IS LAZINESS A DISEASE?

To Be "Born Tired" Is Not at All Impossible.

There is at least consolation, if not hope, for the sinful wight whose friends are accustomed to fling the reproach at him that he was "born tired." For that is precisely what is the matter with the majority of seemingly able-bodied individuals who are accused by the world of being lazy. The physiologist has sought for the sources of the disease and he has found that congenital laziness—that which is obviously not wilful—has an organic and a mental origin. A complete examination of a series of so-called idlers has discovered that there was a lack of tonicity in the whole system, that the heart-beats were weak, that the arterial pressure was low and that the circulation was generally of the slackest. A consequence of this is that the brain showed not so much an indisposition as a real incapacity for concentrating attention and soon, owing to the fact that its nourishment was at the vanishing point, became exhausted. Even persons of great mental and physical energy are given to indulgence in spells of idleness which they themselves are unable to explain, since their inclination does not tend toward waste of time. At such periods they will find that the circulation of the blood has dropped from its normal activity, or else, certain areas of the brain and body are not being supplied with the normal quantity of blood.

The common man cannot, at will, regenerate the energies he has just expended. His organism cannot (of his own will) transform the quantity of energy received into an equal quantity of freed energy, for, in the normal man, efficient or workable energies circulate in the body, are gradually placed in reserve in the tissues and constitute the greatest part of his organic or working energies. But the love of work and activity is an acquired tendency rather than a natural one, for the human tendency is toward the line of least resistance.

Catching Suckers.

An old French curiosity dealer has found a new snare for the gullest amateur. He put in his window five dolls dressed in vaguely medieval clothes. Collector No. 1 came in and asked to buy one of them. The dealer could not divide the lot, as they were a valuable set, representing the Five Senses. After long persuasion the amateur at last carried one off at a very long price.

Collector No. 2 followed. Could he have one of the dolls? "Out of the question, sir—a most valuable set, representing the Four Seasons." After more long persuasion, and at a still longer price, one of the dolls was sold.

When amateur No. 3 called, the three dolls were the Three Graces, a most valuable set, which could not be divided. By offering an enormous sum he carried off one of them.

Amateur No. 4 called and wanted to buy one of the two dolls. What was monsieur actually proposing? The two dolls were Adam and Eve, sculptured and dressed by some forgotten medieval artist. The pair could not possibly be parted. The collector eventually carried off Adam for a gigantic sum. Amateur No. 5 called and asked "How much for that curio? Evidently an odd one of a set."

"An odd one of a set!" screamed the dealer. "It is a unique piece. Does not monsieur perceive that it represents Agnes Sorel, the favorite of Charles VII?" and the amateur secured the unique piece for a fabulous amount.

Catarrhal Deafness

Successfully Treated By

Catarrhozone

Deafness is not so common as blindness, yet thousands are more or less afflicted by it, and their comfort seriously interfered with.

Catarrhal deafness manifests itself but slowly, yet it must be acknowledged that the great majority of those who become totally deaf might have averted this unfortunate condition if they had treated the catarrhal inflammation at its beginning.

The only remedy that can be safely employed for all forms of catarrhal deafness is Catarrhozone. You simply charge the air you breathe with this healing, soothing agent, and by forcing it gently through the ears destroy the germ life which keeps up the inflammation, and at the same time by the soothing, healing action it heals the inflamed surfaces of the middle ear. CATARRHOZONE, to those who are just a little deaf, and are growing increasingly deaf, is an agent capable of affording the utmost satisfaction, and its use is attended without danger, and as the treatment can be carried on at home no person threatened with the affliction of deafness should postpone one moment in beginning its use.

From every part of the Dominion glowing accounts of the beneficial action it exerts upon catarrhal conditions of the middle ear have been sent in, and you will be resorting to the only method of cure, and the simplest method too, if you try Catarrhozone. Everywhere sell it, 25c, 50c, and $1.00. By mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

Happy Mr. Tatcher.

Nothing that her husband was unusually talkative at tea, Mrs. Tatcher asked him the reason for.

"Well," said Tatcher, "I am happier to-day than usual, and the reason is I did three good things on my way to business to-day. I was walking down the main street when I saw a young woman with a baby sitting on a church step weeping. Being touched by her appearance I asked her what was the cause of her distress.

"Oh, sir," she said, "I have walked six miles to have my baby baptized, only to find I have lost my purse."

"I told her that was a small matter, and, handing her a sovereign, told her to get the child baptized and bring me the change afterwards, which she did. So you see, Mary, I did three good deeds. I performed an act of charity, started a little child on its way in life, and got fifteen good shillings for a bad sovereign."

Clever Way of Catching Monkeys.

In tropical countries the natives have many unique ways of catching monkeys. One of them, as explained by a traveler, is this: The hunters walk about in short boots in sight of the monkeys. Then they take the boots off, place some gum in the bottoms and leave them on the ground, withdrawing themselves to a great distance. Presently the monkeys come down from the trees and try on the boots and when the hunters come after them the boots stick to the feet of the monkeys and they are unable to climb. Thus the imitative little animals are captured.

Engagement Rings.

The custom of giving engagement rings ranks back to long before the Christian era. With the ancient Egyptians engagement rings were always of iron, to indicate the mutual sacrifice of liberty of the contracting parties. One of the very earliest adornments of betrothal rings was a loadstone, which symbolized the attractive force which drew a maiden from her own family circle into that of her husband. It is believed that the fourth finger has always been the bride's ring finger.

Remarkable.

"Chiggsworth admits that he gets seasick every time he happens to be on a boat in rough weather."

"Remarkable!"

"What is remarkable about it?"

"That he admits it."

She Is Sure Some Bride.

Charlotte, Ky., Chronicle: The groom is a successful physician of Henrietta, a young gentleman of splendid worth and brilliant promise, for he is endowed by birth and training with all these noble impulses in winsome traits that adorn true manhood. The bride is a lady of wondrous fascination and remarkable attractiveness, for with manners as enchanting as the wand of a siren, and a disposition as sweet as the odors of flowers and spirits as joyous as the carolings of birds, and mind as brilliant as those glittering tresses that adorn the brow of winter, and with heart as pure as dew drops, trembling in a coronet of violets, she will make the home of her husband a paradise of enchantment, like the lovely home of her girlhood, where the heaven-toned harp of marriage, with its chords of love and devotion, and fond endearments, sent forth the sweetest strains of felicity that ever thrilled the senses with the rhythmic pulsings of ecstatic rapture.

Appearances are deceiving. An officer of the San Francisco Society for the protection of children, rescued a "child" actress from a local theater. When a birth certificate, showing that she was 32, was presented, proceedings were discontinued.

Holloway's Corn Cure destroys all kinds of corns and warts, root and branch. Who, then, would endure them with such a cheap and effectual remedy within reach?

A London man feels so strange out of prison that he deliberately broke a street lamp the other day to get back in. His plan succeeded, for the magistrate gave him two months' "hard."

Father, asked Johnny, "what is the difference between farming and agriculture?" "Well, my son, for farming you need a plow and a harrow and other implements, and for agriculture all you need is a pencil and a piece of paper."

A curfew law for husbands is advocated by Robert B. Glenn, formerly governor of North Carolina. "The man who stays away from his family at night is the most contemptible creature on earth," he said. "I wish we had a law that would make every husband stay at home from 8 o'clock in the evening until 6 o'clock the next morning."

Some men are so used to making money all week that it's really a kindness to let them take up collection in church on Sunday.

A Boston man wants a divorce because he didn't discover until after they were married that his wife had false teeth. He could not have been a very ardent suitor, as only real teeth can survive the average period of engagement.

Housework Drudgery

Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. She brushes, dusts and scrubs, or is on her feet all day attending to the many details of the household, her back aching, her temples throbbing, nerves quivering under the stress of pain, possibly dizzy feelings. Sometimes rest in bed is not refreshing, because the poor tired nerves do not permit of refreshing sleep. The real need of weak, nervous women is satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It Makes Weak Women Strong and Sick Women Well.

This "Prescription" removes the cause of women's weaknesses, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures those weaknesses so peculiar to women. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces restful sleep.

Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know what his "Favorite Prescription" contains, a complete list of ingredients on the bottle-wrapper. Do not let any unscrupulous druggist persuade you that his substitute of unknown composition is "just as good" in order that he may make a bigger profit. Just smile and shake your head! Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cures liver ills.

It is up to You

To protect your family from the ravages of disease and infection; and the rigors of winter; to make your home the abode of Health and Happiness.

Statistics tell us that there were over 250,000 deaths in North America last year from Fever and Pneumonia; over 90 per cent. of these cases were traceable to out-door closets, and all were the result of insanitary conditions.

Are you going to allow this terrible death rate to continue.
