

20TH CENTURY JEWELERS' HERALD

A black and white illustration of a winged figure, possibly an angel or a personification of time, standing on a globe. The figure is shown in profile, facing left, with its wings spread. The globe is positioned below the figure's feet. The background is dark and textured.

We ask you to look in the pages of the 20th Century
Jewelers' Herald
for March, 1900.

This Journal is published in your interest fully as much as in that of its publishers.

P. W. ELLIS & CO. TORONTO.

