

The Future

Thirty years have not diminished the need for Wycliffe. It may well be questioned whether it is not more wanted to-day than ever. The faithful laity of our Church rally round her as zealously as at first and love to hear of the pure Gospel taught within her walls and preached by those that have been sent forth as her representatives in all parts of the world. We thank God and take courage and pray for His continued blessing on the work.