SAFETY BOARD MEETS

ON TUESDAY EVENING

Reports of Police and Fire Chiefs, Petition of Women's Council and Extra Street Lights to be Considered.

A meeting of the safety board has been called for Friday evening. Among the matters which come up for consideration will be the annual report of the Chief of Police and the Chief of the Fire Department with their various recommendations. The board will also consider the recommendations for extra street lights which have been referred to them. The petition of the Women's Council asking for the purchase of a patrol wagon and the appointment of a matron for the city jail, will also be taken up.

A POLITICAL QUESTION.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10.—Is Senator Knox eligible for appointment as secretary of state in the incoming administration or must the president-elect select a new premier for his cabinet? This was the question that all official Washington was confronted with this morning. The facts in the case are perfectly plain. Senator Knox was elected for a six year term which will not expire till March 3, 1931. The constitution prohibits the appointment of a senator to an office created or the salary of which has been increased during the term for which he was elected. Senator Knox has denied himself to all callers but is advising with his personal friends.

VARIOUS SOLUTIONS OF HARBOR DIFFICULTIES

Ottawa Delegation Will Probably Report Facts and Leave Harbor Committee to Make Decision.

The Ottawa delegation, consisting of Mayor Bullock, Ald. Frink and T. H. Eatabrooks, met this morning in the Mayor's office to discuss the results of the recent trip to Ottawa. Mr. Eatabrooks left Ottawa before the delegation was through there and the meeting was partly for the purpose of informing him of what happened there and also of the result of the Mayor's interview with General Manager Mc-Nichol, of the C. P. R. At the meeting this morning the delegates did not decide on any recommendation to be made to the council. It is likely that they will meet for further discussion tomorrow and that a meeting of the Harbor Facilities Committee will be called for Friday or Saturday to hear their report. It is probable that they will simply report the facts of the situation as they have discovered them, without any recommendation whatever, and leave the committee to decide what action had best be taken. One solution of the difficulty that has been proposed is that the Government should proceed with the work of dredging and wharf building to the south of the 1600 foot strip and leave it unoccupied. This is not regarded as a desirable way out of the difficulty, however.

It has also been suggested that instead of giving the C. P. R. exclusive rights for yard room to the rear of the proposed extension that the yard should be made part of the harbor extension scheme. The filling could largely be made with the material dredged from the wharf sites and if the Government or harbor commission laid the rails they would have the right to allow any railway the use of the yards. It is thought in many quarters that this would be the best way out of the yard room difficulty. After the meeting of the Harbor Facilities Committee the delegates may try to carry on some more negotiations with both the government and the C. P. R. before the matter will be referred to the Common Council for action.

WALTER HATCH, WANTED AT OTTAWA, IS HERE

Van Against Whom Charge of Usury is Made, is Said to be in St. John.

The Star understands that Mr. Walter Hatch, referred to in the following paragraph from the Ottawa Free Press has been in St. John for the past two weeks. The warrant against him is still in the possession of an Ottawa constable. "Mr. Walter Hatch, who is charged with usury, has left the city for the good of his health." Such was the statement made today by the young woman he left to look after his office, at 29 Queen street. "Has Mr. Hatch returned to the city yet?" inquired the Free Press man of the young woman, who came to the door at 29 Queen street, in answer to repeated knockings. "No, he has not returned yet," said she. "Really, I don't know. He left here about two weeks ago. He said that the doctor advised him to leave the city for the sake of his health." "Where has Mr. Hatch gone to, a health resort?" "I don't know where he went to. I came here to mind the office while he was away." "Was it not a bad oversight for him to neglect to inform you where he went?" "No, he didn't tell me anyway." "Do you know what doctor advised Mr. Hatch to leave the city?" "No, I do not." The young woman remarked as she would tell Mr. Hatch he had called.

SUCCESS OF BIG BRIDGE PARTY IS ASSURED

Nearly All the Tickets for Westfield Outing Association's Aid Have Been Sold.

The indications are that the immense bridge party planned by the Westfield Outing Association which is to be held on Thursday, the 15th, will be a great success. It is planned that there will be seventy tables and already the greatest part of the two hundred and eighty tickets have been disposed of. This is by far the largest event of this kind ever held in St. John and the committee are to be congratulated on the support their plans have received. It is intended that the playing will be continued until eleven or twelve o'clock and after supper the floor will be cleared and dancing will be indulged in by the younger people. The Keith Assembly Rooms will be the scene of the function.

WILL DISCUSS PLANS FOR BIGGER CITY HALL

Several Buildings Have Been Inspected and Committee Will Consider Reports Tonight.

The committee which is dealing with the problem of providing more room at City Hall will meet this evening for further consideration of the project. As the matter stands now the most probable solution seems to be the addition of another story to the present building and the installation of an elevator. Owing to the lack of hall room there would have to be considerable remodeling before an elevator could be erected. So far no definite proposal to erect a new building has been made but the committee has been considering the purchase of another building for a more suitable one could be found. Several buildings have been inspected by members of the committee and their availability will be considered this evening.

THE COLOR OF SCOTCHMEN

An Extensive Study That Resulted in Unconvincing Results.

(London Times) A contribution to "Biometrika" (Vol. vi), by Mr. J. P. Tocher, has been issued by the Cambridge University Press (10s net). It is a quarto volume of 100 pages, with numerous maps, tables, and diagrams, and is entitled a Pigmentation Survey of School Children in Scotland. It contains the results of an elaborate survey of all the elementary school children in Scotland in regard to the color of their hair and eyes, collated and analyzed by Mr. Tocher for a committee of which Sir William Turner, Professor R. W. Reid, and Mr. J. Gray were the members. The survey was carried out by the school teachers under Mr. Tocher's direction, and 4,400 was contributed by the Royal Society, £100 by the Carnegie Trust, and £110 by the University of Edinburgh. Lord Strathcona for anthropological research in Scotland. Complete returns were received from 2,328 schools, containing records of the names, ages, sex, family relationship, and color of hair and eyes of 227,676 children. About 500 schools made no return, and about 400 made incomplete returns. The survey is, therefore, not exhaustive; but it is sufficiently complete to represent the whole country and the numbers are large enough to give validity to such conclusions as can be drawn from the data. The results of the survey are set out in a series of tables and the preparation of this report have evidently cost a great deal of labor. It is much easier to ask whether the results are worth it than to give a very confident or confident answer in the affirmative. A printed summary of the contents issued with the volume states that "it is almost impossible to summarize the conclusions reached in this long memoir," which really means that they consist of a great many separate statements leading to no generalization at all. Mr. Tocher has himself summarized his results in twenty-one numbered paragraphs, and the impression produced on a reader sincerely desirous of gaining some information from them is that the facts are so complex and indeterminate as to raise grave doubts of the propriety of attempting to draw any conclusions from them at all. The classification of colors is vague, and since nothing is known of the physiology of pigmentation there is no key to the true interpretation of the other distribution, even if the grouping is accurate. The conclusions are so vague that they are hardly valid. We do not know what factors may play a part in varying the color of hair and eyes or what their relative share may be. To refer all the observed facts to heredity and to build up a racial theory on that assumption is to reverse the true order of science. That seems to be what the author has done, so far as we are able to follow him. He finds two types in Scotland: (1) dark hair and dark eyes, (2) dark hair and blue or light eyes, (3) fair hair and blue eyes, (4) medium hair and medium eyes, (5) red hair and medium eyes, and he calls these (1), (2), (3), (4), (5), (6), (7), (8), (9), (10), (11), (12), (13), (14), (15), (16), (17), (18), (19), (20), (21), (22), (23), (24), (25), (26), (27), (28), (29), (30), (31), (32), (33), (34), (35), (36), (37), (38), (39), (40), (41), (42), (43), (44), (45), (46), (47), (48), (49), (50), (51), (52), (53), (54), (55), (56), (57), (58), (59), (60), (61), (62), (63), (64), (65), (66), (67), (68), (69), (70), (71), (72), (73), (74), (75), (76), (77), (78), (79), (80), (81), (82), (83), (84), (85), (86), (87), (88), (89), (90), (91), (92), (93), (94), (95), (96), (97), (98), (99), (100).

MR. JOHN BURNS

CONDEMNNS LONDON LODGING HOUSES

Healthful Villages, With Easy Means of Transit, are Preferable.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—John Burns, president of the Local Government Board, in talking with a German official, said that he had been to London, where he had seen the worst of the lodging houses and shanties of London, great and small, modern or old style, are full of poverty and crime. He called these not only "diffusers of disease," but "hotbeds of crime and crime," and declared that the worst institutions ever introduced in British cities, insisting that they ought to be removed to the rest of the world. He said that no effective supervision could be exercised over the persons admitted, that had men continually got in and out of the houses, despite the fact that they were both immoral and criminal and that they plotted big crimes. "Mr. Burns' language to me," said the German investigator, "was the most emphatic condemnation of all lodging houses where numbers of unscrupulous persons are herded together. He called these not only 'diffusers of disease,' but 'hotbeds of crime and crime,' and declared that the worst institutions ever introduced in British cities, insisting that they ought to be removed to the rest of the world. He said that no effective supervision could be exercised over the persons admitted, that had men continually got in and out of the houses, despite the fact that they were both immoral and criminal and that they plotted big crimes."

Anty Drudge on Politics.

Mrs. Clubwoman—"Anty, what do you think is the greatest political issue of the day?" Anty Drudge—"Don't know and don't care! The most important issue in my mind is how to tell the greatest number of women about the better and easier way of washing clothes with Fels-Naptha. That'll do the women more good than all the political questions men ever gabbled about."

Some people think Fels-Naptha is a Summer soap because it cleanses clothes in cold as well as lukewarm water.

Know this: Fels-Naptha is sold and used in every State and Territory in the United States, including Alaska—and in every Province of Canada. It is sold and used in Winter as well as in Summer.

And here's why: It gets mighty cold sometimes in Alaska and Northern Canada. The colder it gets the more reason women have for washing clothes with Fels-Naptha in lukewarm water.

The more reason for not risking a cold by filling the house with vapor or bending over steaming suds.

The more reason for protecting hands from becoming red and chapped.

The more reason for getting the washing done in half the time with one-fourth the work.

Use Fels-Naptha in your washing this Winter and see how much easier and better it is. Just as effective for flannels, woollens and colored goods as for white clothes.

Use only lukewarm water and follow directions printed on the red and green wrapper.
