The formen went out alone one night in "No Man's Land" and brought in the body of his captain who had been killed in ac-tion, and the other was awarded the cross for bravery while opposing the Huns. Although wounded twice he fought on and helped drive back large German forces who were endeavoring to take a section of trenches from them. Another soldier wearing a French uni-form and a resident of the province of Quebec also arrived on the steamer. Captain E. K. Clark of Toronto, who has been attached to the medical staff in Queen's Canadian hospital in Shorn-rliffe, England, has returned home for a well merited rest. He is a graduat of the Toronto University. D. E. Ross, who is a sergeant proba-tioner in the royal navy, is returning to his home in Montreal. He is also here on duty and will return overseas in the near future. Sergeant Ross has been on naval destroyers for the last eighteen months.
