SCOOT FRIENDS SCOOT, TO THE YORK STREET RESTAURANT.

Christmas has come and gone, and it is a thing of the past. Some parties, I have been informed, have on the result, that my advertisements are rather dry, and I think it is a pity that they should be so. I have no objection to their being so, but I think it is a pity that they should be so. I have no objection to their being so, but I think it is a pity that they should be so.

When a writer says a certain thing is impossible to describe and then uses half a column in his description he describes it. I think it is a pity that they should be so. I have no objection to their being so, but I think it is a pity that they should be so.

HERE AND THERE.

Some Facts, and a Few Other Good Things.

Mr. Glanville was lately on a visit to a noble owner of "savage woods," who was asked on the termination of his stay how he had enjoyed the visit of the Premier.

"Well," was the reply, "but next time he comes I shall ask him to bring his own trees with him."

A slight cold often proves the forerunner of a complaint which may be fatal. Avoid this result by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, the best remedy for colds, coughs, and all throat and lung diseases.

The Prince of Wales has sent a portrait of himself to Boston, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of which city elected him as an honorary member when he was in America in 1860.

SEEN TO SURVIVE.—There are many remedies for coughs and colds, but there are few so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is a Pleasant and reliable cure for all throat and lung troubles, including bronchitis, asthma, croup, whooping cough and the pulmonary complaints of young and old.

The Emperor William's physicians are anxious to get him away from Berlin as soon as possible, and it is expected that he will remove to Wiesbaden for three weeks on about April 12. The Empress is also expected to leave Berlin for a month, and she will not return to Berlin before November.

PERSONAL.—George Legault, of Tazewell, Ont. says he can heartily recommend Yellow Oil as the best reliever of rheumatic pains, and a most useful remedy for years with rheumatism, and all rheumatic affections.

Physician.—"Now, my little fellow, you must take this medicine like a man. Your father doesn't grumble, does he, when he has to take medicine?" "Oh, no," said the little fellow; "but then he gets it in hot water and sugar."

When James Gordon Bennett was in New York the other day, a talkative nuisance at the club was boasting to him of his wonderful shooting experiences. Seeing no other way to escape a tragic fate, Mr. Bennett yawned and said,—"I, myself, had a narrow escape the other day. I shot at a wild boar, and missing him, killed my dog. The boar at once turned and brought back the body of my dog, laying it at my feet." The story-teller retired.

CATTARH CURED, health and sweet breath secured, by Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. Nasal Injector free. Sold by John M. Wiley.

Mrs. Clement C. Clay, wife of the late senator from Alabama, is now in Washington, where they tell this story of her.—When she went to Ireland not long ago the custom-house officers began to examine her baggage and asked, as usual, if she had any arms in her trunk. "No," said she, "but I have two arms on my trunk, and I have come to embrace all Ireland with them, God bless her." The officers passed her baggage without further search.

When a writer says a certain thing is impossible to describe and then uses half a column in his description he describes it. I think it is a pity that they should be so. I have no objection to their being so, but I think it is a pity that they should be so.

"It's a fine day your Honor," said the disorderly drunk in a wheedling tone.

"It is, indeed," replied his honor, sternly. "You do mean it?"

April showers bring forth May flowers; also bring on rheumatism. Cure, West's Cough Syrup. All druggists.

They are now making barrels with only one stave in them. We saw a store-keeper that had only one "stave-in," but it made it look like an accession.

WHY WILL YOU cough when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief. Price 10c.

"As long as I am in my place I am safe," says Emerson. That's what the came and nipped the sunbeam floor with him.
