, of Carbonear. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. Kerwan. There were a large number of friends present. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Florence Buckle. The groom was supported by Mr. Frank Foley, of Whitbourne. The bride wore a heavy velvet costume and fox fur, with hat to match. During the evening a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, when over 100 guests were entertained. This was followed by a dance in the R. C. School at Corner Brook, which was continued until the small hours of the morning. The groom's gift to the bride was a cheque, to the bridesmaid a gold brooch, and a gold piece, and to the best man, a pair of gold cuff links. The presents were numerous and valuable, including a number of gold pieces. The popularity of both the bride and groom was very evident to all who were present.—COM.
