

MC2465 POOR DOCUMENT

THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

Father Morriscy's Prescriptions

Have been curing for 30 years, and are curing to-day, all the common ailments that come to every family. We have hundreds of grateful letters to prove this.

Father Morriscy's No. 7 tones up the Kidneys, removes Uric Acid from the blood, and cures Rheumatism. In tablet form, 50c.

Father Morriscy's No. 10 is a most effective and reliable cure for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and Whooping Cough. A real Lung Tonic. Trial Bottle, 25c. Regular Size, 50c.

Father Morriscy's No. 11 Tablets relieve and cure Dyspepsia and all forms of Indigestion. Each tablet will digest 1 3/4 pounds of food. Per box, 50c.

Father Morriscy's No. 26 positively cures Catarrh. A combined treatment—tablets for the blood, and a healing salve for the affected parts. Tablets and salve together, 50c.

Father Morriscy's Liniment is a household standby for all sorts of aches and pains. Pleasant to use—quick to relieve. Per bottle, 25c.

At your dealer's. 51
Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Ltd., - Chatham, N.B.

Rev. Father Morriscy

It Will Pay You To Visit Our Store

And Reap the benefit of the Following CASH PRICES :

- | | |
|------------------------|------------------------|
| 15 lbs. beans for 50c. | 6 bars soap for 25c. |
| 5 " tea " $1.10 | 3 lbs. prunes " " |
| 19 " sugar " 1.00 | 2 " apricots " 28c. |
| 40 " pollock fish 1.00 | Nutmegs, 1-4 lb. 10c. |
| | 5 gals. oil for $1.00 |

NOW IN STOCK

- 140 Bbls. of Flour
- 1000 Bushels of Corn
- 200 bags Feed
- 500 Bushels Oats

Our Stock is complete
Our Prices the lowest
We also have a large quantity of Government inspected Seeds
CLOVER, GRASS SEED and SEED OATS which we are exhibiting for inspection.

Selecting Seeds is an important matter. You will do well to investigate before you buy

H. McGRATTAN & SONS

WE ARE

Manufacturers of High Class Monumental work from RED, GREY and BLACK GRANITES. We have every modern facility for doing the work, and we realize that a satisfied customer is our best advertisement.

If you need anything in the line of Monumental or General Cemetery Work give us a trial and let us prove our ability to please. We will deliver and erect Monuments in any part of the Province. Write for designs and samples.

RELIABLE REPRESENTATIVES WANTED!

H. McGRATTAN & SONS

St. George

N. B. CROUP

A Household Necessity

Father Morriscy's Liniment Should be in Every Home

How seldom a week passes without some member of the family suffering from a sore throat, chest or back, a burn or a cut, a sprain, strain or ache!

Such troubles will come, but there is no need of suffering much from them. Keep a bottle of Father Morriscy's Liniment in the house, use it freely, and the pain has little chance.

During his lifetime Father Morriscy prescribed this Liniment regularly, and it proved very effective in relieving all sorts of pains and aches. In Rheumatism it is valuable as a "rub", when "Father Morriscy's No. 7" Tablets are taken internally. Similarly, applied freely to throat and chest it helps "Father Morriscy's No. 10" (Lung Tonic) to quickly break up and drive away a sore throat, cold in the chest, or cough.

Taken all around it is one of the best family liniments in existence. Price 25c per bottle. At your dealer's, or from Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Ltd., Chatham, N.B.

have been bitter ones and I had to come back to see you.

Then, when I saw you with Edith's baby I thought they had made a mistake, that you were married. And what I suffered in those few minutes was worse than all the years. Now I know differently. Is there any chance for me, Elaine?

Just then, looking into her eyes, he saw a light which could mean only one thing, and drawing her to him he exclaimed: My darling, I love you! Will you marry me!

Her answer was; "Jack" dear, of course, you or no one.

Is Your Back Weak?

When the back drags and aches, feels lame over the spine,—when there is indigestion, headache and constant ail to make water, beware of sick kidneys. If neglected, this condition develops weakness and soon you'll be unable to work. The one remedy you can rely on is Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Every symptom of disordered kidneys, they cure by removing the cause. You improve immediately, day by day you will experience benefit from Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Best for the kidneys, liver and stomach. Sold by all dealers.

Matrimonial Catechism

What is marriage?
Marriage is an institution for the blind.

Why do some people never marry?
Because they don't believe in divorce.

When a man thinks seriously of marriage, what happens?
He remains single.

Should a man marry a girl for her money?
No. But he should not let her be an old maid because she's rich.

When a girl refers to a "sad courtship" what does she mean?
She means that the man got away.

Is an engagement as good as a marriage?
It's better.

In selecting a husband why does a girl prefer a fat man?
Because a fat man finds it hard to stoop to anything low.

When asking papa, how should a young man act?
He should face manfully, and never give a chance at his back.

When the minister says, "Do you take this woman for better or for worse?" what does he mean?
He means that he can make her do anything she wants to.

When a child is smart and good, to whose family is it due?
To its mother's.

When a child is bad and stupid, to whose family is it due?
We refuse to answer.

Is it possible for a married man to be a fool without knowing it?
Not if his wife is alive—United Presbyterian.

Road Unkeep

The roads of Ontario cannot be managed on the local improvement plan any longer. They are of too great importance to the general well being to be left to the free will of County Councils.

There should be a provincial roads policy, liberally supported by the provincial funds and leaving nothing to the option of local authorities.—Mail & Empire, Toronto.

stopped in 20 minutes sure with Dr. Shoop's Croup Remedy. One dose will surely prove. No vomiting, no distress. A safe and pleasing cough-cure.

Jack's Return

her 4-month-old Baby Warren, to see his sick "auntie." Delightedly, Elaine cuddled the tiny creature to her among the pillows, when Edith, with a mischievous "Now be a good little mother until I come back," ran away on some trivial errand.

Baby cooed and gurgled responsive-ly. And the touch of the soft little hands gave a new impetus to her thoughts. Frank Winton, the true friend and faithful lover for five years noble and good and rich—surely she would do well to accept him, as everyone said. Yet when the sudden ring of the door bell a moment later reached her ears, she sighed and wondered wearily. Oh, that is Frank, I suppose, coming for his answer. A gentleman to see you," announced the maid.

"Show him up, please," Elaine said, unemotionally.

Calmly, too, she listened to the approaching steps, which sounded familiar, yet somehow seemed unlike Frank's; and then, even as the maid repeated his name, she looked up in-graduated from college, a bright future before him, one who would make a keen business man, being admired and esteemed for high intellect—a chap to care for every pretty girl since few interested him.

And now the same old question, why did he go that evening without a word? It all came back so vividly to-night, though she had lived it over in imagination many and many a time before. First, the ball had been kept waiting until it was shocking to wait any longer, and then she had to open it with Frank Winton, her father's junior partner, whom everybody else considered an ideal match for her. When the waltz was nearly over, there was a stir at the entrance, and her watching eyes discovered "Jack," tall and distinguished, surrounded by a bevy of chattering girls. Intense relief drove away all anger and mortification, so that it was one of her most bewildering "light smiles," as "Jack" called them, that she threw to him around Winton's shoulder as they waltzed by.

It seemed an age till the music stopped, then Mrs. Van Gouver had beckoned them to her seat near the conservatory and insisted on congratulating her in the most loquacious manner possible. Then, as the minutes passed and "Jack" did not come over to her, she looked across to where he had been, and he wasn't there. The rest happened so swiftly—Winton taking her into the conservatory, his proposal, her refusal and promise that they should still be friends, her eagerness to get back to the ballroom where "Jack" must be hunting for her then her sitting out that next dance beside her chaplain in amazed wonderment—the dance that she had saved for "Jack"—and finally Winton's return for what should have been only his first dance. How gay she had been that evening in her bitterness? Since then not a word for five—

Tap, tap, on the door at this point, and there was a visitor—Elaine's dear, dear girl, friend, Edith Somers, with her 4-month-old Baby Warren, to see his sick "auntie." Delightedly, Elaine cuddled the tiny creature to her among the pillows, when Edith, with a mischievous "Now be a good little mother until I come back," ran away on some trivial errand.

Baby cooed and gurgled responsive-ly. And the touch of the soft little hands gave a new impetus to her thoughts. Frank Winton, the true friend and faithful lover for five years noble and good and rich—surely she would do well to accept him, as everyone said. Yet when the sudden ring of the door bell a moment later reached her ears, she sighed and wondered wearily. Oh, that is Frank, I suppose, coming for his answer. A gentleman to see you," announced the maid.

"Show him up, please," Elaine said, unemotionally.

Calmly, too, she listened to the approaching steps, which sounded familiar, yet somehow seemed unlike Frank's; and then, even as the maid repeated his name, she looked up in-graduated from college, a bright future before him, one who would make a keen business man, being admired and esteemed for high intellect—a chap to care for every pretty girl since few interested him.

And now the same old question, why did he go that evening without a word? It all came back so vividly to-night, though she had lived it over in imagination many and many a time before. First, the ball had been kept waiting until it was shocking to wait any longer, and then she had to open it with Frank Winton, her father's junior partner, whom everybody else considered an ideal match for her. When the waltz was nearly over, there was a stir at the entrance, and her watching eyes discovered "Jack," tall and distinguished, surrounded by a bevy of chattering girls. Intense relief drove away all anger and mortification, so that it was one of her most bewildering "light smiles," as "Jack" called them, that she threw to him around Winton's shoulder as they waltzed by.

It seemed an age till the music stopped, then Mrs. Van Gouver had beckoned them to her seat near the conservatory and insisted on congratulating her in the most loquacious manner possible. Then, as the minutes passed and "Jack" did not come over to her, she looked across to where he had been, and he wasn't there. The rest happened so swiftly—Winton taking her into the conservatory, his proposal, her refusal and promise that they should still be friends, her eagerness to get back to the ballroom where "Jack" must be hunting for her then her sitting out that next dance beside her chaplain in amazed wonderment—the dance that she had saved for "Jack"—and finally Winton's return for what should have been only his first dance. How gay she had been that evening in her bitterness? Since then not a word for five—

Tap, tap, on the door at this point, and there was a visitor—Elaine's dear, dear girl, friend, Edith Somers, with