A Chinese Tribute

Wu Ting Fang Pronounces a Eulogium on General U. S. Grant.

Believes That Statesmen and Generals Do Not Come From Exclusive Stock

New York, May 30.—Although there were threatening signs of rain throughout the early part of today, memorial exercises in this city were carried out with more than the usual interest. The important events of the day's programme were the military parade, which was reviewed at Madison Square by Governor O'Dell and Major General W. T. Ting Fang made an address, the decoration of the Hall of Fame of the New York University, at which Senator Chauncey M. Depew delivered an oration.

At Grants tomb Wu Ting Fang, Chinese minister, in accordance with instructions given by Li Hung Chang some years ago, placed an offering of flowers on the stone coffin containing the general's remains. Mr. Wu also delivered an address.

Minister Wu graphically described the career of Gen. Grant as a citizen, soldier and statesman, his remarks showing a deep study of his subject. "Nothing shows more clearly," he said, "the high estimation in which Grant was held by the world at large than the spontaneous enthusiasm with which he was everywhere greeted when he made his famous tour around the world. Princes and potentates and common people alike vied with one another in paying him the homage due to great rulers. Cities opened their gates to welcome him at his approach. His progress from country to country was like a triumphal procession. All this was a significant tribute to his character and his fame. It must be remembered that he was at this time only a private citizen. He had not received the greatest honors inherent in the man. In no country, I dare say, did he receive a warmer welcome than in the old empire of China.

The career of Grant is just such as is calculated to fire the imagination of the Chinese. Statesmen and generals do not come from an exclusive stock, is one of our favorite sayings. We Chinese have great admiration for men who have risen by their talents from humble beginnings to be acknowledged leaders of the people, such as Grant."

Minister Wu alluded to the friendship between Gen. Grant and Li Hung Chang, and said: "After Grant's death Earl Li gave instructions to the Chinese legation at Washington to send every year, as is done this day, an offering of flowers to the general's tomb on memorial day, as a token of his enduring friendship."

The Arbitration Conference

War Declared to Be a Source, Not of Wealth, but of Poverty.

Lake Mohonk, N. Y., May 30.—The subject for this morning's session of the arbitration conference was the influence of commerce and commercial bodies upon the peace of the world. Professor Clarke, of Columbia, combated the idea that war was promotive of prosperity. On the contrary, he said, it simply gave the present money to expend by mortgaging the future. War was a source of poverty, not wealth.

W. J. Combs, of Brooklyn, deprecated the United States tariff policy in that it aroused the antagonism of other nations as already seen in hostile foreign legislation. "We have," he said, "created imperialism in imperio. It is a dangerous and war-making theory that we must extend our borders in order to keep trade going and make money."

Mr. Combs directed attention to the fact that vast as the mercantile and commercial interests of the country were, only one merchant had a seat in the fifty-second or fifty-third congress. He created amusement by suggesting that the chamber might well concern itself over the matter and send some merchants to congress in place of some of the lawyers there, who numbered, he said, 94 per cent.

John A. Taylor, of Brooklyn, followed and largely reaffirmed the positions taken by Mr. Combs.

Joshua Bailey, of Philadelphia, made a plea for a national peace. Other speakers were William Henry Gibson, of New York; Robert Payne, Boston; Robert Gibb, Everett; W. Wheeler and Dr. Allen, of Boston.

One Hundred and Seventy-Four British Were Killed, and Wounded.

London, May 31.—On the anniversary of Lord Roberts's entry into Johannesburg comes the news of severe fighting and heavy losses within forty miles of the gold reef city. The battle at Vladfontein, on the Durban-Johannesburg railway, reported by Lord Kitchener today, is the most serious engagement since Gen. Clements's reverse at Magersburg. The garrison at Vladfontein is apparently largely composed of Yeomanry, and had 174 men put out of action. That their assailants came to close quarters and suffered heavily is shown by the number of dead left on the field. The dispatch from Kitchener, dated Pretoria, May 30th, is as follows:

General Dixon's force at Vladfontein was attacked yesterday by Delarey's forces, and there was severe fighting. The enemy was eventually driven off with heavy loss, leaving 35 dead. He is induced to abdicate the throne in order to give the high commission a clear field to work upon. He was to receive an annuity and education. Governor T. E. Tilly has paid a visit to the outer islands of Manua and had a most loyal welcome from the King, Tulimaua, and his chiefs.

The German court of Apia has convicted two Samoans of the murder of a Chinaman. The principal criminal was sentenced to be hanged and his accomplice to serve 15 years' hard labor. The former suffered the penalty last week.

The remainder of lands held by San Francisco firm in trust for the Polyneesian Land Company has been sold to G. Kunst, a wealthy German, who also several years ago bought Valima, the home of the late Robert Louis Stevenson. This transfer places in German hands the largest American control. It is the intention of the new proprietor to send to Germany for settlers to work the lands. Mr. Kunst has purchased two steamers from the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand, for the American trade. The first is daily expected at Apia, and thence she will proceed to Honolulu and San Francisco.

Corruption At Honolulu

Special Grand Jury Investigating Charges of Bribery in the Legislature.

Honolulu, May 25, via San Francisco, May 31.—The special grand jury called to investigate the charges of bribery in the legislature has had as witnesses Governor Dole and Attorney-General Dole, Secretary of the Territory Cooper and other high officials, and on the refusal of some of them to answer questions, it has had them brought into court to show cause why they should not testify. In the absence of S. B. Dole, who is indisposed, Secretary Cooper is acting governor.

The grand jury began its investigations on a letter from the governor to the legislature refusing to extend the session, because he had information that bribery was taking place. Governor Dole appeared before the grand jury, and it is said told all that he knew. The other heads of departments were summoned, and all refused to tell what they knew, on the ground that the information they had received was in the nature of a "privileged" communication, having been given to them as government officials.

Acting Governor Cooper, Attorney-General Dole and L. A. Thurston, president of the Gazette Publishing company, were summoned to appear before Judge Humphries and show cause why they should not tell the grand jury what they had received regarding bribery and the legislature. Judge Humphries sustained Dole, as it was shown that he had told the grand jury the names of the men from whom he had received information.

Thurston told the jury that he heard that legislators had approached a corporation with solicitation of bribes, but they declined to give the names of the corporation on the ground that as attorney-general he had the right to withhold it when given confidentially by a client to an attorney. Judge Humphries adjudged Thurston guilty of contempt and fined him $100, and ordered him into custody until the end of the session of the grand jury, or until he should answer the question of the jury as to who was the client.

He applied to the Supreme court for a writ of habeas corpus, and was released in $500 bail. The grand jury and indicted Walter G. Smith, editor of the Advertiser, for perjury. It is alleged in the indictment that he denied knowledge of the name of the corporation said to have been approached by members of the legislature with solicitations for bribes, when in fact he knew the name of the corporation. Smith was released in $5,000 bail. Judge Humphries took the case before acting-governor Cooper and Superintendent of Public Works McCandless under advisement. McCandless has left his office.

Four Great Paintings Bought for a Trifle in London Curiosity Shop.

New York, May 31.—According to the Tribune's London correspondent three pictures encrusted with grime were recently purchased in a curiosity shop by a thrifty husband and wife in Cheshire, England, for 15 shillings. One of these when partially cleaned for the adornment of their modest dwelling proved to be the work of an early Italian master; another was Corot, and the third was a painting by an early English master. Encouraged by the knowledge that what they bought for shillings was worth $100, the couple returned to the obscure curiosity shop and bought for 55 a canvas blackened with age, which was used as a fire screen. This picture when cleaned disclosed the name "Del Pompa" in one corner; and has been identified as a rare work of an Italian painter.
