

CANADIAN INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT AGENCY

The Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA) provides official Canadian international development assistance in some 100 countries. CIDA's Industrial Cooperation Program helps Canadian firms seeking opportunities for investment, joint ventures and transfers of proven technology in Asia, Latin America, the Caribbean, Africa, and the Middle East.

CIDA's Industrial Cooperation Program (INC) offers financial incentives to Canadian firms to develop long-term arrangements for business cooperation and to carry out project definition studies in developing countries. Support is also available for building contacts and identifying opportunities through visiting missions and seminars. To be eligible for CIDA-INC funding assistance, proposals must clearly demonstrate mutual social, economic and industrial benefits to both the host country and Canada. The host country benefits from new technology, job opportunities, business expansion and savings in foreign exchange, and Canada benefits by supplying equipment, components, services, etc.

General information on supplying goods and services for CIDA projects is available from:
