Vears to look forward to the ownership of their farms. It is asserte i that the launch-ing of the new program at a time so criti-cal has been generally condemned by Davit's parliamentary associates, who be-lieve that the introduction of communistic theories will drive from the land league ranks the conservative and clerical element. Parnell will have nothing to do with the struggle for the abolition of landlordism on the old land league lines of the establish-ment of a peasant proprietorship. The debate on the repression bill was re-sumed in the house of commons. Russell's amendments defining intimidation as threats or acts of violence to person or property or the vote Harcourt undertook to insert the words " providing the acts prescribed by this clause must, to be punishable, be done with cnimus."
