

123. Whereas untrue representations of the whole colonization work have been industriously circulated to serve personal and political ends, which statements though not directed against any particular company, nevertheless justice and decency compel us to give them a flat denial so far as this company is concerned.
124. There was no pledged majority to remove him, but as it was supposed that he would resign at the next meeting, and finding that he had no intention of doing so, a feeling existed that his resignation was being withheld for political purposes.
125. All goes on satisfactorily at Winchester, the attention and attendance, I think, gradually deepening and increasing.
126. I had in every despatch complained of the material information that Colonel Harley was keeping from me.
127. Too many innovations should not be attempted at once, unless where there happens to be, as in Chemistry, a predisposition to admit them.
128. The present low freights have increased business to some extent. The supply of produce, however, being small, has materially checked the number of shipments.
129. They would have sent him to his account with as little compunction as Jael sent the Canaanite captain, or they would have blessed the arm that did it with as much eloquence as Deborah.
130. The Mayor is anxious to cover up his tracks, but they are too transparent to be swallowed by an intelligent people without a grimace.
131. Mr. M. having become convinced that certain correspondence emanating from B., and which he unmercifully berated a respectable citizen, Mr. H., for writing, has tendered him an ample apology.
132. I have only to say to the electors that I run for the office upon the recommendation and support of many influential citizens, amounting to me to as much as is claimed by the so called regularly nominated candidate.
