Hit by Lightniag.

During the height of the thunder-storm that raged at Placentia Junction between 5 and 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Andrew Pinsent, of the R. N. North Sydney, May 16.—According to a cablegram received this week by W. A. McKay from the aviator Mellin who is looking after Mr. McKay's interests in the parachute contests in Paris, the final test which was to have taken place Monday last has been postponed for one month. The reason given is that several competitors for $80,000 prize are not yet ready to take part and prevailed upon the management for a postponement. Mellin has already made several tests with the MacKay device, all of which have been highly successful.
