But Dineens' continuous hat sales afford the gratifying evidence that men are never so profoundly absorbed with killing seriousness as to forget their heads, or so indifferent toward their heads as to disregard style, or, so distracted with the weightier subjects of business, politics or war that they would fall to appreciate the hat qualities in all the newest fall shapes at Dineens' at $2.50 and $3.

> BAD REVERSE FOR THE BOERS. The Enemy Struck the British Line

at Its Weakest Point, But They Failed. London, Oct. 22 .- (N.Y. Tribune Cable). The Intense if sober satisfaction expressed throughout Great Britain to-day has com-mon sense behind it. Military men say that Natal, by reason of the Boer superiorground, was the weak spot, and Natal, General Symons' small and separate is feared, is mortally wounded, two colonels, three captains and five lieutenants were killed, and a colonel, three majors, six captains and ten lieutenants were wounded. This heavy loss among the offisix captains and ten lieutenants were wounded. This heavy loss among the officers was due, as the latest despatches from the front showed, to their valiant but insensate conduct in sticking to the traditions of the British army and refusing to take the cover of which the men availed themselves in storming the Boer position on the summit of the kopje.

The War Office announces that 31 noncommissioned officers and men were killed and 151 wounded.

Among the rank and file the Hussars had 7 wounded; the artillery 1 killed and 3 wounded; the Leicestershire Regiment 1 wounded; the King's Riffes 11 killed and 30 wounded; the Dublin Fusiliers 4 killed and 41 wounded, and the Natal Police 2 wounded.

THE CASUALTIES.

It is now known that the small force and the weak point have turned formidable; that an admirably plauned assault has not only been repulsed, but that the sasilants have been sharply smitten and the Boer plans of campaign have been completely baffed. Those plans are warmily commended in military circles here, where the Boer scheme was eminently sound and sclentifie. As the plan is explained by experts, General White's force at Ladysmith was to have been held by the demonstrations of the Free State Boers on the western side to prevent reinforcements being sent to Glencoe, All this was done. The railway was contained the Boers wiscalculated.

Where the Boers miscalculated was over the superiority of the British artillerymen

Where the Boers Miscalculated.

Where the Boers miscalculated was over the superiority of the British artillerymen to the imported German gunners of the State artillery, and, more seriously, over the superior dash and grit of the English officers and men. That the British artillery justified the high praise of German military attaches does not admit of a doubt. In twenty minutes almost all the Transvanl's splendid Krupp guns were slienced. But the three hours scramble of the Irish Fusiliers and the Rifies up the precipitous mountain sides under a galling fire ,was a splendid achievement and decided the fortunes of the day. To this and General Symons' handling of his troops the upsetting of a well calculated stroke was due. The Boer plans are pronounced by experts here excellent down to the opening of the battle by artillery from the heights, a manoeuvre successfully executed by the Prussians in 1870 at Vionville.
