THE POP AND BISHOPS.

Important Questions Occupying the Minds of the German People. NEW YORK, June 18.—Edward M. Smith, U. S. consul to Berlin, Germany, arrived here yesterday. He is home on leave of absence for sixty days. In answer to questions regarding affairs in Germany, he stated three great questions were occupying the attention of the government and the many people who interest themselves in topics of national importance. First among these is the Vatican and the emperor. He stated the Vatican proposed to appoint bishops and it is expected that the government will accept them. Bismarck says, however, that the pope would eventually succeed in his policy. He cannot so long as Germany maintains her present attitude. Mr. Smith did not say if it is probable or rather probable would yield. He says to the pope, he does, however, put the papal robe on the back and smooth down as best he can its rumpled folds, but he goes no further. You can rest assured no compromise between the pope and Germany is probable.

CANADIAN TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.
