

CONTENTS

xiii

83	The French take possession of the Northwest	107
85	Father Allouez depicts the greatness of Louis XIV.	108
86	Early life of La Salle	109
86	La Salle comes to Canada	110
87	La Salle hears of the Ohio and resolves to explore it	111
88	His expedition combined with a mission exploration of
89	the Sulpicians	111
89	The way blocked by the Senecas	112
90	Meeting with Joliet	113
91	La Salle parts from the Sulpicians	114
92	La Salle explores the Ohio	115
92	Frontenac succeeds Courcelles	115
93	Character of Frontenac	116
93	Joliet chosen to explore the Mississippi	117
94	Marquette	117
94	Joliet and Marquette reach the Mississippi	118
96	They pass the mouth of the Missouri	119
96	The return	120
	La Salle's great designs	120
	The Mississippi valley to be occupied	121
	Difficulty of carrying out so vast a plan	122
	La Salle's privileges arouse opposition	123
	Fort Frontenac granted to La Salle	124
	La Salle builds the Griffin	124
	Henri de Tonty	125
	Louis Hennepin	125
	The voyage of the Griffin	126
	La Salle's terrible winter journey	127
	French disasters	128
	La Salle goes to rescue Tonty	129
	Destruction of the Illinois village by the Iroquois	130
	La Salle's winter voyage down the Mississippi	130
	La Salle returns to France	131
	Failure of the Mississippi expedition	131
	La Salle's death	132