Peg's Tim and the Wharf.

Editor Evening Telegram:

Dear Sir,—As everything is quiet in Agricultural circles, and while we're waiting for the Irish Cobblers to grow, I'll just give you a little information regarding the construction work or rather the destruction work that's going on here, for it will surely mean the destruction of the Split Government in this place. I suppose all know about the large pier that was built here at Kelligrews last summer at the cost of four or five thousand dollars. It was then decided that there should be another block built this summer. This work is going on now, as the large liners that call at this place found it impossible to get to this pier except at high tides. Well, mister, all the heifers of the Picnic Party were on the alert to try and get the job to boss, and it was decided that Uncle Hayli would get the job and Hambris would be his grand adviser. About two months ago work started on this last block and its completion is yet in the far distance. About three weeks previous to the starting of this block Hayli and Hambris would eagerly watch from their perch at the station every carload of timber that came over the line, and failing to see the words (from Ganbo) written on the car, their hearts would fail fearing that the promise was one of the many that was made by the P. P. With heads bowed the two would wend their way to the forge of Ike, the local Blacksmith, and consult him over the matter, for in their estimation Ike knows a thing or two. Ike being busy at the same time making bolts for the — why, er, er, wagon, would suspend all work and try comfort the mourners, and in the end would say, go watch again. Mister, the timber for the wharf came in due time, and also the drooping spirits of the trio revived with the thought of having a good job. Well, the work started, and the same Tory clique that had the job last summer, the same were taken on again. After the first block was sunk it was found to be not straight; we don't know if the bottom was level or perhaps the timber never grew straight, or again, perhaps the heads of the men in charge wasn't level, but one thing we do know and that is the wharf isn't level; and probably the square used for making hand-barrows for conveying ballast was a little out of order. That's the way, mister, that our grant goes, but, thank goodness, it isn't for long; in two years from now one would need a microscope to locate the remnants of the Split Government in this place. In after years our children will sing "Where are now the Picnic Party?" I forgot to tell you that Peg isn't feeling very good, but hope soon that she will tell you more about these gentlemen, bless the mark of the Agriculture.

Thanking you for space in your widely circulated paper, Mr. Editor, Kelligrews, June 5, 1911. PEG'S JIM.

Cadets and Guards Draw—No Goals Scored.

When we prepared an interesting match between the C. C. C. and M. G. R., yesterday we were not wrong, and one of the largest attendances on St. George's Field for some time was that which assembled last evening to see the struggle. The evening was perfectly calm, but a little rain which fell at the beginning of the game tended to make the ground slippery, and the players often lost their footing on the grass. Both teams were well matched and lined up as follows:—

C. C. C.—Goal, R. Walsh; backs, J. Hynds, J. Walsh; halves, Thompson, W. Hart, Murphy; forwards, B. Hart, Kent, Caul, Rogers and Sullivan.

Guards—Goal, Thistle; backs, J. Barrett, Hillier; halves, Peet, Ayre, G. Garland; forwards, James, H. Barrett, Squires, Noseworthy and Coults.

The Cadets played the western goal and at the start became aggressive, putting on a furious pace, making several attempts to score but were frustrated by the Guards back division and Thistle in goal. Fouls were recorded pretty quickly against both teams, but no scoring resulted, and for quite a while the Cadets bombarded their opponents goal losing several good attempts at scoring. After the Guards had retaliated the Cadets gave a nice exhibition of passing. For several minutes fast play was witnessed in midfield. Sullivan and Rogers, for the Cadets, each had a shot for goal but they went wide, and then Barney Hart and Rogers sent in some good shots, but Thistle, in goal, was there with the goods every time, and no scoring resulted. The Guards now bucked up and repeatedly rushed into the Cadet goal mouth, the back division, however, was equal to the emergency, and Walsh guarded his goal well. The Guards were hammering at the Cadet goal when the referee's whistle sounded, and the teams crossed with no goals scored.

HALF TIME.

When the ball was again kicked off the Guards rushed the Cadets but were beaten back after a scrimmage before goal, and the C. C. C. getting well secured a corner which, however, Thistle neatly saved when the sphere was sent swiftly towards goal. The Guards with another rush down field barely avoided scoring, and it will be seen now that it was anyone's match. Each forced the pace and gave some fine exhibitions of combination and passing; each secured corners but nothing resulted, and though the teams were urged by their backers who were pretty excited, and though the players gave out all that was in them the final solo blew with no goals scored and the game was declared a draw. The personnel of the teams worked hard, good individual play was a feature of the game, and the next meeting of the Cadets and Guards will be a match worth looking forward to. Mr. Higgins refereed. The tale of victims and losses—63 killed and 75 wounded, and $100,000 worth of property wrecked in the earthquake yesterday—inflicted in the Mexican capital a note of tragedy into what was to be a day of rejoicing over the arrival of Madero, Jr. When the work of searching the ruins is completed it is expected the list of dead will be increased.

"Head" Peet's Mission.

Head Const. Peet was landed by the Prospero at Paquet to investigate there what appears to be the larceny of a lot of belting worth a good deal of money. The belting was consigned to the Ming's Bight mining people and some time ago some boys found it on the strand there and giving it to their parent he placed it in his store intending to try and locate the owner. The belief is that it was stolen out of one of the ships which go there. After being put in the store the place was broken into and the belting taken away by some unknown person. A few weeks ago a man tried to sell it to a lumber coy at the S.W. of Paquet for a barrel of flour. Head Peet has his name and is working up the case. He hopes soon to capture all implicated in the larceny. Other matters of similar import are also demanding his attention.

Accident Slight.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Allow me space in your paper to contradict a statement which appeared there yesterday, in regard to an accident that occurred at The Johnston Wood Co's Factory on Tuesday. Now, Mr. Editor, whoever puts those reports in the press, should be reprimanded for them, especially when they are exaggerated. The Co. since starting have had only a few small accidents, twice only the skin broken on the fingers. In the accident referred to in yesterday's paper, only the skin on the knuckles was broken by the saw. When reports, of that nature, are put in the public press they cause uneasiness in the homes of those who are working in factories. Thanking you Mr. Editor in anticipation, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

J. R. JOHNSTON.

Looted the Camp.

Last night some person or persons unknown tore open the camp at Waterford Bridge, owned by the Reid & Co., and where the operator on construction work does his telegraphic business. Several articles indispensable to the office were stolen and the police will try to run down the guilty parties. Some other petty larcenies which occurred recently in the city are also occupying the attention of the detectives.

Alpaca for Dresses Wears Well.

ALPACA is an ideal summer fabric—because the rich, smooth, lustrous surface, gives the wearer a refined, aristocratic appearance, and the nature of the surface does not allow the dust of the street to adhere, therefore garments made of it, always look bright, clean and new.

The Peruvian animal which produces the wool for this fabric, is noted for its lustrous silky wool, and the long fiber of the wool ensures satisfactory wearing qualities. The alpaca cloth will retain its silky appearance, because it is natural to the wool, and not artificially produced, as you will find is so with some fabrics.

Children's Coats, Dresses, Women's Costumes, Skirts and Blouses made of Alpaca look handsome, and for street wear, one of the most serviceable fabrics you can buy.

We can give you this reliable and good wearing, stylish, Alpaca Cloth in the following prices and colorings:—

BROWN, all prices from 50c. to $1.00 a yard
CREAM, all prices from 50c. to 90c. a yard
NAVY BLUE, all prices from 40c. to $1.10 a yard
DARK GREEN, prices 45, 65, 90c. a yard
BLACK, all prices 30c. to $1.10 a yard

Figure on six yards for a Skirt and Blouse, and call and examine the goods to-day—or write for samples.

If you want to save money it will pay any woman to examine our extensive range of Dress materials.

Uncle Walt

THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

How dear to my heart was the trusty old dipper that hung by the pump in the brave days of old! It made a man frisky, contented and chipper, to drink from that dipper a draught sweet and cold. We came from the harvest field, where we'd been goaded by DIPPER ruthless employers, and kept on the jump, and stood there and drank till our innards exploded, and blessed the old dipper that hung by the pump; that rusty tin dipper, that weather stained dipper, that life giving dipper that hung by the pump. But now, in the blistering heat of the June time, we go to the well with our tongues hanging out, and wrestle around that old pump all the noon time, in trying to drink a few drops from the spout. The bughouse germ doctors have banished the flagon from which we all drank when we met at the pump; no more can the boys get a hard water jag on; the trusty old dipper has gone to the dump; the long handled dipper, the mail order dipper, the soul soothing dipper has gone to the dump!

Roads a Disgrace.

Dear Sir,—Country roads are a disgrace to the city, especially leading to the new water line. Places where the roads have been dug up to lay pipes have never been filled in, and it is a disgrace to the Council and Board of Works. Now that dwelling houses and the Johnston Wood Co. have increased the traffic, something should be done to protect life on that road. Look at the road at the foot of Long Pond. Mr. Cook has agreed to give land where it is necessary to widen the street. Fence and rocks have been standing there for two years. Let the public ask the question: Where are we and whither tending? Plenty of money for other things but none to widen or fix our roads.

Ask a man in this town or country to go outside the city and build a house or a factory, and what will he tell you? "Why you can't get water nor the roads fixed with all the money that is paid in taxes." The country roads around our suburbs are a disgrace to the country and to all Governments that have ever existed, and the people of this country are the easiest in the world to deal with.

Now, citizens, let us try and see if things cannot be made a little better and not throw the blame on any one in particular, and let our present Government not forget to do their share in helping along in this matter, so that when strangers come amongst us we can show them that our suburban roads are not far behind Halifax and other nearby cities.

I am, yours, AN INDIGNANT CITIZEN.

St. John's, June 7th, 1911.
