NEWMARKET NOTES. Newmarket, Jan. 7.—Since the Midnight Mass of Christmas Eve, until the Epiphany our Church has presented a very festive appearance.

teemed and zealous pastor, Rev. Father Whitney, delivered suitable instructions; and the choir rendered acceptably music appropriate to the season of joy and peace and adoration.

IRISH AND FRENCH-CANADIANS.

The Register has at all times advocated the development of the best possible understanding between Irish and French-Canadian Catholics in this Dominion. Therefore, we are pleased to note an article in Le Temps, of Ottawa, denouncing the conduct of Ald Vincent, of that city, who in last week's municipal election endeavored to raise the race cry.

"Here, in Ottawa, what would we say if the business corporations, the electric railway, the lighting companies, the majority of the aldermen, dropped from their employ all French-Canadians and Irish Catholics? So, among ourselves too, let one part respect the other."

BRANCH 15 C. M. B. A. AND BRO. O'HEARN.

The following has been sent to Mr. J. J. O'Hearn, who has just retired from the Chancellors office of C. M. B. A. Branch No. 15, after an unusually long enjoyment of the honors which he feels ought to be allowed to go round:

Dear Sir and Bro.—The members of Branch 15 C. M. B. A., feel they cannot allow this opportunity to pass without tendering to you, in a slight degree, their sincere and high appreciation of the many sacrifices and efforts you have made, at all times, for the advancement of our Branch. If words fail to express in suitable language, our deep appreciation of your many valued services, you will do us the justice to believe that our feelings are none the less sincere and hearty.

The honors which have been conferred on you, in the capacity of Chancellor of this Branch, and by the Grand Council as Grand Deputy, reflect great credit on yourself, and on the Branch, of which you are such an honored and respected member. We feel we cannot allow your signal services to pass unrecognized, and we therefore ask you to accept, as a small token of our appreciation, this silver water pitcher and stand.

May it remind you of the kindly feelings and brotherly love, in which you are held by the members of this Branch.

hand, and that you may be spared to the Branch for many years to come.

Signed on behalf of the Branch, Frank J. Walsh, President; T. F. Callaghan, Vice-President; T. M. Haggarty, Recording Secretary.

PROTECTION OF WORDS.

In the November "Era" William A. Walsh pleads for much-abused words and phrases: "In these days when everybody is writing and everybody is expected to be well-to-do, it is not well to start a Society for the Protection of Words and Phrases? Many of these are so brutally overworked by the amateur! The winged words, the words that burn, the thoughts that breathe, the telling phrases, do they not clamor loudly for respect? They are the words that illumine a man's mind, that give a luminating example of what I mean. How apt, how vivid, how expressive it would be if all its epithets had not lost their vitality through overwork. To the stated reader the whole sentence is but the echo of an echo, it not merely means nothing, but it is wadded even of its own weight. The gentleman who its soul is weary with the repetition complained of himself that it was too full of quotations unconsciously expressed a great fact through the medium of a bull. In a wrongheaded way he pointed out that constant repetition has reduced the grandest passages in the language to mere commonplace. Give our families quotations to rest. Lay to sleep our household words. Let fortune for a while cease to favor the brave. Let us feel that the poet is made. Let a man who would steal another's thunder be arrested for felony. Let us win no more golden opinions. Let the inventor who withdraws to some select seclusion, and the countless thousands to some dry-eyed privacy. Thus may nouns, adjectives and phrases, after a long rest, reawaken with the freshness of the morning upon them, their original meanings recreated, energetic, effective, brilliant, as on the day when they were first conceived and brought forth."

A Dream Story.

From time to time I have been so interested and amused by reading in "The Spectator" accounts of vivid and realistic dreams that I feel compelled to narrate one that happened to me, leaving it to your judgment as to whether it is worthy of notice in your paper. In November, 1893, I awoke one morning fully impressed with the idea that I was receiving as a gift an unusually large gypsy ring, set with a single sapphire with a brilliant on each side. The dream was a pleasant one to the female mind, and I soon fell asleep again, but only to awake with a still stronger impression that the jewel was actually in my hands. So curious were my sensations that on my maid entering my room at 8 o'clock I called her to my dressing table and certainly a ring case that I dare scarcely open it, and decided to ask my maid to do so. Before breaking the seal I asked her to repeat the description of the ring that I had previously given her, and then the little package was opened, and the joyful exclamation followed: "Why, my lady, here it is!" The ring was sent to me by a friend in memory of his wife, who had died some months before; but I had absolutely no idea that I should be the recipient of any souvenir of her, nor could I ever see her. I feel certain that I never saw her, and I still in my quarters and on (as well as Mr. Astley) I am sure that my wife is still in the land of the living.

THE OPINION OF AN ADVERTISER.

To the Editor of The Register: Dear Sir—It gives me much pleasure to state that the advertisement which I have in The Catholic Register has well-paid me. As a rule I find it difficult to tell from which source trade comes through advertising, but on several occasions I know good patrons have come to me through your paper. Yours, B. McCORMACK.

Mining For Rupee.

NE advantage gained by the victory of the British over King Thabang's hordes some years ago, was the acquisition of the famous ruby mines, from which had come the finest "pigeon-blood" stones in the world, and it was expected that an immense treasure of those gems would be found in the royal palace. But, although in the looting of the monarch's harem and residence, jars filled with rubies were discovered, nearly all of them were of little value, being flawed and in other respects poor specimens. It was a great disappointment. Nevertheless, confidence in the resources of the mines was unshaken, and capitalists in England were eager to buy shares in a company organized to exploit the ruby fields that the police were obliged to defend, with drawn clubs, the officers of the concern against a swarm of half-crazed would-be prospectors. Shares in the enterprise were boomed to astonishing figures, but tumbled alarmingly when news began to leak out that the ruby craze was likely to prove a bubble. Mining had been begun on an extensive scale, but somehow the gems did not materialize, and it looked as though the fields were much less valuable than had been supposed, or as if the deposits were exhausted. After some years investors made up their minds that their money was as good as lost. Hence the great and delightful surprise conveyed by the recent intelligence that the mines have begun to pay dividends. "The British company (as reported by Mr. G. F. Kunz to the Geological Survey) is now producing fully one-half of the world's supply of rubies, and its leases are said to include practically all of the ruby-bearing territory of Burma."
