A. E. Ham & Co.'s Bankrupt Stock of Dry Goods to be Sacrificed.

The old John Wall corner which con tains the bankrupt dry goods stock o tains the bankrupt dry goods stock of A. E. Ham & Co. is a very busy place just now. Mr. Belleperche, who purchased J. O. Peck's interest in the business, is hurrying forward arrangements for his great closing out sale which starts on Saturday with all possible speed. While it is his intention is close the store on Friday so as have all in readiness for Saturday's opening he says it would be impossible to go all over the stock in one day and as everything must be marked down he and his assistants are now working at it, as fast as they can. He is quite determined to sell off the stock and is marking the goods at a price, as the trade say, that will make them go. In speaking of the business which he and Mr. Peck have done Mr. Belleperche expressed himself as very satisfied. They had enjoyed a good winter's trade and had disposed of almost all their winter goods, but, he continued, A. E. Ham & Co. had secured almost all their spring stock, some of it, in fact, arrived just before their business troubles commenced and, this is now on hard, together with new goods which we have added to the stock and must be closed out like the rest, at any price.

CLAIMS FAITH DID IT.

Water Thirty Inches Below the Level

Guelph, April 13. — W. L. Dawson, who fell down stairs in Bell's factory about five years ago, is a cured man, and claims that faith did it. In the fall he injured his spine, causing partial paralysis in both legs. He has since been confined to his bed, more or less, and was pronounced incurable. On the strength of the medical evidence given he has received three yearly instalments from the total disability claim of the R. T. of T. funds. On Saturday afternoon he claims that he was prompted to put aside his crutches and the conveyance he used in moving about, and to get up and walk. He followed the promptings and immediately left the vehicle, and found that he could walk as well as before the accident occurred. He at-tended church on Sunday, and is ap-parently cured.
