Students Are Back for Coming Term - All Ready for Work.

REGISTRATION NORMAL

Several Members of Faculty Absent and New Appointments Are Necessary.

Toronto Varsity opens her doors today for the return of the 3500 students who are coming back to continue heir studies. While lectures do not legin until Wednesday, this is the official opening day, as all the students ere on hand to enrol with the different professors. The annual convocation held in Convocation Hall to norrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, when he students of all faculties will aslemble to hear the president's ad-lress. The registration this year will be slightly smaller than that of last year, but according to the officials n the registrar's office the difference will not be great. The greatest decrease will be due to students who have left with the Canadian contingent for the front. There are indeed number who have decided to stay out for a year, but when the total of students are considered the number of these men is comparatively

For some time preparations have een going on for the return of the tudents, until now the signs have been taken from the campus, which ead, "These grounds are under re-pair; please keep off." The green ward in the stadium has also been carefully looked after, and it, too, is now ready for the beginning of the term. Already the rugby squad, under the captaincy of Charlie Gage, has been working out daily in preparation for the intercollegiate series.

Knox College Ready Soon.
Inside the buildings there has also been plenty of activity. The new Knox College will be ready for occupancy within a couple of months, and the re sidence in connection with it will be opened at the same time, affording more and better accommodation for the Presbyterian students. The veterinary students are also assured that their new home on University avenue will be ready for them in a very short time, being a considerable improve-ment over the old quarters situated on Temperance street. The new Hart House is not near completion, and the gymnasium will also not be ready for use for at least another year. The ashas been given that the delay in the construction of these buildings is only temporary, and will be gone ahead with as soon as possible.

More Residences.

The residence problem which is being solved to a greater extent each year is in a more satisfactory condi-tion than ever before in the history university. Realizing the peculiar advantages afforded by residence life, this accommodation has been gradually increased until practievery student who wishes in a college is able to do so. With the erection of the residence in connection with Knox College year, following the opening of Bur-Hall last year it will be possible to lodge a much larger num-ber of students than ever before.

It is the faculty which has been affected by the war even more than the students, who claim to be short of cash. In the department of modern languages especially there will be a dearth of professors this year on account of the fact that Prof. de Champ and Messrs. Bauldaud and Bibet are all in France in the firing line of the French army. The stoff in economics is also affected, and the German professor who was to have come to Toronto this year is not expected to come until after the close of the war.

Appointments Likely. A number of appointments are necessitated by the shortage, and the statement was made by President Fal-coner that the work in all departments would be gone ahead with without in-terruption. The fact that the German text books had arrived some time ago and that the supply of chemicals can be obtained from American firms this year has relieved the anxiety which was felt in that direction. Resigns H's Chair.

Owing to the demands of his practice Professor McGregor Young has resigned the chair of constitutional law For the present session, however, he has undertaken to deliver a course of lectures on international law.
