

true to them, and (trust me) they will prove true to themselves and to you. The people are honest; now at home at their ploughs, not dreaming of what you are about. But the spirit of enquiry, that has too long slept, will be, must be, awakened. Let them begin to think; not to say such things are proper because they have been done—but what has been done? and wherefore?—and all will be right.

THE END.

access. The
to be the pro-
to Congress,
of the union,
asures as he
he done it?
we are inde-
a direction to do what you
of war, and
n. He stands
e. You give Louisiana.—
se means rests
low when the
ity upon the r doors were
en. Gentle-
n insignificant
not alter my representations
proceedings,
United States,
of knowing
been commu-
governments?
ow what has
d your Presi-
ithin its own
y. Do you
on? He has
m his pocket Talleyrand.”
d upon. Be