The New Hotel

All arrangements for the erection of the much talked of hotel for St. John's have been finalized and Messrs. Rousseau and Langlais who were here discussing the plans with the Executive Government, left for Canada by the Digby. Mr. Rousseau represented the contractors and Mr. Langlais the bonded house of Montreal. The Montreal Trust Company are trustees for the bond holders and the trust deed has been arranged on the lines of the contract passed during the recent session of the Legislature. The bonds, it may be stated, have all been taken up at good prices, showing that outside financiers have faith in the project. The hotel will be erected in the old railway station ward in the East End, where the basement of the hotel projected some years ago will be removed. The contractors are Messrs. Rousseau & Co., Ltd., of Quebec, builders of the cold storage plant and liquor commission warehouses in that city, and also of some millions of dollars worth of roads for the Quebec Government during the last few years. Mr. Rousseau will return here in about two weeks, bringing appliances necessary for the erection of the hotel, work on which will start at once. It is expected some 200 labourers will be employed, which will be a great help to the industrial situation. The promoters express the greatest confidence in the future of Newfoundland and consider the erection of the hotel as the keystone of the tourist traffic here. The building will contain 150 rooms, including twelve suites, and all will be supplied with running water, while ninety per cent will be supplied with baths. The bathroom will have accommodation for about 500 people and besides the hotel will include a barber shop, newsstand, manicuring department, grill, and all the conveniences to be found in the most up-to-date hotels of the day. A taxi service will also be arranged with the local motor men for the convenience of the guests. The hotel will be fitted up luxuriously and will be the last word in comfort. It is hoped to have the new building covered in by the middle of November so that interior work can be proceeded with and the opening according to the contract, will take place on the first of May next. All plans and specifications will be submitted to the approval of the Government Engineer, as provided in the contract. A view of the hotel as it will appear when completed, will be on exhibition in a few days in the Board of Trade Rooms. While in the city Mr. Rousseau secured some fifty photos of beauty spots throughout the country from which he will have cuts made for publication in the Quebec and Montreal newspapers, which will prove a great advertisement of our scenic attractions. Next year, when as a result of the Highways policy, better roads will be available, Mr. Rousseau plans to build resorts of the log cabin type at some of the fishing resorts outside of the city. All interested are looking forward with confidence to the success of the hotel project.—Times.
