When Lightning Strikes

a building the electricity is trying to get from the clouds, from which it is discharged, into the moist earth. If you impede its progress or block its way it is going to "dam up" and heat, and may burn your buildings. If you are equipped with "Universal" Copper Conductors you help the current to flow into the ground without harming anything.

Don't Worry!

if you have "Universal" Lightning Rods on your buildings. Should they be struck, the Rods will carry the electricity. They are built to do the work.

Your buildings are valuable. They could not be readily replaced. They are in danger! Why not Rod them with "Universal" Rods? Why not DO IT NOW?

The Sheath Rod has proven to be the Best Rod
