

Commercial Fits & Misfits

The designer is the artist who makes the pattern from which the tailor builds the suit. He puts the character, snap, style, and individuality into it, just as the architect puts beauty and utility into a building.

A mere tailor can build a suit that will wear, and by using patterns designed to fit the average stout, slim, or heavy man, and by padding, secure a "commercial" fit.

But the suit will not have the character, or the style, or the real fit of a suit designed and cut to individual measure as Hobblerlin Suits are so cut and designed.

That is one of the principal reasons for the good fit of Hobblerlin Clothes, and yet they cost no more than the kind that is cut on the "average" system.

For example, you can have one of these fancy worsteds or chevrons, or pure dye serges, made especially to your measure, and it need not cost more than twenty dollars. If you want to go to $30 or $35 you can do so.

These Hobblerlin Suits at $20 have a swing and a style and grace that cannot fail to impress society with your personality.

EXTRA ATTRACTION AT MOTOR CYCLE MEET

The officers of the Toronto Motorcycle Club have received a request from Herb Morrison to issue a challenge for a five mile automobile race, to be run at the motorcycle race meet on Saturday afternoon. He is willing to make this challenge open to all comers, and as his car is now in fine shape, he believes he can beat Morrison's record of 1.06 for the mile on this track. This means that he will have to travel at Cole's rate of speed. In practice this week he has been making the turns so nicely that it is believed there is not another make of car in Canada which can keep pace with him. This race will be a preliminary for the 10 mile championship to be held on Thanksgiving Day, as the committee have decided that the first four to finish shall be eligible for the championship. As Herb is an old favorite and has not been out for some time, this should be the most exciting event ever programed this year.

The challenge is as follows: I. Herb Morrison, of the Parkdale garage, do hereby challenge all comers for a five mile automobile race, to take place at the T. M. C. motorcycle meet, on Saturday, October 12, at Exhibition Park, E. Morrison, winner, Fred A. Johnston, Herb Marshall, H. J. Stillaway.

Nov. 4—Varsity II. v. City Teachers.
Nov. 8—McMaster v. Varsity II.
The Wednesday games start at 3:30 p.m. and the Saturday games start at 2:30 p.m. all on the front campus.

HALF MILE TRACK AT CANNINGTON FOR W. J. COWAN'S HARNESS HORSES

New, Up-to-Date Course Now on the Way to Completion on the Maple Stock Farm—Looking Over the Horses.

It was my pleasure on Tuesday last, in company with a number of congenial friends, to visit The Maples, the beautiful stock farm owned and managed by W. J. Cowan of Cannington. This farm comprises 630 acres of as good land as the sun shines on, and is in a state of cultivation that reflects credit on its owner. Every acre has the appearance of a park. There are no gates off the hinges, no fences down—everything in its proper place, and a place for everything. When the party arrived there (by motor) they were met by Mr. Cowan, who, the very busy with a large gang of men and teams, constructing an all half mile track, were taken over the place and shown the many points of interest. The different barns with the different classes of stock. The Maples is a genuine stock farm in every sense of the word, containing cattle, hogs and the different breeds of horses. The Clyde dale down to the diminutive ponies. This large block of land is right in the Town of Cannington, to be speaking, the residence, or home, is situated on the edge of the town, overlooking the old fair grounds, which had at one time a very fast half-mile track, but like many country towns the fair has grown beautifully. Mr. Cowan's home is a large brick residence surrounded by grand old maple trees, and the picturesque part shows the hand of the lady of the house. Mrs. Cowan is passionately fond of flowers and shrubs, and also late in the season it was evident that the gardens and lawns had been a mass of bloom. Even at this late date roses were in bloom. The family residence is all that anyone could desire, being large, roomy and with all conveniences. The family stable is at the place where Mrs. Cowan keeps her favorite driving horses, also a back-saddle pony that would be hard to beat in Canada. The driving shed has all classes of light stage carriages, runabouts, phaetons, tour buggies, road wagons; in fact, everything in keeping with a first-class family barn.

Building a Track.
On the day of our visit, Mr. Cowan had twelve teams working on the half-mile track, which he is constructing for use of his trainer, William Flemming, so well and favorably known by the harness horsemen. It was Mr. Flemming who drove Joe Patchen II. in all his races during the season of 1912, when he was the largest money winner among the pacers of that year. Mr. Flemming will develop a number of colts bred by Mr. Cowan, as well as look after the string that has raced this summer. I am getting away from the subject of the track, which lies directly opposite Mr. Cowan's residence, and as he is an adept in the business grading one can rest assured that there will be no better half-mile track in Canada than will be at The Maples. He has been particularly careful about the drainage, and the soil is the best for a track for trotters and pacers. Just back of the track complete in less than two weeks, with fencing around the whole. Just back of the track is a small barn is located, and it is a model of completeness. The ground floor has four-teen beautiful, airy stalls, with all modern appliances. There is an office nicely fitted up on this floor, and cases for harness and other equipment. At the rear of this barn there is a nice river, and 300 to 350 yards back from the track is a large house, which Mr. Cowan is stocking this with brook trout spawn, so that his friends, when they go to see him in the trout season and who are disciples of Zak Walton, will be able to fish with bait or cast the fly. One of the features of the house is that it is bought together complete farm houses and grand barns are in evidence. The house is a fine specimen of a house of the town built about half a mile. In this barn is stabled Mr. Cowan's choice of Clydesdales, an imported stallion weighing 2240 lbs.—a splendid type of the breed, good looking, and ideal type of his breed. Also stabled here are several Canadian-bred stallions, imported brood mares, and a round dozen of imported brood mares. Off from this barn is the cattle shed, with every up-to-date appliance, running water in all the barns, electric lighted and an electric motor for power for churning.

The Standard-Bred.
At the head of the stud of standard-breds is Peter Wilkes, ch. by Peter the Great, dam Mollie W., by Wilton II., dam of Ralph Wilkes (2:14), Peter Wilkes is a yearling old, beautiful type of the standard-bred, the best of conformation, and, except for an accident, would undoubtedly have been a very fast race horse. Two years ago, at the Canadian National Exhibition, with little or no training, he won the mile in 2:27, and so impressed was he with him that he induced Mr. Cowan to buy him. He has been a very fast race horse in retirement at his beautiful home. Quite a number of colts will be taken from this stud. One of the most promising is a three-year-old filly by Peter Wilkes and Cherry Ripe (2:14), by Peter Wilkes. This miss will be taken in hand at once, and should develop into a very fast trotter. Another filly sister to the last-named is a weanling, Mr. Cowan has much taken up with these, as after the showing of Peter Wilkes, a mile in 2:04, a world's record for his age, he naturally feels proud of Peter Wilkes, and the reputation of never having made a break in all his work, or in any of his races, and as Mr. Cowan races as a matter of fact, he looks to the dog on him, and even that would not make him go to break. He seems to know nothing but trot. There are also three yearlings by Quintell (2:12), by Axtell, dam by Red Wilkes.

The horses in training and that have been raced this summer are Prince Wood (2:08), brn., by Guy Princeton, who faced all the best western Canada circuit and was never out of the money, but went wrong when he was shipped east to fill some of his engagements, and had to be let up. He is in first-class shape again, and will get his daily work, K. of K. in a black gelding by Kentucky Todd (2:08), dam by Mocho. He is a green colt and has been carried for education, he looks very much like his sire. Has a typical Todd head and looks like he would trot as fast as his sire.

Another Grand Trotter.
Baroness Helen (2:15), brn., by Baron Review, dam by Axtell. This mare did not have a chance this summer. She was wintered in California and shipped early in the spring to western Canada, and did not seem to get climaxed. However, she will get a thorough preparation in this country, and no doubt Mr. Cowan will have a number for the stake events thru the Canadian circuit in 1914. It is men like Mr. Cowan who should be connected with the light horse industry men who are fond of the trotters and pacers, and that are in a position financially to indulge in the sport. Men of his stamp are an acquisition to the game, and Mr. Cowan will have only the best of everything that money can buy. I look forward with pleasure to the string that he will send to the races, and with such a capable trainer as Bill Flemming there will be no disappointment.

In show horses Mr. Cowan has a bay gelding, Memo, by Diratlo, half brother to Belgrade, that has never been beaten, but once in his class wherever shown. He cost Mr. Cowan a large sum of money. He bought him in California, and will pay a long price for one to mate him. He is a perfect gentleman, and with man-ners that cannot be beaten. He seems to know when he is on parade, and acts perfectly. He is a perfect gentleman, and with man-ners that cannot be beaten. He seems to know when he is on parade, and acts perfectly. He is a perfect gentleman, and with man-ners that cannot be beaten. He seems to know when he is on parade, and acts perfectly.

Another fine animal is a cream pony and dam a Welsh mare. She is a perfect horse in every way. She is an actor hard to beat both front and behind, and can trot very fast. She also has the best of manners.

A pair of dapple gray Percheron mares represent the farm and of it for show. They will weigh about 2700 to 2800 pounds, are perfectly matched in color, hair, size, etc., and have superb action. They show a good clip down the road. This pair has been shown at a great many fairs, and always had the red ribbon put on them. Talking of prize ribbons, Mr. Cowan's den at his residence, is a room all the way around, three deep, with prize ribbons. In all there are at The Maples over fifty head of horses, and Mr. Cowan is in his business as a railroad contractor in western Canada.

100 teams of mules.
In the barn at The Maples Mr. Flemming has in his charge Grand Opera (2:14), by Claus Forrester, owned by the late J. H. Forrester, and who was the best of health at present. His legs and feet do not show any bad effects from a campaign of two years without a let-up. Billie and Simms (2:14), by J. H. Forrester (2:14), trotter, are at Dr. Riddle's barn in Grand Opera. Misses, Smith and Proctor have not as yet decided whether they will campaign this winter.

PET TIGER ROAMS VILLAGE STREETS

Michigan Man Brought Him From South America—Now Name and Gentle.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 5.—William Holcomb of Stanton, Mich., has a unique pet in the person of a South American tiger named Holcomb, which from tip to tip and nearly twenty-four inches in height. It is not only in the Holcomb household but also in the village streets. Children play with it, grown-ups stop to pet it and it is a pet of the village.

About four years ago Holcomb went to Central America on a government job. One day while hunting he shot a tiger. When he went up to the dead animal he saw in the grass beside her a playful cub. He carried the little fellow back to camp and nurtured it. The tiger was gentle and never showed any disposition to return to wild life. It made friends with all the campers, shared their bunkers, frolicked with them when they lolled about on the ground. When the job was finished last summer, Holcomb returned to the States, bringing the animal with him. His sweetheart fell in love with his pet and begged him to give it to her. Two days later they were married. The tiger does various stunts, and Holcomb is always ready to show it off. It is regarded as a pet by everyone except the dogs. When a dog comes in a way and arches its back and spits and snarls and Mr. Dog takes the other side of the street.

Recently a bull terrier with a reputation as a fighter was put to the test. The tiger answered with a sparl. Immediately there was a mix-up, but it lasted only a moment. The terrier bleeding from myriad scratches from the tiger's claws, stuck its tail between its legs and streaked it around the nearest corner.

Holcomb has arranged with the proprietor of a cattery to cross the tiger with an Angora cat. He hopes to produce an animal that will be an ideal pet.

SMART SUITS

We probably have a hundred different styles in suits, and each one is quite the thing for some one. Every man to his taste, and one great advantage of dealing here is that we have such a big range of styles that the "smart suit"—that is, just the "right suit" for you, is more likely to be here than anywhere else. At any rate you can keep trying on suits till you are satisfied one way or the other.

MOULD-BUILDERS LIKE EGYPTIANS

Used Mummy Cases for Burial of Potentates and Princes.
WERE THEY RELATED?

Possible Connection of American Prehistoric People With African Race.

GRAND JUNCTION, Col.—Were the American cliff dwellers the followers of the Egyptians? This question is being asked now as a result of important discoveries made by the Utah Archaeological Society party, which has just completed an extended investigation of the cliff dwellers of southwestern Colorado. At the "Bat Woman House," a cliff dwelling in Doeghehoktoke Canon, Ariz., a rare burial chamber was discovered. In it was found the mummy of an ancient chief. With the mummy was found a wealth of material, pointing the possession of the potentate. In whose sarcophagus they were deposited. This had very much the appearance of the mummies found in Egypt. One large cliff house containing 82 rooms was completely excavated, revealing many concerning the history of its ancient occupants. A far of fine manufacture, probably the largest in the world, was found. It is five feet in circumference and cannot be duplicated by modern pottery makers.

Cornell Student Anxious to Pay His Way by Caring for Horse.

(Special to The World.)
ITHACA, Oct. 4.—A number of applications from students desiring employment during the college year, so that they may be partially or wholly self-supporting, are pouring into the offices of the Y.M.C.A. at Cornell University these days.

By far the most common work desired is waiting on table and washing dishes. Scores of young men have applied for positions of that character in return for their board. One man who says he can run a summer hotel wants to get some fraternity or club table to run on contract.
Another says he can tutor in Latin, German, French and mathematics. An application that is puzzling the association officials came from a man who has had experience in "banking and
