Paying Our Debts.

The general prosperity which was in evidence in every country previous to the war is to-day for the most part conspicuous by its absence. An exception perhaps to the general rule is the United States, and even there labour disputes and vexed discussions on the various economical problems that are troubling the world are not unknown.

Trade is stagnant, manufacturers are in many cases at a standstill, or are carried on with a considerably reduced output, and unemployment is general. The war, which it was hoped would bring a lasting peace and a new era of prosperity, has so far been more effective in clogging the wheels of progress than in accomplishing any material benefit. Five years have elapsed since hostilities ended, but even now the various problems which arose in consequence of the struggle are far from being settled, and until normal conditions return there can be no general improvement.

At the root of the whole trouble is indebtedness. Every country involved in the war strained its resources to the utmost, and in consequence the recovery is slow and protracted. Naturally the Allies expected that their losses would to some extent be met by the payment of an indemnity by the defeated enemy. Germany, however, cannot or will not pay, and there is no relief from the burden of debt from that quarter. In addition, the cessation of trade with Germany and Russia owing to the chaotic conditions in those countries is severely felt by the others. In the attempts to meet their own losses and repay their own debts, the various countries have imposed on their people a heavy burden of taxation, which has severely limited their spending capacity. In consequence, the retail trade has suffered, and many firms which were hitherto prosperous have been compelled to close down.

Whether or not the example set by the countries in piling up great debts has had a bad influence on private individuals, or whether the practice of running up bills has resulted from straitened circumstances it is difficult to say. The effect perhaps may be due to both causes. Certain it is, however, that never before to such an extent have people been taking advantage of the credit system and extending the term of payment over such long terms.

Undoubtedly there is much to be said for the system, but in times of stress such as we are passing through, it is well to stop and consider if we are serving our own purposes best, if we are helping to reestablish our business concerns on a firm footing, and if it is in the general interest of the community to live in this way. A prompt exchange of cash for goods reduced would bring into circulation the money which is the vehicle on which trade moves, and would tend to reduce the cost of living for all of us.

The Installation Ceremony

HON. TASKER COOK IS RAISED TO THE OFFICE OF DISTRICT
GRAND MASTER OF NEWFOUND-LAND & C.

One of the largest Masonic assemblies that have ever met in the Island came together in the Temple last night to witness the impressive ceremony of installing R. Wor. Bro. Hon. Tasker Cook as District Grand Master of Scottish Freemasonry in Newfoundland. In addition to the brethren of the city, representatives from the Lodges of Heart's Content, Bay Roberts, Harbor Grace, Carbonear and Grand Falls were also present in large numbers.

The installing Master was Wor. Bro. Henry E. Cowan, District Grand Secretary, who, when the Commission issued the Grand Lodge of Scotland had been read, addressed the D. G. Master designate, and raised him to his high and important office with all due observance of the ancient rites and ceremonies.

The following were then invested by the District Grand Master:—W. Bro. Henry E. Cowan as District Grand Master Deputy; W. Bro. Robert Duff as Substituted District Grand Master; W. Bro. David M. Baird as District Grand Secretary, and Bro. (Rev.) Ernest C. Karp as District Grand Chaplain.

The installation of R. Wor. Bro. Tasker Cook was the occasion of many expressions of the high regard in which the late D.G.M. R. Wor. Bro. C. H. Duder had been held, and of the loss that had been so severely felt in Masonic circles and in the community by his untimely passing. The high tributes that were paid to the new Grand Master were fully expressive of the regard and esteem in which he is held by the brethren, and of their implicit confidence in his ability and integrity.

Following the installation, the assembly proceeded to the banquet hall, which gave every evidence of the skill of the brethren's lady friends both in the decorative and culinary arts. At the moment the D.G.M. rose to respond to the toast of his health, proposed by W. Bro. W. A. Ellis, a pleasant surprise occurred which brought forth from the vast crowd such a burst of applause as has seldom been heard. Suddenly the lights in the hall went out, and at the touch of a button, the curtains which covered the wall immediately behind the District Grand Master were withdrawn, and a blazing electrical display in Red, Blue and Green flashed out. In bold relief on a background of Masonic emblems stood out the words "Our Grand Master," and the enthusiasm which it evoked not only amply rewarded the ingenuity of the designers, but afforded further proof of the popularity of the Right Wor. Brother. The toast list was as follows:—

"The King and the Craft."
"God Save the King."
"The Queen, the Duke of Rothesay and Members of the Royal Family."
"God Bless the Prince of Wales."

Obituary.

DR. W. T. SCULLY PASSES SUD-DENLY TO THE GREAT BE-YOND.

A shock passed through the city this morning as the news of the sudden demise of Dr. Scully quickly travelled from one to another. His was a figure so well known to all and possessed of such virile energy and vigour, his was a personality which made him so welcome in every household, that the news at first seemed incredible, and when at last it was fully realized that it was, but too true, each and all felt that they had sustained a personal loss. It appears that Dr. Scully accompanied by Mr. J. McNeill left here on Saturday for a shooting trip on the Cape Shore. Not feeling well he set out for Placentia with Mr. McNeill and upon arrival there at 7 o'clock last night Doctor O'Connell was called in. When it was found that he was suffering from pneumonia, and that his condition was serious, his wife was sent for and Rev. W. O'Flaherty summoned. Despite everything that could be done, he passed away at 3.30 this morning. The deceased wife left left town as soon as possible but upon her arrival at Holyrood she was met by Rev. Father Finn who had the sad duty to perform of telling her that the end had come. The deceased was the son of the late Roger Scully of Harbor Grace, and after attending the R. C. Academy in that town he proceeded to Baltimore where he completed his medical course. Upon his return to St. John's he soon built up an extensive practice and in his performance of his crusade for the alleviation of suffering he gained the confidence and affection of all. In 1918 he married Miss Florence Dwyer of Toronto and to her will go out in full measure the sympathy of the community. Dr. Scully was a nephew of the late Miss Carberry, and the late Capt. John Scully who was an enterprising merchant of Harbour Grace was his uncle. He leaves in addition to his widow one sister, Mrs. J. Murphy of this city and a cousin, the Rev. Fr. Scully of King's Cove. The Telegram extends its deepest sympathy to those who have been so suddenly bereaved.

JOSEPH MORRIS, Trinity.
We regret to chronicle the demise of Mr. Joseph Morris of this town, who passed away to the Great Beyond on Monday, 15th inst. In his third year, Mr. Morris was the eldest man in Trinity, and for more than half a century he has been one of our most prominent and exemplary citizens, and his career has been such, that any young man who desires to become a worthy citizen and empire builder, may do well to follow in his footsteps. More than fifty years ago Joseph Morris purchased the historic premises which had previously been owned by Mr. James Verge, and by sheer grit and attention to business, he built up a most successful trade, having supplied largely for the Labrador and Shore fishery, and at one time he owned about twenty fishing schooners. Mr. Morris, at the early age of 14, became a member of the Trinity Benefit Club, having been in "the old club" for 69 years, and was the Treasurer for 40 years. He was also a Past Master of the L.O.A. and of the S.U.F. Societies, as well as an Honorary member of Tasker A.P. and A.M. With all Mr. Morris' Commercial activities and Society life, we most admire him for the prominent and untiring part he took in all Church work, which took precedence over everything else; having given 20 years gratuitous services as Church Warden. Mr. Morris retained his activities in Church and Society until 1916, when, in July of that year, his son Stephen laid down his life in the Great War, and two months later, his oldest son Orlando was lost at sea with all hands while going from here to St. John's. This irreparable loss, with declining years, bore heavily on Mr. Morris, and his Commercial business has since been carried on with success by his son Mr. F. J. Morris. Interment took place in the Church of England Cemetery at 3 p.m. on Wednesday, the 17th, and was attended by the members of the L.O.A., S.U.F. and a Guard of Honor from the A.F. and A.M., and a large concourse of citizens. The burial service was taken by Rev. E. P. Hiscock and Rev. Canon Lockyer, and the committal at the grave was taken by Rev. Andrew Tulk, Rector of Portugal Cove, and son-in-law of the deceased. To the sorrowing widow, whose truly Christian fortitude has sustained her since the loss of her two sons; to Mrs. (Rev.) Andrew Tulk, of Portugal Cove, and Mr. F. J. Morris, children of the deceased, we extend our sincere sympathy in their bereavement.—COM.

Extract From the "Sphere"—Sept. 8th, 1923

A motorist recently prosecuted a Hampshire herdman for road obstruction, the prosecution being supported by the Automobile Association. It was alleged that the defendant, whilst in charge of a herd of cows, allowed them to obstruct the road, and when asked if he would move the cows, replied that he would not, and declined to give any help at all.

The defence raised was that the best way for a car to pass cattle was to go straight on and not seek the intervention of the driver in charge. It was established, however, that the defendant had wilfully obstructed the highway, and had delayed the motorist for a quarter of a mile, and for a length of time, of about fifteen minutes. The bench convicted and defendant was fined.

LLOYD GEORGE'S TRIBUTE TO ABRAHAM LINCOLN.
SPRINGFIELD ILLS, Oct. 19.

David Lloyd George came here yesterday and paid homage to the memory of Abraham Lincoln with bared head, heedless of the cold driving rain. The war time Premier of Great Britain approached the monument and entered the tomb of the martyred President where he placed on the sarcophagus a wreath with his card bearing the words "A humble and fervent homage to the memory of one of the world's greatest men."

DREADFUL CONDITIONS IN TENEMENTS IN NEW YORK RE-VEALED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.

Stories of whole families suffering from malnutrition because they could not pay the rent and buy food, also of mothers starving that their babies might eat, of tenement districts where average infant was six pounds underweight, of "safely laid" fire escapes and gaudy landlords all because of the shortage of homes and exorbitant rents, were related before the housing commission yesterday. Judges, welfare workers, wage earners, and mothers with babes in arms appealed to the commission to recommend the repeal of the emergency rent laws so that when they expire next February, thousands of families may not be thrown upon the mercy of the landlords.

"DUMPED GOODS"
Especially Boots and Shoes, Are Dear at Any Price.

A WHOLE LOT of people appear to be puzzled by the use of the term DUMPING, which is a practice against which the Shoe and Leather Manufacturers of Newfoundland are protesting.

Applied to the Boot and Shoe Trade, the word Dumping covers the importation of goods that have become damaged in manufacture, that are out of style, that are culls discarded by large jobbing houses, that are culls from large retail houses, that are especially made from factory cleanings or waste.

In the fish trade such products would be termed "Cullage." Lumbermen would refer to it as "Refuse."

But the practice of Dumping doesn't merely concern goods of faulty manufacture or goods that have become back numbers as far as style is concerned.

Some manufacturers make a practice of putting up trashy stuff that the home market absolutely refuses to touch, quote it at ridiculously small prices and have it dumped into other markets where the purchasers are supposed to be content to buy and to wear any old thing handed to them over the counters. In proof of our assertion we quote a couple of paragraphs from a circular recently received by the Newfoundland Trade from an American manufacturer.

"IN ADDITION to our regular products," says this circular, "which we make and sell to the wholesale trade on regular terms, less regular trade discount, we make each month several lots of so-called FACTORY FILLERS. THESE FACTORY FILLERS are made to level and keep up even production in our factory."

"These FACTORY FILLERS we keep separate and apart from our regular product. These are figured different from our regular product, with less overhead figured into the cost, and in this way figured and listed so that we move these lots quickly."

The significance of the practice described in the quoted circular is obvious. Cheap goods are produced to sell cheaply and frequently because they won't last long. They are manufactured to fill in the spare time of foreign workmen and to keep foreign machinery running all the time. They are turned out to utilize waste material, which is discarded as utterly unfit for use in good, dependable, first class boots and shoes.

Do Newfoundlanders want this "Cullage"?

Are Newfoundlanders prepared to buy and to wear these "Refuse" Boots and Shoes to oblige foreign manufacturers and workmen and to make it easy for short-sighted local retailers to make quick turnovers and big and rapid profits?

Are Newfoundlanders content to discriminate against first-class and dependable local products; against local workmen and against local manufacturers and in favor of cut foreign manufacturers and their employees just to oblige folk who have no stake in the country and others who do operate locally but who play the foreigners' game to suit their own pockets?

Remember DUMPED GOODS are dear at any price. Purchase of these goods means purchase of articles that will not give value in use, no matter how small the price paid for them.

Purchase of DUMPED GOODS of the sort described tends to kill local manufacturers.

Purchase of such goods tends to put local workmen out of employment.

That is too big a price to pay for such trashy stuff.

DUMPED GOODS ARE DEAR AT ANY PRICE.
