NEWARK, N.J., Feb. 20.—Miss Hattie Reeves, a stenographer, and Mrs. Mary Clark, who lived on the floor below that occupied by Miss Reeves, were shot and killed today at the termination of a quarrel between Miss Reeves and Hiram Craig in Miss Reeves' apartment. Craig is in the Newark City Hospital with a bullet in his body and may recover. The police assert he shot the two women and then attempted suicide.

According to the police, Craig, a salesman, had been paying attention to Miss Reeves for some time and called at her apartment last night. He waited, the police say, till she returned and a quarrel ensued. Mrs. Clark heard shots in the apartment and running upstairs to investigate, was hit by a bullet and killed.

BODIES THROWN INTO FURNACE

Thousands of Dead Germans Are Disposed of in This Way

A Catholic cleric writing from the trenches in North France to a friend in Toronto mentions the following incident regarding the German dead and the manner of their disposal, since the cold weather set in. He writes: "In the Town of Lille and Namur in north France there are large blast furnaces for the smelting of iron ore, which is found in large quantities in this part of the country. The furnaces have long since ceased the work of smelting, and the dump cars used for bringing the iron ore have been emptied of their loads and put to a far different purpose. Every day two and some times three long trains of these dump cars are brought in loaded to the brims with German corpses and piled high at the mouth of the furnaces. A large gang of men are employed day and night placing the bodies four at one time in a sling and dropping them into the huge fires, where they are quickly incinerated.

"Thousands have been disposed of in this way and the work still goes on."
