

The Revd. E. G. W. Ross reports donations for local purposes at Rivière du Loup en bas, from friends in different quarters, to the amount of £10 16s. 10d., and gratefully acknowledges the kind assistance received in this way.

The Revd. H. Roe writes that at the vestry meetings held at the three Churches in his mission at Easter last, it was unanimously resolved, in every instance, to appropriate the offertory collections upon occasion of the administration of the Lord's Supper, "towards the fund for the support of Travelling Missionaries in the back and destitute parts of this country." The sum of £2. 17s. 5d. has been raised in this way, (which is not included in the amount given above.) The amount of annual subscriptions sent in by Mr. Roe is smaller than that of last year, which is accounted for by the recent division of his extensive mission, and the consequent increase in the amounts contributed upon the spot towards the support of the Missionaries. For this and other local objects £75 have been raised in Ireland, and that portion of Inverness, which remains within the mission of Mr. Roe, besides a "considerable sum," (of which the amount is not given) subscribed towards the purchase of a bell for the Church at the former place, independently of the amount raised in the new mission of Lower Inverness and Nelson. It is worthy of mention that the people of Ireland and upper Inverness have exceeded by more than £15, the stipulated sum of £25 which they are held bound to contribute towards the Clergyman's salary. The excess is to be applied towards a fund for building a new parsonage.
