

A- Yes, sir.

Q- You say you were a little bit drunk. You didn't have any difficulty understanding what he was doing, did you?

A- I am not quite sure, sir.

Q- What you mean is you had a couple of drinks, is that right? You weren't out cold, or anything of that sort?

A- I could still walk, sir.

Q- Could you still talk?

A- I guess so, sir.

Q- You knew what you were doing?

A- Not very well. I wouldn't have went if I had known what I was doing.

----- The Defending Officer declines to re-examine.

----- The Accused resumes his seat.

SECOND WITNESS
FOR THE DEFENCE
(CHARACTER)

Lieut. R. E. COSGROVE, No. 3 C.A.C.T.R., C.A., having been recalled, and acknowledging his former oath, is examined by the Defending Officer:-

Q- Do you know this Trooper on my left?

A- Yes, I do.

Q- His name is?

A- Edwards.

Q- How long have you known this Trooper?

A- Oh, he has worked for me for about four months.

Q- A qualified driver?

A- Yes, qualified.
