

which states that the expenses of the General Assembly shall be borne by the members of the Assembly and the State Treasury. It is also stated that the members of the Assembly shall be entitled to a pension for life if they have served for a certain period of time in the Assembly.

The text continues to discuss the financial aspects of the Assembly, mentioning the State Treasury and the members' expenses. It also touches upon the pension system for members and the role of the State Treasury in funding these expenses.

Further down, the text discusses the composition of the Assembly, mentioning the number of members and the process of their election. It also mentions the role of the State Treasury in providing financial support to the members.

The document concludes with a discussion on the financial support provided to the members of the Assembly, including the pension system and the role of the State Treasury in funding these expenses.