THE U. S. MAY PROTEST AGAINST NEW LOCKS

They Prevent Fish Coming Up the Red River, an International Stream.

WINNIPEG, July 12.—(Special.)—International complications will likely follow the formal opening of St. Andrew's lock between the Red River and Lake Winnipeg, on Thursday, by Hon. Wm. Pugsley and Sir Wilfrid Laurier. From the construction of the lock, fish are prevented from coming down the Red River to Lake Winnipeg during the spawning season.

Remonstrances from Canadian fishermen received no attention from the public works department. The World understands, however, that the United States Government will complain to the authorities at Ottawa, requesting the removal of the lock, which prevents fish coming from the lake up the river.

The Red River is an international stream, and obstruction of this kind is contrary to the provisions of the waterways treaty.

LARGE BODY OF IRON ORE.
OTTAWA, July 12.—(Special.)—The department of mines has issued a report affirming that there is a large body of iron ore near Chat's Falls on the Ottawa, at which place it is proposed to erect an establishment for smelting iron by electric process.

Health by human electricity is a normal process. You learn how to generate and apply the electricity of your own body. This, in turn, preserves and increases your own good health and working power indefinitely without doctors, drugs or appliances. Information, literature, etc., free. The magnificent American plan dining room is an ideal place to lunch or where guests may spend the evening on the lounge floor and listen to the music, or have their coffee served in the palm room free of charge, is an excellent thought-out idea, and should become very popular.

GRAZED WITH JEALOUSY

Italian Killed His Wife and Child and Shot Himself.

MONTREAL, July 12.—Marion Croche, an Italian, grazed with jealousy, murdered his wife and child at 2.40 o'clock this morning in his boarding house at 11 St. Michel street, and then sent a bullet into his own brain.

He first split his wife's head open with an ax and cut his three-year-old child's throat before sending bullets into their heads. The woman was also shot in the left breast and the baby in the right eye. They were both murdered as they were sleeping in bed, the child in a cot near the bed of its mother.

The husband was 44 years old and the wife only half that age. The other Italians residing in the house say that they had a bitter quarrel yesterday over the attentions that one of the other boarders had been paying Mrs. Croche.

settled," said Sir Wilfrid, "and I am glad to say that the initiative of that policy is the son of Manitoba, Hon. Clifford Sifton." (Cheers.)

—Rates Must Come Down.
The prime minister asserted that "the value of the product of the farmer is the selling price in the world market, less the cost of transportation." Up till 1906 the west had been at the mercy of the C.P.R. in respect to rates, the original contract not giving parliament any control whatever over traffic charges. This defect had been overcome, when the C.P.R. accepted the condition of the Crow's Nest railway subsidy, and made a substantial reduction on staple articles. The cost of sending wheat from Brandon to Liverpool, from over 26 cents a bushel had been reduced to 16 cents.

It is not a vision, it is a reality, and we will work at it.

The Hudson Bay Railway.
Hon. George Graham, baronet, the crowd, as usual, and finally drifted into a general assembly of the navy and the Hudson Bay Railway. The preparations would be gone on with within a very few months. As for government aid to railways, he believed this aid should never be given to any railway in any part of Canada was served with proper transportation facilities.

EARL GREY ARCH-PLOTTER

To Lead Canada into Imperial Maelstrom, Says Bourassa.

MONTREAL, July 12.—(Special.)—Henri Bourassa, M.L.A., is writing a series of articles in his paper Le Devoir, to show that a conspiracy exists between Sir Wilfrid Laurier, his excellency the governor-general, and even R. L. Borden to drag Canada into the imperial maelstrom.

Le Devoir says that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has accepted with good grace from Lord Borden the wind Lord Grey what the Marquis of Lorne, and repeats that one after the other his excellency has interviewed bishops, judges, university rectors, bankers, the heads of seminaries, newspaper publishers, parish priests doctors and everyone else he could influence in the imperial direction.

SECURED 12 MORE STEAMERS.

MONTREAL, July 12.—A report states that a controlling interest has been secured in 12 additional steamships by the White Star-Dominion line for the Australian and New Zealand service, which will bring the total tonnage of the company up to 150,000 tons. It is rumored that an understanding will be arrived at by which the White Star-Dominion and the Grand Trunk will work in unison.

LET ORANGEMEN BE ACTIVE IN POLITICS of smallpox was not as bad for a nation as ignorance.

A Government's Duty.
W. D. McPherson, in moving the resolution, said it had been one of the great trusts that had been imposed upon the government to hush the children into good citizenship. There was no higher duty devolving upon those who had the reins of government than the education of the young. He had little doubt it was the aim of the provinces to have a great national school system.

"In years to come," he concluded, "there will be other men and women celebrating anniversaries of this kind—the anniversary of the dawning of civil and religious liberty—and I trust they will see the flag of the British empire flapping over Canada as proudly, or more proudly, than it is today."

The Navy and the Empire.
A. E. Kemp's arraignment of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's attitude on the navy question, in moving the resolution of support to the mother country in upbuilding and defending the empire to the end that civil and religious liberty would be the birthright of every British citizen the world over, was enthusiastically cheered.

"This resolution," he said, "carried with it the thought that there was something in the atmosphere intimating that the navy was a thing tending toward other than the unity of the empire. Recent events had pointed this way at least, even to the possibility of separation from the British Empire."

"We have been in the habit almost invariably of pointing to the great natural resources of this country—the building of railways, the development, etc., but there are other questions that have been wedged in that are not getting enough public attention.

"Jealousy of our resources had not been allowed to take shape solely because of the protecting arm of upbuilding and defending the empire. We have failed to recognize those obligations we owe to that little isle. There is another question that goes hand-in-hand with this.

Should Spend More.

"We can't maintain Canada in the British nation without the supremacy that the navy on the sea. It has been said that Canada has no enemies. If that is so, it is because of the protecting arm I have referred to. It has been said that the United States would not allow any interference with us if we pulled away and became independent. That carries with it the humiliating thought that it would be the United States that protects us, instead of our protecting ourselves. Our fishing laws are enforced now just the same as if they were made in Old England, yet what are we contributing toward that guardianship? In Canada, we have been contributing about 75 cents per capita. The United States gives $5 a head for navy support and the people of England give $6.80 each. If I had hoped that when Great Britain called for help from the dominions, that the wealthiest—Canada—would lead. We are not even keeping pace with our smaller sister colonies.

A Nihilizing Clause.
Mr. Kemp drew attention to the clause which states that in case of an emergency the governor-in-council must first place at the disposal of his majesty any ships or men in the service.

It was a ridiculous proposal, and he urged that as citizens and Orangemen they "agitate and agitate until the wording of that humiliating clause is changed."

"British sentiment in Canada may be becoming less. This may be explained by the fact that half of our immigrants are coming from the United States, a quarter of them come from continental Europe and a quarter from the British Empire. Therefore, three-quarters are foreigners. We hope that they will not come so fast that we cannot curb that growing anti-British sentiment. These things should cause us some concern."

"Until the United States reached 20,000,000 population they did not have or allow such a foreign influx as Canada, doing with only 7,000,000. We have got to be careful in considering this. We must work harder for the maintenance of loyalty and unification of the British Empire. I believe that the only way in which we could be gathered and cemented together as the strongest organization in the world for peace, if we desire the respect of other nations we must carry the burdens of empire with the mother country and our own sisters across the sea," he concluded.

The "Tin Pot Navy."
Hon. A. B. Morine followed. He said that in sitting up Laurier's navy scheme, the first thing one must say was that Canada had not done her duty; secondly, that parliament missed a glorious opportunity to do what it should have done; and thirdly, that it had only provided something that could not be used in the proper manner. Laurier's navy would only be of use to run away and hide itself when it was sent danger. What the object of that navy would be, God only knew, but it depended upon the Orange organization to prevent it being turned against the empire.

"Have you noticed the recent regulations enforced regarding immigration?" he asked. "It is only because some people don't want immigrants from England. Would men be sent back because they did not possess so much money if they came from France? No! I tell you it is because the British sentiment is not wanted by a great many people."

Dr. Pyne's Favorite Tune.

County Master Wm. Bush presided and introduced, besides the foregoing, Hon. Dr. Pyne, Mayor Geary, Hon. Thos. Crawford and Inspector Jas. L. Hughes.

There were two holidays, the minister of education said, he had always looked forward to the 24th of May and the 12th of July. Perhaps he enjoyed the latter best because he loved the music of "The Protestant Boys."

better than all other music of martial strain. The great development of the British Empire had kept step with that great tune.

In this sentiment the doctor was later joined by Inspector Hughes, who wanted the preference extended to a small repertoire of two or three of the old timers that would always set his feet going despite the affliction he had in one of his legs.

Mayor Geary extolled the police department for the way things had been managed. When the legislature granted the city the right to run the streets and govern traffic, it had done the wise thing, as the day's events had demonstrated.

Hon. Thos. Crawford said: "These demonstrations are not designed, as has been said, to aggravate. We have no privileges that we are not willing to hand out to our Catholic friends and enjoy with them. These demonstrations are for the sake of protecting and handing down to our children the privileges that we enjoy thru what we derived at the battle of the Boyne."

The Games.
The girls' basketball team of Clinton Street Public School beat the Pope Avenue School team by 18 to 14. Silver medals, nicely engraved, will be awarded individually to the winners. By the tremendous scoring of 76 to 48 the Withrow Avenue Public School boys defeated the team of Dufferin Street Public School in basketball. Silver medals will be awarded in this case as well.

FATHER THREATENS SUIT.

OTTAWA, July 12.—(Special.)—Alex. Proulx of Hull, whose son was drowned in the Ottawa River on Tuesday last, threatens to sue Foreman Saret of the C.P.R. and Constable Campeau of Hull, on the ground that when his son was recovered from the river he was still alive, and that both Campeau and Saret prevented him from bringing the body to shore and applying restoratives, by which, he claims, the boy's life could have been saved.

Why Americans Flock to Canada.

Moody's Magazine.
As a result of speculation, land values in different parts of the United States. Acreage that was unsalable 10 or 15 years ago at 12 an acre is now commanding $20 to $35, and improved farm land has gone from $20 and $30 an acre to $200 and $300. Fruit lands are commanding at high as $200 and $400 an acre. The direct effect of land speculation and inflated values of land is emigration. This has assumed serious proportions in the northwest. Pioneers and settlers of five and 10 years ago have been driven across the border into Canada, where they can buy land at a price and sell it in richness. Last year 80,000 people went over the line. They took an average of $200 with them. This sum of $80,000,000 subtracted from the sum of the United States is one 12 millionth of the population. Now emigration is even heavier than in 1909. It is estimated that 150,000 American farmers will this year abandon the high priced lands of the middle west and strike out for the rich, undeveloped areas of the Dominion. With production of American staple products not much in excess of home consumption, and the margin decreasing, the loss of this number of producers is of great consequence to the United States.

First Aid in Housekeeping.

Harper's Round Table proposes to have found in some cook book a recipe, at the end of which, after directions for cooking and baking, the reader is bid to "sit on the front of the stove, and stir constantly. The from clause is not tautological, is at least unnecessary.—Christian Register.

INSULTING OFFICIAL MAY LOSE HIS POSITION

Representative of American Government Has Taken the Matter Up.

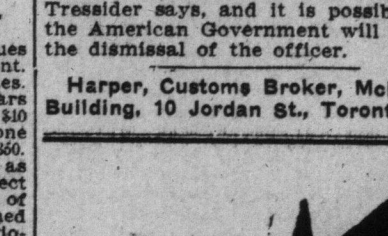

OTTAWA, July 12.—(Special.)—After being kept quiet for some time, the name of the Dominion immigration official who insulted Canadians on a train at Windsor, Ont., and was forced to apologize by W. R. Taylor, editor of The Sentinel-Review, Woodstock, has been made public. He is H. Gilboit.

The woman whom he was insulting, when Mr. Taylor protested, was Mrs. Percy Tressider of St. Louis, Mo., who was on her way to Ottawa to spend her holidays with her father-in-law, G. C. Tressider, clerk in the department of public works. She was sitting opposite Mr. Taylor when the government official boarded the train at Windsor, and coming up the aisle of the car, he turned his attention to Mrs. Tressider. He asked her, in a voice so loud and imperative, according to her account of the matter to her husband, as to attract the attention of all the other passengers, what her name was, where she lived, where she was going, whom she was to visit, what kin they were to her, why she was going to visit them, whether she was married, why her husband was not along, how much money she had with her and how old she was.

It was at this latter stage that Mr. Taylor protested, and the official abused him in terms for which he has since apologized.

Mrs. Tressider on coming to Ottawa, communicated with her husband, who took the matter up. A representative of the United States government had an interview with her last week. Mrs. Tressider says, and it is possible that the American Government will request the dismissal of the official.
