PLYMPTON'S OLDEST PIONEER

The late John McConnell, who passed away Sunday evening, March 13, was probably the oldest pioneer of Plympton. He was born May 4th, 1832 in County Armagh, Ireland, and came with his parents in 1844 to Canada. After a tedious voyage of six weeks and three days, settled on the old homestead west half lot 7 the same year. The father, Jas. McConnell, unfortunately died three months after their arrival, thus leaving Mrs. McConnell (nee Abigail De Lap) a widow with a small family of six children in a tractless forest, her eldest son, John, being but twelve years of age. It is impossible for us to realize what all this meant. The half will never be told. However, notwithstanding those sad and discouraging circumstances, that courageous spirit so prominent in that illustrious race to which they belong, proved equal to the many burdens of pioneer life, they all lived to manhood and womanhood.

The passing of John McConnell was a natural consequence not unlooked for as he was almost 89 years of age, and to the very last was in complete possession of his mental faculties. He possessed an enormous amount of mother wit, was truly genial, and distinctly honest. In religion he was a life-long member of the Anglican church; he was more righteous than religious; a conservative in politics, with a keen sense of right. Mr McConnell was married in 1876 to Miss B. Maria Jackson, to whom six children were born. James Thomas and Charlotte M., at home; Mrs. Henry Berry, sixth line, Plympton; Mrs. Henry Whiffen, Detroit, and Margaret Jane Ethel May, and Mary Agnes deceased, two brothers survive him, Wm. DeLap McConnell, Sarnia, and Thomas Jas., of Cranbrook, B. C. His sisters were the late Mrs. Johanna Trusler, Forest; the late Mrs. Jane McPherson, and the late Mrs. Abigail Robinson, Cam-lachie, and the late Mrs. Elizabeth Patterson, of Sarnia. He was buried in Wyoming on the 16th day of March, surrounded by his family and friends, the cortege leaving that beautiful home which shall long remain a pleasant reminiscence of his memory, and while we proffer our sympathy to the bereaved ones it is pleasant to be able to say as their regent of Scotland said at the grave of John Knox. "Their lies the mortal remains of an honest man."

The pallbearers were all nephews John and Jasper Jackson, Thomas Young, John Jackson, Ernest and Thomas Jackson. Rev. Mr. Fry, Anglican clergyman, of Wyoming, conducted the service.

VEGETABLE VIRTUES

A doctor has compiled this list of vegetable virtues:

Rhubarb is a good laxative. Asparagus stimulates the kidneys. Onions are a tonic for the nerves. Watercress is an excellent blood purifier.

Parsnips possess the same virtues as sarsaparilla.

Bananas are beneficial to sufferers from chest complaints.

Dates are exceedingly nourishing and also prevent constipation.

Apples, carrots and Brazil nuts are excellent for sufferers from constipation.

Tomatoes are good for a torpid liver, but should be avoided by gouty people.

Celery contains sulphur and helps to ward off rheumatism. It is also a nerve tonic.

Lettuce has a soothing effect on the nerves, and is excellent for sufferers from insomnia.

Spinach has great aperient qualities and is far better than medicine for sufferers from constipation.

ROUND ABOUT THE HOUSE

Thin slices of bread with lettuce leaves and sliced radishes make very palatable sandwiches.

Utilize cold spinach by heating, add a little butter, and serve on buttered toast. Garnish with hard boiled eggs.

Almost any green salad, particularly if it is to be served with a roast is improved by the addition of some finely chopped mint leaves.

Cauliflower, when served whole, makes a very pretty dish. Tie it in a square of cheesecloth before boiling. When done it can then be lifted from the vessel without breaking it. Place on a hot platter, remove the cloth, then pour over the cauliflower a drawn butter sauce.

In canning fruit, especially cherries, currants and berries, it sometimes happens that there is juice left over. Heat it and can it carefully, or put it hot into clean bottles, stop with new corks and seal with wax. It makes a welcome drink mixed with ice water.

Nests of crisp lettuce leaves or water cress, or cups made of tomatoes, cucumbers, or green peppers, when used for serving salads, add much to their appearance.

A delicious sweet to serve with a luncheon course is made by dipping oblong crackers in melted sweet chocolate. Place them on a buttered plate until firm and dry.

MANUFACTURE KID GLOVES

FROM WHALE INTESTINES
Soft, pliable "kid" that is as strong and durable as its genuine prototype, from the intestines of the whale; thick sole leather of excellent quality from the lining of the whale's mouth; five or more huge split sides of tough leather from the skin of the beluga, the common dolphin of the North Pacific; these are only a few of the many revolutionary products obtained from aquatic leather, the manufacture of which has become one of the few important industries of the Pacific Northwest.

From an embryonic idea three years ago to a practical method of utilizing annually millions of dollars worth of otherwise wasted by-products, and supplying a new source of sorely needed material, the development of the industry has been phenomenal.

All types of sharks—mud, sand, hammerhead, white, basking or giant, shark—furnish valuable leather, and the grain of this tough product makes it prized for upholstery, bag and trunk covering, etc. The skin of the average deep-sea shark, which is 10 to 12 ft. in length, measures about 35 sq. ft. This is split as many as eight times.

FACE BETRAYS CALLING

It seems to be pretty well agreed among those in a position to speak authoritatively that associated with the various occupations in life there is undoubtedly a type of face which more or less betrays the calling of its owner. Medical men, especially in hospital practice, find acquaintance with these types valuable. They may not be able, with the shrewdness of Sherlock Holmes or of other acute persons, to read a man's past, present and future by a glance at him in the street but they are able to gauge with considerable accuracy how far the history of the case, as given by the patient, is a truthful one, and how far it fits with his probable occupation in life. Calling must certainly have some influence over the physiognomy of the cabman the butler, or the groom; each frequently possesses a type of face which wears characteristic an expression as to make it not difficult to identify the vocation accompanying it. We speak also of the legal face, the musical face, the dramatic face, and the military face. This is merely a broad classification, and the best authorities disbelieve in the claims of the keen observer that he can differentiate to a finer degree.

Bootleggers and Whiskey Smugglers are Disgracing Canada

On April 18 Abolish Importation by voting YES

Since January 1, 1920, thousands and thousands of gallons of Whiskey, Gin, Brandy and High Wines have been shipped into Ontario.

Express shipments alone for a long period averaged four to six cars per day, and have run as high as eight!

Four car loads a day means at least 19,200 quarts daily, or over 5,000,000 quarts per year. And yet the people of Ontario voted to make prohibition the permanent law!

This imported "Booze" is the stuff which enables the "Bootlegger" to carry on his illegal trade, and allows "Rum Runners" and "Whiskey Smugglers" to disgrace Canada.

Officers of the law are set at defiance.

Read what the Chairman of the Board of License Commissioners says himself.

Importation Makes Law Enforcement Difficult

"After an experience in the administration of the Ontario Temperance Act covering the period from its first coming into force in September, 1916, I am in a position to state that importation is seriously hampering its effectiveness. The War Measures Act was repealed in January 1920, and the Dominion Orders-in-Council under the Act were rescinded. Heavy shipments of liquor into the province began at once. The number of cases of breach of the Ontario Temperance Act have increased in even greater proportion."—From a Statement by the Chairman of Board of License Commissioners for Ontario.
