Choose the Clothes That're Built to Suit Your Needs

You should no more tolerate a suit that some manufacturer of yesterday arbitrarily made to meet every need, than you would consent to wear the same style clothes your forefathers wore. In the first place, it is not necessary—and secondly, the average ready-to-wear clothes are lacking the style features that we are everlastingly seeking to embody in our models.

J.C. Ward Buys Pacers In Wolverine State

An Own Brother to Earl Jr., 201 1-2. One of Three That Were Bought. —Maida Last Yesterday.

The local horseman, John C. Ward, returned home yesterday after a trip of several days' over in Michigan, where he had been in search of racing material for this year's campaign, and, while away, he succeeded in buying three very classy pacers, two by The Earl, 2:14, and one by Pacer, 2:16. The horses are, Jack Johnson, 2:24, trotting, but not a pacer. This is a 5-year-old black stallion, an own brother to the crack pacer Earl Jr., 2:01 1/2, and said to be one of the most promising no-record pacers in the Wolverine state. Ellen W., a 4-year-old black filly, is the other one by The Earl. The Parole pacer is Enow, 2:16 1/2, also a black in color and one that is supported by the best of credentials.

The trio all go free-legged and will be prepared at Dufferin Park for some little time for racing on the mile tracks by Arthur Bedford, who is also training the pacer, Ritchie, 2:09 1/2, and Greatest Heart, 2:12 1/2, and Oro B., a no-record trotter by Oro Wilkes, 2:11.

The pacer mare Maida, 2:17 1/2, by Royal Rydell, recently in the Ward stable, was sold yesterday at the Repository Blue Ribbon Sale to Ben Whytock of Bradford, who will race her on the half-mile tracks.

SWING ROUND THE BASEBALL CIRCUITS

Archer Has Signed Up—Rochester Fans Here—Canadian League Doings.

Ottawa will train at Chatham.

The roster of the Ottawa, Canadian League, Club is as follows: Pitchers—Reifer, Lill, Oestermeier, Leavitt, Carpenter, and McCarthy; Catchers—Rove, McGuire, Fish, one other.

Infielders—Robertson, Williams, Arnfield, London, Dolan, four others.

Outfielders—Shaughnessy, Callahan, two others.

The father of Manager Jack Dunn, of the Orioles, died in Baltimore on Sunday.

By the manner in which the recruits from the Canadian League are making good with the clubs higher up in the baseball world, now training in the south, it must be said that this league is the place to come when promising young ball players are sought.

It would be no speculation to say that all of the four Canadian Leagues now in the south with the Toronto Baseball Club, of the International League, will make good, and if not retained by them that they will be sent to class B clubs for further seasoning, with the Toronto strings attached, to be called upon later.

Few players drafted or bought from this league have turned out bad, and this season makes promise to be secured more than ever before. This league has undoubtedly drawn the attention of many big league clubs, since the players are making good repeatedly.—London Free Press.

Cozy Dolan, last year with Rochester, will be the utility infielder of the Philadelphia Nationals. Dr. Roy Miller will be the utility outfielder.

"I'm satisfied," was Manager Charley Dooin's comment after the Phillies had finished their spring conditioning at Southern Pines, N.C., by defeating Baltimore, 12 to 4.

"We have had fairly good weather here and were only idle a few days," continued Dooin. "Our pitchers appear to be in prime condition, and I expect that all the boys will be as fit as the verbal fiddlers."

Hanford, Griggs and Mattern are the Montreal hold-outs.

Blue Ribbon Sale At the Repository

The 57th annual sale at The Repository yesterday was well attended and of the hundreds of more harness and saddle horses offered, nearly all were sold at fairly good prices.

Burns did the bulk of the selling. C. A. Watson, Isaac Watson and J. A. Livingston.

A noticeable feature in connection with the sale was the active demand for drivers that showed some quality. Lively bidders were in evidence for this class of horses and many more might have been sold had the supply been greater.

The number of fast speed horses was limited and Ben Whytock of Bradford got the bargain of this line in the bay pacing mare, Maida, 2:17 1/2, by Royal Rydell. This mare has demonstrated her ability to pace a half mile track right at 2:12 and there was a murmur that for $2500 a horseman familiar with the mare's race record would have been glad to take her.

Undoubtedly but for the stormy weather more horses would have been offered outside points would have been attended, but the management of the Repository are well satisfied with the entry this and also interest in the harness horse is still very much alive.

Some of the transactions were: C. J. Walker, Brandon chestnut hackney mare, Lively Dunham, 3:25; W. J. Hooper, Toronto, a good-looking racing gelding, 5 years old, $250; Jago, Huntville, ch.g., 1:57 1/2; Little pair of roadsters, $300; B. Whytock, Bradford, bay pacer, Maida, 2:17 1/2; D. C. Kuntz, a very handsome chestnut driver, $270; F. Sauve, Warren, Ont., J. Shantz, Waterloo, br.m., $180; J. Buell, Omenec, bk.m., $170; W. H. Roberts, Enterpriser, Queen Dillard, br.m., $250; Daniel Bros., Galt, a very good pair of matched drivers, $400; T. A. Crow, br.g., $250; New Method Laundry, b.g., David Garrick, $210; J. T. McElroy, g.m., $172.50; W. R. Payne, b.g., $150; C. Lindsay, Lindsay, b.g., $147.50; John Meade, b.m., Queen's Sphinx, $150; Farmers Dairy Co., b.m., $125.50; F. Edmonds, b.m., $110; W. Harvey, Wexford, b.g., $192.50; V. Rowntree, Weston, brown pony, $137.50; R. Jago, Huntville, ch.g., $137.50; R. Livingston, br.m., Ruby Brino, $147.50; Shepard, b.g., $140; G. Things That Crawl!

Q Have you ever bought a suit of clothes that looked fine, when it was sent home, but after you had worn it for a few days, you found the collar "crawling" away from your neck, and you had to "hitch" and "pull" until you got it back again.

Q Then every time you put on that coat you just "hitched" and pulled again until it got to be a habit with you.

Q When a man hitches his coat he admits without confessing it, that he is a victim of poor tailoring. When your coat is made in the great Hoberlin tailor shops it is cut to fit. There's no hitching.

Q The collar clings to the neck—it hugs the shirt collar and it stays there. Hoberlin tailoring is hitchless, is puckerless, and there's never a wrinkle. Every garment is built for the one man in the whole world it is intended for—and it must be right or the money is returned.

EASTERN WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNEY

NEWTON, Mass., March 27.—Officials of the Brae Burn Country Club accepted today the eastern women's golf championship for the week of June 3. This event carries with it the intercity competition for the Griscom Cup between New York, Philadelphia and Boston. The Brae Burn course has been lengthened considerably since the national women's golf championship was held there in 1906. The women's championship will take place during the first three days of the week, and two rounds for the Griscom Cup will follow during the next two days.

Last week the suffragettes only burned one clubhouse in England.

This Year's Golf Prospects at Canadian Clubs and Courses

Short Sketches of Changes and Shiftings of Links From Coast to Coast—Where Professionals Will Locate.

(By "Lew" Brown.)

This year will likely be a record-breaking one in the world of sport, and of increase of popularity than the game of golf. The ancient and honorable pastime is gradually forcing its way upward and is gradually forcing its way upward and is gradually forcing its way upward.

And particularly so here in Toronto where there are about 4500 enthusiasts of the club and driver. Not many years ago one could have counted the courses and the players were numbered by about the same number of dozens. Today in Toronto to procure a better and newer one to satisfy the demands of the vigorous growth of the club.

The Toronto Golf Club, being the oldest, naturally is the leader to a certain extent, but the margin is very slight, as all the clubs have membership waiting lists and the calibre of players produced. The Toronto Golf Club, being the oldest, naturally is the leader to a certain extent, but the margin is very slight, as all the clubs have membership waiting lists and the calibre of players produced.

At Hamilton the members are still playing on the same old course on Abernethy road, near Scarborough. Village, but a change will most likely be made within the next few years. Nichol Thompson will be in charge of the coaches shop again this year.

In New Brunswick and the Maritime Provinces there are twelve clubs, mostly all very small, and as yet their membership has not increased very much. St. John's is the largest of these, they having a nine-hole course, and the maritime championship is played there nearly every year. Interest in the club is increasing rapidly, and enough land has been bought to make it an eighteen-hole course, also an up-to-date clubhouse is promised for 1915. Fred Rickwood will be in charge of the coaches shop again this year.

Brantford has a very pretty course and the ladies are very enthusiastic over it. F. Locke is under the supervision of a competent man for the last few years, and is gradually rounding into shape. A pro, has not been settled on yet. Oshawa, Peterboro and St. Catharines all have their own links and they are all a credit to their respective towns.

In the west the game is securing a strong hold, and new clubs are springing up all over the country. At Lethbridge, Alta., the County Club is having a new course laid out just east of the provincial fair by Tom Benbow of Chicago. W. F. Barrett will most likely return there as the professional. The Golf and Country Club of Calgary, Alta., are considering a scheme by which to enlarge their present property. The idea will cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $20,000. A new clubhouse is also in projection, and the membership will be increased from 250 to 500.

The Vancouver Golf and Country Club are still playing on their old links at Oak Bay, and they have already opened their season.

Playing over the Verulam Club's excellent course at St. Albans on Saturday, Tom Ball and C. Wallis, professionals at
