

These figures (Nos. 6 to 10) are also diagrammatic. They are more or less magnified, but are not drawn to give any idea of the size, nor of the relation of one to another in this particular. They are outlines of the heads as they appear under slight pressure, and may be an aid to identification in doubtful cases.