Coun. Andrew from Water and Sew. Com., submitted report stating that an option had been secured on the Smith Lake property with a view to increasing the water supply. The price to be paid is $3,000. A survey had been made and with a ten foot dam it would be capable of holding about 115 million gallons; with an additional four feet on the dam the capacity would be increased to about 200 million gallons. The present capacity of the pipe is about three-quarters of a million gallons, so that the reserve would last for a period of 260 days provided all other sources of supply were cut off. The committee recommended that the lake be purchased and developed.

Some discussion followed on the matter and the proposal of the committee was favorably commented upon but it was thought advisable to lay the report on the table until next meeting for discussion by the full board.

Coun. Jardine brought up the matter of the offer of Mr. St. Onge to move his building occupied as a telegraph office on Andrew St. back off the street for the sum of $1.50. It was thought the price was rather high, but the matter was left in the hands of the Street Com. to deal with as they thought best.

On motion the Water and Sewerage Com. were given authority to engage a competent engineer to make a survey and plan of Smith Lake proposed to be purchased by the town.

Council adjourned.

BARK ROLF, AGROUND HERE, IS TAKING IN MUCH WATER

Entangled Her Yards in Those of Another Vessel and Became Unmanageable

WAS OUTWARD BOUND WITH DEALS AND PULPWOOD

The Russian bark Rolf, Captain De-brosi is aground near the government wharf as the result of her yards becoming entangled with those of the ship Westland.

The Rolf came here two weeks ago to load deals and pulp for Libau, Russia. The loading was completed yesterday morning and the Rolf started to put to sea. The ship Westland was moored at the same pier and in some unaccountable manner the yards of the two vessels became entangled. The tide was running out at the time and the Rolf suddenly freed herself from the other vessel ran aground before she could be put on her proper course. Immediate efforts were made by tugs to haul her off, but all to no avail. This morning efforts were again made, but with the same result. The bark is taking in a good deal of water today and it is thought she is badly damaged. It is expected that she will be towed off at high tide tomorrow morning by the Lady Eileen which has been engaged for the purpose.

The Rolf was loaded by the Wm. Richards Company. Her cargo consists of about 2,000 cords of pulp wood and a half a million feet of deals. It is not known yet to what extent, if any, her cargo is damaged.

FIVE OR SIX SHOTS FIRED.

Alex Cook charged with Firing at Patrol Boat, before Justice Bassett

OFFICERS GIVE EVIDENCE

One shot went within few
Inches of Helmsman's
Head

The preliminary examination of Alex Cook, charged with discharging a loaded gun at fishery patrol boat No. 1, was commenced, yesterday morning, at Dalhousie before Magistrate Bassett.

George Miller, fishery overseer for the Restigouche River was the first witness called. He proved that the patrol boat was in the service of Canada and that her officers were discharging their duty at the time of the shooting.

Charles McDonald, captain of the patrol boat deposed that six shots in all were fired at his vessel. One shot went through the window casings of the wheel-house. He produced the bullet, which was one used by large rifles. Another shot passed through two doors of the wheel-house.

Helmsman Gotchie swore he was at the wheel, at the time of the shooting. He corroborated the captain's testimony and added that one bullet passed within five or six inches of his head.

Engineer Smith swore that at the time of the shooting he could plainly discern five or six clouds of smoke in front of a house, just south of Cook's net.

At the conclusion of Mr. Smith's evidence the case was adjourned until Friday morning. Jas. A. Harquail represents the department of marine and fisheries at the hearing and W. A. Mott is defending Cook.

The extreme penalty for discharging firearms at a patrol boat is fifteen years in the penitentiary.

"BOOZE" FLOWED AS FREELY AS WATER

Fred McLean and Angus
Dugay had a whole
Case full.

BUT IT WAS STOLEN

Police Believe McLean Got
It in Waverly Bar when
No one was Looking.

Fred McLean had just invited his companion, Angus Dugay to "have another" when the police pounced down upon the pair, Monday afternoon, in rear of the Shives Lumber Company's stable off Water street. The police had been searching the highways and byways for McLean and Dugay for some time. Both Policemen Duncan and I. C. R. Policeman Savoie had been informed that the pair had a case of liquor concealed about their persons, and suspecting that the "booze" had been pilfered, the officers started out in search of the pair. Suddenly Savoie came upon them, apparently having the time of their lives. He called Officer Duncan, who was near at hand and handed Dugay over to him. Then the officers started with their charges for the police station. On the way to the station they met Chief of Police Gray and Officer Savoie handed McLean over to him. The chief had been notified at his house by telephone of the suspicious actions of McLean and Dugay and hastened down town immediately.

Meanwhile the bartender at the Waverly Hotel discovered that a case of whiskey was missing and searched high and low for it without success. He had just about concluded that the case must have fallen from the team on the way from the station when Chief of Police Gray entered and apprised him of the arrests.

It is alleged that McLean went into the Waverly bar in the absence of the bartender, coolly shouldered the case of whiskey, walked across the street to the Campbellton Hotel, entered it by the front door, passed through the hall and out through a door in the rear where he laid the liquor down. It is alleged he then got a man to cart it down to the ferry wharf for him. On the way to the ferry McLean encountered Dugay and invited him to accompany him and join in a Bacchanalian feast. When the ferry wharf was reached it was found the ferry had departed; so it was decided to return up town. The man who carted the liquor down to the ferry was given a bottle for his trouble and McLean and Dugay repaired to a sequestered nook in the rear of the Shives Lumber Co's stable where their orgie was destined to be short-lived.

The pair were taken before Magistrate Matheson, Tuesday morning, charged with theft. Dugay went (Continued on page 8)

SEELEY TO FACE MURDER CHARGE

Counsel for Widow of Peter
Fontaine asks for a Warrant

ARREST EXPECTED SOON

Civic Official at Dalhousie
Pays a high Tribute to Officer Seeley.

R. A. Lawlor, K. C. acting for the widow of Peter Fontaine who was killed while being arrested at his home in Balmoral last month has applied to Magistrate Bassett Dalhousie, for a warrant for the arrest of Policeman George Seeley on a charge of murder. The warrant will be issued in a day or two and the preliminary examination of Seeley held before Justice Bassett. W. A. Mott will conduct the defence, Jalbert, the owner of the house in which the arrest was attempted will have a warrant issued for the arrest of Officer Gallop on a charge of assault.

A prominent civic official of Dalhousie in speaking to a reporter "Events" yesterday paid a high tribute to Policeman Seeley. He said that since that officer had been engaged by the town rowdism had materially decreased and that the town was now one of the most orderly to be found anywhere. Except on one occasion, he had never known Seeley to use a baton on a man and on that occasion it was necessary to do so. Seeley had been able to keep order without making himself in the least obnoxious and was generally regarded as a kind-hearted though dutiful officer.
