High in Quality Low in Price

YOUR roofing troubles will end when you invest in Everlastic Roofing. There is no better roofing value on the market, and no better made rubber roofing for any thing like this price. It defies wind and weather and insures dry buildings.

Everlastic Roofing is made with all the best materials and is guaranteed to last for many years. On any steep roof it will wear like a charm. It is the only roofing that does not rot or decay.

No Summer Vacation

Will be given this year, but we will do our "bit" by fitting young men and women for the work that is waiting for them.

OVERWHELMING VOTE

IN FAVOR OF UNION

Winnipeg, June 14—As was generally expected, the Presbyterian General Assembly voted today to enter into organic union with the Methodist and Congregational churches, the majority, as was also expected, being overwhelming.

The official vote given on the church union showed that 408 voted for the motion and 88 against. The ministers of the church voted more largely for the change than the laymen, contrary to the ordinary expectation.

Of the ministers present 222 voted for union and 45 against. Of the laymen 186 voted for union and 43 against.

At the evening service Rev. Dr. Robert Campbell read a statement recording his dissent from the decision of the assembly in the church union matter, and the dissent of those who signed with him. The dissenters stated that the small minority, 45 ministers and 43 elders, regarded the decision as a betrayal of the Presbyterian general assembly and that they did not regard any of the other ministers or elders as having any right in the assembly to propose, or to agree, to go on doing business as usual.

At the evening session of the assembly a special committee was named to nominate a larger committee, which will have charge of all matters relating to church union in the future. It is regarded as certain that this new committee will not have in its membership persons who are completely out of sympathy with the union movement, as the other union committees have done.

The next meeting was held on Wednesday evening at Anderson's Siding. About 400 people were present. Father Martin presided and introduced the various speakers, who included the band proved a great drawing card, and people came from all around to hear it. Six recruits were secured at Anderson's Siding.

VERDICT IS GIVEN FOR THE DEFENDANTS

The case of Clements vs. the Bank of Nova Scotia was concluded last evening when the jury, after three hours and thirty-five minutes deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the defendants.

Following are the questions submitted by the judge to the jury with the answers of the jury:

1. Was the charge against the plaintiff in the police court commenced only on the advice of competent counsel and after all the facts had been submitted to such counsel? Ans.—Yes to first part and no to last part of question.

2. Was such belief based upon a honest conviction of the existence of the circumstances which led the bank official to the conclusion that the charge was true? Ans.—Yes.

3. And were the circumstances so believed and revealed, such as amounted to a reasonable ground for belief in the guilt of the plaintiff? Ans.—Yes.

4. Was the charge against the plaintiff in the police court commenced only on the advice of competent counsel and after all the facts had been submitted to such counsel? Ans.—Yes to first part and no to last part of question.

5. Or in laying the matter before counsel did Mr. Wallace and Mr. Crawford, or either of them, withhold any material facts necessary to be disclosed in order to complete understanding to the question involved? Ans.—Yes.

6. Did the defendants act bona fide on the advice of their legal advisors believing that they were proper grounds for prosecution? Yes.

7. In commencing in the police court the prosecution against the plaintiff was Mr. Wallace, the manager, or Mr. Crawford, the assistant manager, actuated by any indirect or improper motive not in furtherance of the interests of Justice? Yes.

8. If you answer the last preceding question in the affirmative state what the improper motive was. Ans.—The improper motive was in a little present pleasure of Clements as an example.

9. Did the defendants institute or cause to be instituted a prosecution against the plaintiff maliciously? Yes.

10. At what do you assess the damages? Ans.—$1,000 and legal expenses. The defendant proposed the following questions:

1. If you answer yes to No. 5 then what do you say were the material facts withheld by the defendant? Ans.—That Mr. Wallace did not inform his counsel that he had discounted accommodation paper for the Clements Co. Ltd. on previous occasions and did not state he had told Mr. Clements that he did not want to know when he was putting through accommodation paper.

2. Did Mr. Wallace disclose to Mr. Crawford from his conversation with the plaintiff that the four drafts in question were trade paper and not accommodation paper? Ans.—Yes.

3. Did Mr. Wallace disclose to Mr. Crawford from his conversation with the plaintiff that the four drafts in question were trade paper and not accommodation paper? Ans.—Yes.

4. Did Mr. Wallace disclose to Mr. Crawford from his conversation with the plaintiff that the four drafts in question were trade paper and not accommodation paper? Ans.—Yes.

5. Did Mr. Wallace disclose to Mr. Crawford from his conversation with the plaintiff that the four drafts in question were trade paper and not accommodation paper? Ans.—Yes.

6. Did Mr. Wallace disclose to Mr. Crawford from his conversation with the plaintiff that the four drafts in question were trade paper and not accommodation paper? Ans.—Yes.

7. Did Mr. Wallace disclose to Mr. Crawford from his conversation with the plaintiff that the four drafts in question were trade paper and not accommodation paper? Ans.—Yes.

8. Did Mr. Wallace disclose to Mr. Crawford from his conversation with the plaintiff that the four drafts in question were trade paper and not accommodation paper? Ans.—Yes.

9. Did Mr. Wallace disclose to Mr. Crawford from his conversation with the plaintiff that the four drafts in question were trade paper and not accommodation paper? Ans.—Yes.

10. Did Mr. Wallace disclose to Mr. Crawford from his conversation with the plaintiff that the four drafts in question were trade paper and not accommodation paper? Ans.—Yes.

GEORGE BURNS TOOK HIS OWN LIFE

Newcastle, June 15—George Burns, son of Peter Burns, of Blackville, returned from St. John where he had been working on Thursday and disappeared from his home on Friday. Searching parties went out Sunday.

He was found by Ronald E. McDonald in the mill pond yesterday. He had taken off his collar and tie, put them in his pocket and had gone out on the logs and cut his throat. A razor case was found on him. It is clearly a case of suicide. No reason is known for the deed.

Friday he left his watch and money home and told his wife he would soon be back. He was twenty-two years old, leaves his parents and several brothers and sisters.
