

SPECIAL SERVICES IN MANY CHURCHES

Special evangelistic services, conducted either by the pastors or by visiting preachers, have been held in several of the city churches for the last week or two and yesterday other churches also commenced holding special services. In the Main street Baptist church the soldier preacher Rev. A. K. Harman, of Charlottetown, continued his evangelistic services, weaving into his addresses many of his war experiences. In the Victoria street Baptist church Rev. A. Torrie opened the great rally week of his evangelistic services. The singing evangelist, Henry Revell Bell, opened his gospel mission of song and story in the Tabernacle church. In the Ludlow street Baptist church the pastor, Rev. I. Brindley, conducted the services and in the evening he made a special evangelistic appeal and a choir of male voices under the leadership of George Vincent led in the singing with splendid effect. In the Waterloo street Baptist church the pastor, Rev. J. A. Swetnam, was his own evangelist, and in the Charlotte street Baptist church Rev. C. R. Freeman, the pastor, in commencing the special services, spoke in the morning on "Proving God" and in the evening on "The Harvest of the Soul."

Rev. Dr. A. M. Hill, of Yarmouth (N. S.), maritime secretary of the Men's Brotherhoods, conducted both services in Knox Presbyterian church because of the illness of the minister, Rev. R. Moorhead Legate. Mr. Legate's friends will be glad to learn that he is so far recovered as to be able to be around the house. He is still very weak. He has been prostrated by a combined attack of bronchitis and influenza.

In the Anglican churches some of the clergymen exchanged pulpits as part of the programme of Lenten services. Rev. W. H. Sampson, rural dean, was the preacher in St. Luke's church and Rev. R. P. McKim, of St. Luke's, conducted the service in St. George's church in the morning. Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong, of Trinity church, exchanged pulpits with Rev. A. L. Fleming, of St. John's (Stone) church for the morning service.

In the Victoria street Baptist church yesterday, large congregations attended the special evangelistic services. At the morning service Rev. A. Torrie's subject was Consecration. At the mass meeting in the afternoon he spoke of "The need of evangelism, and the evangelism we needed." At 8.30, half an hour before the service was to begin, the church was filled and the people were unable to gain admittance for the evening service. Mr. Torrie's address in the evening was on "Conviction vs. conversion." Nineteen persons responded to appeals during the services of the day.

Special speakers were both morning and evening in the Carleton Methodist church yesterday. In the morning Rev. H. A. Goodwin was the preacher and he made an appeal for support for the social service work of the church and met with a generous response. A special feature of the morning service was a duet by the Misses Marguerite Barrett and Letta Allingham. At the evening service the visiting preacher was Rev. J. A. Macfarlane, M.A., organizer for the Orange order for the provinces of New Brunswick and Quebec, who had spoken in Queen's square Methodist church in the morning. A special programme of music was given in the evening, including a solo by F. J. Punter and an anthem by the choir.

Burstall and Gwatkin to Pension List

Ottawa, March 19.—It is understood that Lieutenant-General Sir Henry Burstall, inspector general of the Canadian forces, and Major-General Sir Willoughby Gwatkin, head of the Canadian air force, are to be given a year's leave of absence and then be placed on the pension list. This is one of the developments in connection with the reorganization of the defence forces.

Sir Henry Burstall was born at Quebec in 1870 and is a graduate of the Royal Military College at Kingston. In 1898 he served with the Yukon forces. He was in the South African war. He was a divisional commander for the second division during the great war. Sir Willoughby Gwatkin was born in England and did most of his soldiering with the British army.

GOVERNMENT WINS A BY-ELECTION

London, March 19.—The Inverness by-election, necessitated through the promotion of Thomas Brash Morrison to a judgeship, resulted today in the choice of Sir Murdoch Macdonald, a Coalition Liberal, by a narrow majority. He received 8240 votes against 8,024 for his opponent, Alexander Livingstone, an Independent Liberal.

The vote indicated an enormous growth in the Asquithian Liberal vote, as compared with the last general election.

As a result of an election fracas. D. H. MacQueen, 18, alleges he was beaten up by the two MacDonalds, who accused him of driving a team for M. L. Chappell, the alderman's opponent in a civic contest. The case is set down for hearing on Monday. Meanwhile Chappell, who originally won by five votes, but was later, on a recount, declared defeated by one vote, has petitioned Judge Finlayson to set aside the count and order a new election in ward three.

was commenced yesterday with large attendances to hear fine addresses by Rev. J. A. Swetnam at the morning and evening services, and Rev. P. J. M. Appleman at the afternoon session of the Bible class. The Sunday school session was made "Decision Day" and several of the older scholars announced their decision to lead a new life. At the evening service the pastor continued a solo, and at a meeting after the service twelve persons volunteered to dedicate their lives to the Master's service.

An evangelistic campaign, under the leadership of Henry Revell Bell, of Centerville (N. B.), began yesterday in the Tabernacle church, when three strong messages were delivered by the evangelist. In the morning the speaker's message was a stirring appeal for all to rally in their part of the work of God. In the afternoon the attendance at the Sunday school was the largest in the history of the church, 216 being present. At night, after a song service, the message dealt with the question: "What shall I do with this man Jesus who is called the Christ?"

In St. David's Presbyterian church there is held annually a class attended by boys and girls of fourteen and upwards who purpose beginning church members and by communicants who wish to take this opportunity of studying the origin, history and meaning of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The class which met yesterday afternoon in St. David's church gymnasium for the first of the four successive Sunday sessions was an exceptionally large one, far exceeding in numbers the attendance of other years. Rev. J. A. Macfarlane, the minister, was the leader for the class and gave the instruction.

Six candidates were baptised by the pastor, Rev. C. T. Clark at the close of the evening service in the Fairville Baptist church last night. The church was filled and the service was an impressive one. The pastor has been conducting special services and the baptisms last night were part of the results. Other candidates have already come forward and it is expected that there will be several more to receive the sacrament of baptism.

Rev. H. A. Goodwin, secretary of social service and evangelism for the Methodist church in the maritime provinces, gave special anniversary addresses on the social service work of the church in two of the city churches yesterday. He spoke in the morning at the Carleton Methodist church and in the evening at the Carmarthen street Methodist church. Large congregations heard his message with evident inspiration.

The request of the Hillsboro Baptist church that Rev. F. H. Bone assist in conducting special evangelistic services in the church was considered by a special meeting of the deacons of Central church, of which Mr. Bone is pastor. The meeting was held at the close of the evening service in the church yesterday and it was unanimously decided to lend the pastor's services if he was able to undertake the work. Mr. Bone expressed the opinion that he would be able to arrange for the special services and he will probably be in Hillsboro the week after next.

The pastor's wife, Mrs. F. H. Bone, was the preacher in the Central Baptist church last night and taking as her text "Voe to them that are at ease in Zion and trust in the mountains of Samaria," she declared with strong emphasis that the responsibility rested with the parents and with those who had confessed Christ if they gave no warning and the children went astray.

Ottawa, March 19.—The prime minister, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, has been notified of the death at Denver (Col.) of his brother, Dr. Macdougall King, and left here last night to bring the body to Toronto for burial. Premier King will be absent from Ottawa for a week.

BROTHER OF THE PRIME MINISTER
DEAD IN DENVER

Ottawa, March 19.—The prime minister, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, has been notified of the death at Denver (Col.) of his brother, Dr. Macdougall King, and left here last night to bring the body to Toronto for burial. Premier King will be absent from Ottawa for a week.

The late Dr. King was forty-four years of age and was well known in Ottawa and Toronto, having practised in both cities before his departure for Denver when he became a victim of tuberculosis which, however, he had overcome only to become stricken with muscular atrophy, from which death ensued yesterday. The late physician was well known as author of a widely read book on his battle with tuberculosis and also of "Nerves and Personal Power," another medical work. He was the only brother of the prime minister, whose father, mother and one sister have all died within the last five years. Dr. King's wife and two children and one sister, Mrs. H. M. Lay, Barrie (Ont.), are the other surviving relatives.
