

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS

FATHER BRADY DEAN OF HAMILTON DIOCESE

Will Also Be Examiner at Theological Conferences—48th Defeated.

HAMILTON, Feb. 19.—(Special.)—In St. Lawrence's Church this morning, Bishop Dowling announced that he had appointed Rev. E. M. Brady to take charge of St. Basil's Church in Brantford, and that he had created him dean of the Diocese of Hamilton, and a diocesan councillor, by virtue of which offices he will also be an examiner at theological conferences. Rev. J. F. Hinchey, St. Mary's Cathedral will succeed Very Rev. Dean Brady as administrator of St. Lawrence's church.

The announcement of the changes came as a surprise to the congregation, but Dean Brady, in accepting his transfer, said he always desired to work in harmony with the bishop, and he thanked him for the honors he had conferred on him. The bishop said that in making the change he consulted with but one person, and that was Archbishop McVay of Toronto, who helped to build St. Lawrence's Church. Dean Brady has been pastor of that church almost since its inception about 21 years ago, and in that time he has built a presbytery and cleared the church property of all encumbrances, and has always manifested a deep interest in the affairs of the north end of the city. He was also a member of the Hamilton Astronomical Society. He will represent Bishop Dowling at the installation of the Archbishop of Ottawa on Wednesday.

It is believed that he may have committed suicide. He has been missing from his boarding house for several days, and the cause of his strange disappearance is not known. The police are grappling for a body this afternoon, but failed to find it. They will resume operations in the morning.

It is understood that the doors were locked, and a charge will be preferred against the proprietor, William Condon, for failing to live up to the requirements in that respect. TORONTO REAL ESTATE MAN OPENS LONDON OFFICES

English Confidence in Canadian Investments Continues Unabated.

Glowing with enthusiasm for the future of Toronto and Ontario real estate, and happy in his success at having convinced many British capitalists of the stability of Canadian investments, F. B. Robins, president of Robins, Limited, returned from a four weeks' trip to England, yesterday morning.

The trip of Mr. Robins was primarily for the purpose of closing certain large deals in Toronto business blocks and some extensive tracts of land adjacent to the city, which the purchasers will hold for future developments. He also was on hand for the opening of the new offices of the firm. There is one office on the Strand for the dissemination of information regarding Ontario real estate investments, and another, a financial office on Lombard street, through which the company's financial business will be transacted.

In addition to the information office in London, the company have James Fraser traveling through the country, lecturing on the possibilities that Ontario offers the prospective settler. He is emphasizing opportunities for the small farmer and the market gardener and also outlining the chances which the province offers to those with money to invest.

"The proposed reciprocity treaty" has caused a little unrest," said Mr. Robins, in reply to a question as to how it was viewed in the mother country. "They do not quite understand it over there. It has not perturbed them to a sufficient extent to impair general Canadian investments, however."

"The English financiers take it more seriously than the Scotch," continued Mr. Robins. "By this, I mean the London and Edinburgh financial interests. The latter are much better posted on Canadian affairs than the former. This is due to a large extent to the cannyness of the Scot. He takes nothing for granted, but makes his own inquiries. He keeps and far-seeing in investment matters."

Things Have Changed. "Hitherto bonds and stocks have been the investments to attract both the English and Scotch capitalists. Things have changed. Now they are inclined to go into land speculation. Our firm has disposed of large blocks of Ontario lands to both English and Scotch capitalists who have never before put money into such an enterprise. Financial men both in London and Edinburgh have great faith in the Canadian real estate investments being offered to-day."

Mr. Robins has faith in the future of Ontario. He is convinced that it is to be the densely populated province of the Dominion. He predicts that it will be the province of intensive farming and the place where the Britisher will be a familiar sight, surrounded with a little more rigorous climate than at home.

"I would not think of belittling the west," continued Mr. Robins. "It is a great country, but I do not think it is the place to send a man who comes from the old land with little means. The surroundings are so different from what he has been used to that he is utterly bewildered and shortly becomes discouraged if he has not the funds to carry him along for a time. The result is that the large tract of free land in a sparsely settled country is sold for what it brings to the first land speculator that comes along, and he returns to England to denounce Canada."

"In Ontario it is different. The man who finds it impossible to make his way for himself is in a place where he can work for others and in time become independent. Free land is a detriment to the country for this reason."

It is almost impossible to get bulk Coffee without Chicory. You cannot detect the difference in ordinary Coffee but if you once try you will know one of the reasons why it is so different. Dalton's French Drip Coffee contains no Chicory—no chaff or harsh outer shell. It is pure Coffee of the highest grade and because it is all Coffee and nothing but Coffee, two pounds goes further than three pounds of any other kind.

Big Plans for Ontario.

"We have big plans for market gardens and small fruit farms in Ontario," said Mr. Robins. "We are going to settle them with the best class of emigrants from the old land. We purpose improving them and making them ready for the settler when he arrives. It is our intention to do all our missionary work in the interests of Ontario. In addition to city property we are going extensively into Ontario farm lands."

"We are going to establish a labor bureau in connection with the London office," he continued. "We will take care of all the artisans sent through this channel, and see that they are properly treated. We will be in a position to offer the inducements in the way of securing homes and they will be a class of skilled workmen who are needed and will be welcomed."

"When are you going to commence work on your new offices?" he was asked. "In about three months," was the reply. "We are very much crowded for room in our present quarters. We cannot secure any more space where we now are, and the rapid growth of our business makes it imperative that we get additional accommodation at once."

While in London Mr. Robins was one of the Canadians to address the Imperial Mission in the house of commons on Imperialism. He spoke of the success of his trip. It exceeded his fondest hopes.

He also spoke of the Maurelains arriving in New York on Friday. He reports real estate interests in both New York and Buffalo to be in a most unsatisfactory condition.

SOCIETY NOTES

Mrs. A. H. Clemmer, 164 Evelyn-avenue, West Toronto, will not receive on Tuesday, the 21st instant.

University Saturday Lecture

Prof. Hutton on Greece and Crete.

Principal Hutton's address in the university course on Saturday was distinguished with all the graces of style and humor and lightly-worn learning for which he is noted. His tour in Greece and Crete on the occasion of his jubilee was the subject of his lecture. He succeeded in giving a vivid impression of the country, the people, the climate, and the conditions. Greece is a land of contrasts. In its climate and its diverse geographical features it is a land of extremes. It is a land of green and drought, of heat and cold, of sun and rain. The scenery reminded him of Scotland and Devonshire, and would have been anywhere, even in those two places.

Principal Hutton confessed himself a philistine, or something worse. Had he lingered in early Italy, he would have been like Botticelli or Perugino. "I would have disliked them heartily," he remarked, and he never would have searched for his shield as Phidias did.

"My stay in Greece convinced me if I needed a dancing school in all my earlier incarnations I belonged to barbarians and not to Greece."

Patriotism has a much larger place in the schools of Greece than in England. England has a distrust for eloquence and flag-raising, he observed, and Englishmen do not carry their hearts on the standards of the flag. Patriotism and secret prayer. Empire Day is against the grain of the country.

Delphi he found to be the most interesting and inspiring service in Greece, and he found at Aegina the temple of Aphaea, regarding which he spoke with feeling.

A most amusing parody of the "Isles of Greece," treating of the resinous flavor of Greek wines caused much amusement.

Women had a hard time in Greece, harder than in Germany or Holland, and much harder than in England. People of experience preferred the "unspeakable Turk" to the Greek for honesty and courage, and as a man, but Principal Hutton had found the Greek quite honest, and kindness and civility everywhere.

"Take Scotland and fill it with Frenchmen, and you have modern Greece," was his formula for England. In Crete he saw the Temple of Apollo, the Palaces of Phaestos, the wonderful remains at Knossos, and other relics of the ancient days; no swallows nest where Minos was enthroned, and he heard the nightingales sing in the palace ruins.

The attendance was the largest of the season, the lecture hall being filled. Next Saturday his Excellency Count Apponyi, Hungarian Minister of Education, will speak in Convention Hall.

Temperance and Patriotism. A large enthusiastic audience gathered yesterday afternoon in Massey Hall to hear C. R. McKown, K.C., M.L.A., lecture at the meeting of the Canadian Temperance League on "Temperance From the Standpoint of Patriotism." J. H. Carnegie, ex-M.P., for Victoria, occupied the chair.

A special feature of the meeting was the exceptional song service rendered by the Gospel Temperance Choir and Dr. Palmer, assisted by the Victoria University Glee Club under the leadership of J. M. Sherlock.

The Red Cross Princess. At the Princess Theatre this evening, the Red Cross Princess, the military comic opera, will be presented for the first time on any stage. The piece comes from the authority of Ambrose T. Pike and J. Ernest Lawrence, and

In the vernacular of the sporting editor, "The Prince of Pilsen" can and has "come back." The Ludeke-Pixley composition, which under the managerial guidance of Harry W. Savage, will be displayed at the Royal Alexandra Theatre for one week, beginning to-night, with the usual popular-priced Thursday and Saturday matinees on its return from the Pacific coast, whither it went last fall from New York with a trans-continental tour that has been a real triumph, has come back in splendid form. Since Mr. Savage withdrew "The Prince of Pilsen" from public view five seasons ago, he has been deluged with offers from his managerial rivals who wanted to sponsor the popular musical comedy's revival. He decided, however, to reserve that pleasure to himself, and to guarantee himself that it would be a pleasure. Mr. Savage endowed the piece with the best possible production and assembled a cast that would assure excellent interpretation. Included in the company are Jesse Danby, Frances Cameron, The Vera Stanley, Jehro Warner, Alice Hoban, Edward Mora, Lillian Lawson, Robert O'Connor, Dorothy Delmore, Walter Gaiet, Wallace Berry, and a number of other equally proficient artists. Accompanying the big organization is a special orchestra under the skilled conduct of Gustav Hinrichs, formerly director of the Metropolitan Opera House in New York. In this choice of if "Pretty choice" need as well as physical charms were borne in mind.

Frank Daniels. "The funny man" will be at the Princess Theatre the latter half of this week, beginning Thursday. In the funniest role he has ever played, that of judge of the divorce court in Charles Dillingham's new musical comedy production, "The Girl in the Train."

Adeline Genee at Shea's. Manager Shea is giving his patrons this week one of the greatest treats ever enjoyed in a vaudeville theatre, in the appearance of Miss Adeline Genee, the dancer, as his headline attraction. Miss Genee, former star of the "Bachelor Belles," the "Silver Star," and the "Soul Kiss," in which she was seen in Buffalo, is making a short tour in vaudeville, and Manager Shea is one of the few managers in the country who have secured this artist for a vaudeville engagement. Miss Genee, as assisted by her company of ten dancers, including M. Alexis Rodolff, will appear at every performance this week in the dances she has made famous. Included in this week's bill are Howard Brothers, Cooper and Robinson, the Three Singers, the Three Marconis, Thaler's Circus and the Kinetograph.

"The Goddess of Liberty." "The Goddess of Liberty," the famous musical comedy from Chicago, will be the offering at the Grand week of Feb. 27. This is the biggest company and production that has ever been seen in Toronto at less than dollar-fifty prices.

Schubert Choir. Ticket holders for the Nordica, Schubert Choir and Toronto Symphony Orchestra concert to-night are requested to be in their places by 8 o'clock as the program will commence at 8:15 and the doors will be closed during numbers. Madame Nordica will sing the big aria from Madame Butterfly, two groups of English songs and solos in the concerted works. Mr. Fletcher received the following telegram from Buffalo, Saturday morning: "Despite the perpetual downpour of rain Madame Nordica was greeted with a storm of applause. The big Convention Hall, and which became wildly enthusiastic as the music of the great singer's voice enthralled them. The choir, the orchestra, the soloists, numbers, and 'The Call of Valkyrie,' given as an encore, was demanded three times."

The Tetrazzini Concert. The sale of seats for the Tetrazzini concert to be given in Massey Hall, Friday evening, March 3, will open this morning. The celebrated artist will be assisted by Frederick Hastings, baritone; Andre Benoit, pianist; and Walter Oesterreicher, flutist, in the following program: Fantasia for flute and piano, "Good Night My Dear Child," (Pomp) Messrs. Oesterreicher and Benoit; waltz song from "Romeo and Juliet," (Gounod) Tetrazzini; baritone solo—(a) An die Musik (Schubert), (b) Ewig Mein Bleib (Schubert), (c) Der Sieger (Kau), Mr. Hastings; aria, "Caro Nome," (Ricciotti) (Verdi), Tetrazzini; piano solo, Polonaise E Major (Liszt) Mr. Benoit; aria, "Una voce poco fa" (Barber of Seville) (Rossini), Tetrazzini; song, "The Last Rose of Summer" (Moore), Tetrazzini; (a) Romance, (Stiehl), (b) Arabesque, (Debussy), Messrs Oesterreicher and Benoit; aria, A Fors e Lui, (Verdi), Tetrazzini; baritone solo, (a) Young Dietrich (Henschel), (b) Lys (Benoist), (c) The Ballad of the Bony Fiddler (Hammond); Mr. Hastings; grand aria including the "Mad Scene" from "Lucia" (Donizetti), Tetrazzini.

"Crazy Finance." The title of the screamingly funny musical farce that will be presented at the Gayety this week, "Crazy Finance," is a masterpiece of comedy, comprising an all-star cast of deservedly popular and well-known burlesque and vaudeville players. This burlesque is in two acts and was written by one of our most popular letter-day burlesque authors, Mr. Aaron Hoffman, who certainly must have been in a funny mood to write this farce. It is a masterpiece of wit and every line is a scream and a laugh from start to finish. In order that the audience may not be entirely overcome with joy, well selected musical numbers are introduced, in which is a beauty who is of 30 dancers, who will be the "Mad Scene" of the latest freaks of fashion, from a burlesque.

VICARIOUS ATONEMENT

Must Work Out Own Salvation, Says Christian Science Lecturer.

The growing Christian Science population of Toronto crowded the lower floor and galleries of the Royal Alexandra Theatre yesterday afternoon to hear Frank B. Leonard, B.C.S., of the Christian Science lecture bureau, speak out the doctrines of Mrs. Eddy, and attempt to prove that heaven is not an abnormal state of sublimity, but an ever present reality, whenever humanity chooses to accept it.

Sir James Whitney introduced Mr. Leonard, remarking that he was there as he supposed were all, to gather information. After the introduction Sir James retired into the wings.

The speaker lost no time in deprecating the Christian form of salvation known as the "vicarious atonement." "Salvation must be worked out by yourselves," he declared, "with a right knowledge of God as a being who governs and controls that which He created."

Speaking on the old bugbear of Christian Science, the speaker said: "The non-existence of matter, he said: 'Nothing exists to us personally that is anything more than a mental impression. Two men examine the same thing with the same eyes, and yet each may gain a different mental conception of that thing, which surely shows the unreality of the thing itself."

"Some people think Christian Science is a religion for the rich. So it is; I think they need it, just as the poor do."

"If a class of children fall in mathematics, we do not throw aside the mathematics, but rather set them to work harder on their sums. If we fail to demonstrate our religion, it is not its fault, but ours. Like the man who wishes to cross the road, we must take the first step, and another and another, until we get right across."

POMPEIAN EXCAVATIONS.

Prof. Frank Adams' address on Pompeian excavations before Canadian Institute Saturday night was listened to by nearly 300 people. The speaker dealt chiefly with excavations that have been made by himself and others and illustrated his remarks with a series of limelight views. The slides showed utensils and household articles and the ruined houses and streets in which they were found.
