OLIVER CROMWELL died 1658, aged 59. He was as great a statesman as he was a general, and although his constructive policy at home left no permanent trace on English History, which has developed on far other lines than he approved, yet his destructive work in safeguarding English liberties, both civil and religious, has been permanent. Under his rule England was prosperous at home and successful abroad. He was one of the greatest of Englishmen, long execrated as a regicide, now revered as a hero, saint and demigod, guilty of many mistakes, but animated by the highest ideals of religion and liberty.

Does a man speak foolishly?—suffer him gladly, for you are wise. Does he speak erroneously?—develop such a man's mouth with sound words that cannot be gainsaid. Does he speak truly?—rejoice in the truth.

—Cromwell.

SOFIA, Sept. 2. General Savoff, former Commander in chief of the Bulgarian army, and M. Tocheff, former Bulgarian Minister at Belgrade, have been appointed delegates to assist the former Bulgarian foreign minister in negotiations between Bulgaria and Turkey.

MANCHESTER, Sept. 2. The first business of the Trades' Union Congress to-day, was the adoption of a resolution denouncing the virulent terms of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland in prohibiting the meetings and straggling free speech in Dublin; also condemning the brutality of the police. James Sexton, who moved the resolution, declared that anything done by James Larkin, one of the arrested strike leaders in Dublin, was white as compared with the blackness of the Irish Unionist leader, Sir Edward Carson and his associates. He expressed indignation that such treatment could be meted out to workers in a city like Dublin, with a Nationalist Council.

In Honor of Wedding.

Smithville was last night the scene of a most pleasant occurrence when the employees of Messrs. Harvey & Co. were dined there in honor of the wedding of Mr. H. A. Outerbridge and Miss Hutton which recently took place in England. A large number of the employees were present and a most enjoyable time was had.

PRESCRIPTION "A."

Very Highly Recommended by An Outport Man.

Please send me by mail 1 large bottle of Stafford's Prescription "A". Enclosed you will find 50 cents, also 10 cents for postage. You sent me a trial size a few days ago and it almost cured my wife. Another 50 cent bottle will make a cure. I have tried doctors and all kinds of medicine, but I don't believe that there is any medicine that can cure a bad stomach like STAFFORD'S PRESCRIPTION "A". I am more than thankful that ever you advertised that medicine. Please forward as soon as possible, as I am waiting anxiously for it.

Drunk on Codliver Oil.

When Henry Weaver, of Chatham Township, Ont., appeared in the County Police Court recently to answer to a charge of being drunk while on the interdicted list, he stated that while he may have been intoxicated on that particular day he became so by using a certain preparation of cod liver oil. He confessed to having taken in all eighteen bottles of the remedy during the past few months. A bottle of the mixture shown in court and printed on the label, "24 per cent alcohol."

The Habit of Being Good-looking.

Are you known by your acquaintances as a good-looking young woman? Do they call you a pretty girl? Or do they say of you, "She is so homely!"

Go and look in the mirror, and ask yourself frankly if you are as nice-looking as you could be. If your hair is thin, it is no excuse for your twisting it up in a little tight knot on the top of your head. If your skin is sallow and full of blackheads and pimples, you have been neglecting yourself. If you are too fat, or too thin, or your clothes do not look pretty on you, do not give up hope. What you really need is a cold shower bath to awaken you to activity. You can be as attractive and charming as the friends you envy.

But perhaps you think attractiveness and charm are not a part of beauty. They are so much a part that they are beauty in themselves. Frequent bathing, clean and pretty clothing, glossy and becomingly arranged hair, a clear, rosy complexion, bright, happy eyes, these charms are yours if you are willing to try for them.

Let me whisper a few secrets in your ear. But to be perfectly frank with you, they are not secrets, because every one has heard them over and over so much we do not consider them seriously.

If your hair is thin, give your scalp a good massage every day, and use a good hair tonic. Study to arrange the hair in the most becoming fashion. Brush it often, and keep it clean. An article will appear in the near future giving a few suggestions on dressing the hair.

If you have pimples and blackheads, perhaps you are not getting enough exercise, enough fresh air and out of doors. Maybe you are not eating enough fruits, and too much meats and pastries. Wash the face thoroughly clean before going to bed. Green soap is a wonderful cure for pimples and blackheads.

You can acquire good habits, you know, as well as bad ones. Brush your hair and comb it every evening. Give your scalp a good massage, and give it a sun and air bath often. Take a few minutes each day to manure your finger nails. You can do it yourself, with a little practice, and it is these little attentions that make up the really good-looking woman.

Take a tepid warm bath every day and if you are strong enough to bear the shock, a cold shower after the warm bath will be like a tonic to you. These things give you energy, and put you in a good humor, and that is a big factor in looking pretty. Study your defects, and build them up, smile and laugh all you can. They are wonderful beautifiers. The real secret of it all is that being charming, being attractive, well dressed, and even good-looking, are habits. You may have to school yourself, and be persistent to acquire these habits, but they are worth while. Try it yourself, and you will agree with me. Get yourself and others used to thinking of you as a charming and good-looking woman.—Mme. Jeanne La Place in Woman's World for September.

Try It.

Angus Carney, who has announced that he is his own grandfather, has his neighbors doing mental arithmetic which makes the age of Anne a mere primary problem. He has compiled the following: "I met a widow with a grown daughter and I married the widow. Then my father met my step-daughter and married her. That made my wife the mother-in-law of her father-in-law, and made my step-daughter my step-mother. My father became my step-son."

"Then my step-mother, the daughter of my wife, had a son. That boy was, of course, my brother, because he was my father's son. But he was also the son of my wife's daughter and therefore my grandson. That made me grandfather of my wife's grandson."

Then my wife had a son. My mother-in-law, the step-sister, is also his grandmother, because he is her step-son's child. My father is the brother-in-law of my child, because the step-sister is his wife. I am a brother of my own son, who is also the child of my step-grandmother. I am my mother's brother-in-law. My wife is her child's aunt. My son is my father's nephew and I am my own grandfather."
