prietors.

XVIII. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the said Registrar, after receiving all the procès-verbaux of valuation, from time to time to make a just apportionment among all the said proprietors within the said Circuit, of the sum or sums to be levied as aforesaid for the purposes above mentioned, previously adding to the amount to be so levied, per cent, principally to meet the costs and expenses incurred by the said Registrar, the said Syndics and the Commissioners hereinafter appointed; but before making such apportionment, the said Registrar shall submit the said procès-verbaux of valuation to the Syndics of the Circuit, assembled together at a meeting by him called for that purpose in the manner above prescribed; and if two thirds or more of the Syndics present at the said meeting (not including the said Registrar) shall be of opinion that the valuation of the real property in any locality has been made less than the real value of such property by the Syndics of such locality, to the prejudice of the other localities in the said Circuit, then the said Syndics shall have the right and shall be required, at the said meeting, to amend the said procès-verbal of valuation of the said locality, by adding to the valuation therein made, such per centage, as in their opinion is requisite to render the said valuation just and conformable to the real value of the said property; and in default, by the said Syndics of so doing at the said meeting, the said Registrar himself shall have the right and shall be required so to do; and with respect to matters concerning one locality alone, if two thirds or more of the said Syndics present at the said meeting, shall be of opinion that the valuation of one or more real properties in the said locality, has been made by the Syndics thereof below their real value, to the prejudice of the proprietors of other real property in the said locality, or above their real value so as to be detrimental to the proprietors thereof, then the said Syndics shall have the right and shall be required to amend the said procès-verbal of valuation at the said meeting, by setting down, at such sum as they shall think just and reasonable, the value of the real property respectively, which shall have been by the Syndics of the said locality valued as aforesaid, under or above its real value; and in default by the said Syndics so to do at the said meeting, the said Registrar himself shall have the right and shall be required so to do; and every such procès-verbal of valuation so amended under the authority of this section, shall be as binding to all intents and purposes, as it would have been if it had not been so amended.
