"BABES IN THE WOOD" AT THE GRAND TONIGHT.

F. Stuart Whyte's fifth annual English opera company, the brilliant light opera organization which comes to the Grand Theatre on Monday, Special Wednesday and Thursday, Special We "BABES IN THE WOOD" AT THE GRAND TONIGHT.

F. Stuart Whyte's fifth annual English pantomime in Canada is the everpopular "Babes in the Wood," the most gorgeous and expensive to stage of all the galaxy of pantomime productions. "The Babes in the Wood" company is probably the most noteworthy aggregation of English artists brought out by Mr. Whyte up to this time.

Wee Dorothy Mackay, of Red Riding Hood fame, will appear as one of the babes. George Summers has the leading comedy role of Capt. Kidd, Reginald Hicks will be the baron, and Miss Mona Misner will be the Robin Hood.

Dorothy is not the only kiddie in the cast this year. Mr. Whyte has brought over six other boys and girls between the ages of twelve and fourteen to play the various children's parts. They are known as the Van Vilssingen junior dancers.

The book and lyrics of "Babes in the Wood" are the work of F. Stuart Whyte and Reginald Hincks, while the music was written by Pierre Bayard, Olive Hamilton, B. C. Hilliam and George Bremley.

"Babes in the Wood" will be the offering at the Grand tonight, tomorrownight and twice Saturday, matinee and night. Secure your seats early. This is a big treat for the children; in fact, every man, woman and child should

REX BEACH'S MIGHTY THRILLING ROMANCE OF THE NORTH AT THE ALLEN. You'll get the famous Rex Beach smash in every foot of this wonderful story of the gold fields of Alaska, "The North Wind's Malice," which is show-ing at the Allen today, tomorrow and Saturday.

North Wind's Malice, which is showing at the Allen today, tomorrow and Saturday.

You'll see two men at death grips in the snow and ice, snarling like wolves, clutching at each other's throats with fingers of steel, rolling over and over to the edge of the glacier. You'll see the great wolf dog Kara, hero of a hundred memorable battles with the wilds; Vera Gordon, the wonderful mother of "humeresque" plays the greatest part of her career; Tom Santschi, the husky, fearless star of "The Spollers," in a role that will trill you to the core. Love, revenge, furious jealousy, superhuman endurance, struggle, triumph—a splendid tale, told by a master story-teller, acted by a flawless cast. To miss "The North Wind's Malice" is to miss one of the big thrills of a lifetime.

An organ solo will be played by Mr.
Ireland of the Finale from the fifth symphony by Widor. You'll have a fifteen-minute trip around the world with the Allen International News, and a peep at some of the great screen stars at work and play in home and studio.

an exciting adventure-romance, with the scenes laid in the native and European quarters of Shanghai.

The star has the role of Gail Ellis, a resourceful young American girl, who becomes secretary to a Professor Griswold on a trip to China, professedly made in the interest of historic antiques. In Shanghai, Gail, adventuring on her own account, is taken by a treacherous rickshaw men to an iniquitous opiam den and with difficulty rescued by a handsome Englishman, Rupert O'Dare. Startling disclosures, revealing the real identity of Gail's employer, follow.

"Crooked Streets" was adapted from an original story by Samuel Merwin, and is thoroughly good entertainment. Miss Clayton is supported by a good cast, including Jack Holt and Clyde Fillmore. Paul Powell directed, and the picture is a Paramount Artcraft.

tings. Now the story. In "The Man Who Dared," Julius G. Furthman, a recent addition to the Fox West Coast scenario staff, has written for William Russell a powerfully appealing and dramatic picture that will hold the attention of your audience from start to finish. All those things that go to make a riproaring tale of the Redwoods forest—love, romance, adventure, revenge, treachery—are combined to make "The Man Who Dared" one of the outstanding features of the screen. Dr. Zell Hunt continues to delight and mystify. The Karmona Duo will present a delightful offering of "Soup," and the fourth episode of the serial story, "The Vanishing Dagger" and a Strand Comedy complete the bill.
