

on the earth ; all the class of men who point to weak and imperfect Christians as an excuse for their own weak lives ; the drunkards and the liars and the oppressors of the poor ; the people who heard a thousand sermons full of Gospel truth and despised them because of some imperfection in delivery or elocution ; all those men who went through life the betrayers of the home ; the selfish politicians, who betrayed their country ; the men who read the Bible and believed only the parts that didn't hurt their sensitive feelings ; the young men who lived fast lives and sowed wild oats because a wicked and false public sentiment made them think it was excusable and perhaps necessary ; and all other men and women who lived as they pleased, regardless of God and eternity — when all these shall appear