

An Open Prison.
On Saturday, the 20th, a white flag was fluttering in the breeze from the shaft of the south wing of Oxford jail. The gates were thrown open at two o'clock that afternoon, and remained so until six p. m. During that time and the two following days hundreds of respectable persons visited the interior of the building. All spoke in the highest terms of the cleanliness and general arrangements under the judicious direction of the governor, Mr. W. H. Smith, and the matron, his wife. The prison was erected in 1789, after a model of the great philanthropist, John Howard, and in substitution of the old one, called "Bocardo," which was taken down in 1771. There the debtors used to lower a hat by a cord from the window to receive the alms of the passers by, uttering the cry of "Pray remember the Bocardo birds." Here Archbishop Cranmer and Bishops Ridley and Latimer were confined previous to their martyrdom. From the roof of the prison Cranmer witnessed the death of the martyred bishops, on October 15, 1554, suffering himself in the ensuing March. Near this spot the barbarous re-execution of Elizabeth, the servant of Miss Clive, took place at midnight, in 1658. The prisoner was first hung at Green Ditch, for the murder of her illegitimate child, and her body was afterwards to be dissected. Symptoms of life, however, being discovered, she was taken to the Bell, Magdalen parish, and resuscitated, but the authorities, hearing of the occurrence, forcibly took possession of the body, and re-hung her in Broken Hayes. Since May the daily number of prisoners has averaged a trifle over four, and during the past years it has been 20. The remarkable fact of the prison being quite empty is not in the recollection of any person living, and the archives have been carefully traced up to 1826 without discovering any notice of a similar occurrence.

Australian Woods.
Many of the Australian woods exhibit a peculiar beauty of structure, which adapts them for small furniture and turnery uses. Some are highly fragrant, and return their agreeable odour for a considerable period of time; this renders them additionally pleasant and acceptable in the form of ornamental articles for the boudoir and drawing room. The scented myrtle (Acacia homalophylla) is a very hard and heavy wood, having an intense and delightful smell of violets. It has a dark and beautiful "hardening" which makes it applicable to many purposes of the cabinet maker and the wood turner, and for an infinite variety of minor uses. It rarely exceeds a foot in diameter, but has been used as veneers. This tree is a common one in many parts of Australia; since the London Exhibition of 1862, when easels and other articles were shown from Queensland and the remarkable quality it possessed became generally known to European manufacturers, the wood has been in request for making glove, handkerchief and other fancy boxes, as this peculiar fragrance of violets does not occur with such perfection in any other known substance.—Art Journal.

THE REASON WHY
Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calissaya is called a Chemical Food and Nutritive Tonic, because Phosphates constitutes more than half the material of the human body, and are absolutely essential to the growth of Bone, Muscle and Nerve, which cannot attain full development without them. They promote a good appetite, perfect digestion, create pure, healthy, vitalizing blood, and supply the waste constantly going on in the system as the result of mental and physical exertion. Being combined with Calissaya, the Peruvian Bark, the only specific for Chills and Fever, a chafed condition of Nervous Prostration and General Debility arising from low vitality and exhaustive diseases, it forms an elegant and agreeable, invigorating Tonic, purely physiological in its action, that may be taken safely under all circumstances, and in diseased conditions of the body, as it builds up the constitution in the same manner as our daily food.
Sold by all Druggists at $1.

POSITIVELY A FACT.
Mustard's Catarrh Specific
Cures Catarrh, Cold in the Head, Neuralgia, Toothache, Nervous and Sick Headache, Weak and Sore Eyes. The Specific is a new remedy, prepared from Medicinal Berries, Roots, Gums and Flowers. Free from poisonous Drugs, it is harmless, novel, and philosophic in its operation. Try it if you are afflicted with the above diseases. It is also one of the best Cough and Croup Remedies extant.
Mustard's Vegetable Pills should also be used in connection with the Specific for Sick Headache and Catarrh; and those who are afflicted with Rheumatism should try Mustard's King of Oils.
