

COUNCIL SPLIT ON VACCINATION

Mayor Refuses to Give Casting Vote—Referred to Controllers.

The greater part of the four and a half hours during which the city council sat yesterday was taken up with the settlement of an apartment house on the northeast corner of St. Clair ave. and Avenue road, a grant of $25,000 to the Navy League, the entertainment of the Canadian Women's Institutes, the sale of gasoline from pumps on the street curb, the supposed epidemic of smallpox, and Alderman McGridge. The alderman was told by the mayor towards the close of the meeting that he would not be allowed to shout in the council chamber.

Early in the day Dr. Hastings had called a meeting of the health committee and reported to them that there was an outbreak of smallpox in the city. The cases under observation, he stated, were of a mild character, and that thirteen houses were already quarantined. In one house there were three patients. In nearly all the cases the doctor told the committee they had been diagnosed as chickenpox. Just to soothe his report he said there were cases all over the province, and the one Ontario city there were 22 cases blamed on one case from Toronto. The M. O. produced a proclamation for the chairman to sign making it compulsory for every person in Toronto who has not been vaccinated during the past seven years to undergo the operation. Alderman Hynd said he signed the proclamation against his conscience, but he was bound to do his duty. The alderman's signature, however, did not make the proclamation a legal instrument, and it was sent forthwith to the city council for confirmation before publication. Controller McBride, in approving the issuing of the proclamation, said he was a bird who was not having any. After a brief discussion the question was put to the vote and resulted in a dead heat, the mayor refusing to give a casting vote. On the motion of Controller Maguire the proclamation was referred to the board of control for consideration and report.

Mr. Duffard, on giving an undertaking not to build within 12 feet of a "parkette" belonging to the council, was given permission to build an apartment house on the northeast corner of St. Clair avenue and Avenue road.

Grant to Navy League.
The grant to the Navy League of $25,000 came up for confirmation. Every one was in favor of giving the sum advised by the board of control, but a party, led by Controller McBride, thought a "tag" should be put on stipulating that the money should be spent in Toronto, and succeeded in carrying his point.

A proposal to spend $750 on entertaining the delegates to the convention of Ontario Women's Institutes met with much opposition from Aldermen Baker and McGridge, who contended the organization was a political one and of rural origin. "The rural districts are running the province now," declared Ald. Baker, "so let them look after themselves and we, in the city hall, will look after ourselves." After a long discussion in which both Controllers McBride and Maguire asserted that the organization had no political activities, and Alderman McGridge declared they were an anti-conservation body, the grant was carried by a large majority.

Sale of Gasoline.
The question as to whether the sale of gasoline should be allowed on the street curb again came before the council, but produced few new arguments for or against the custom. Controller McBride wanted the vendors of "gas" to do business on their own property, whilst Controller Maguire said that if that principle was inserted it would put the whole supply into the hands of a monopoly. In the end the bylaw was adopted with an amendment by Ald. Baker to the effect that Commissioner Harris could order off the street any pump or standard of which he did not approve. On the presentation of a petition from the aldermen a special meeting of the council for Wednesday at 2.30 p.m. to consider the report of the special assessment committee.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is a exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion and they can eat as they please in reaction to the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Blaurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Blaurated Magnesia, and it is widely used on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five-cent tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of peppin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Blaurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes saturated, form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

Court of Revision Decides Gratuity Classes as Income

In the court of revision yesterday the assessment department was allowed its appeal asking for an increase in the income assessment of Mrs. Ethel Blake, Prince Arthur avenue.

The executors of the late Hon. Edward Blake allow Mrs. Blake, the widow, and his son a gratuity of $3,333.20 per annum over and beyond her actual income, but the money may be withdrawn at the discretion of the executors at any time.

Counsel for the estate claimed that the money as received by Mrs. Blake did not come under taxable incomes in the act. Chairman Drayton: "You have brought up a very nice point in calling this money a gratuity, but I can only confirm the increase from $2,600 to $3,333.20, which the assessment department has proved Mrs. Blake is receiving. If next year she does not receive this sum you can appeal."

HER GREAT AMBITION—TO SLAY THE CLASSICS.

I WAS traeting myself to a little rag-time this morning, you know, standing nonchalantly in one of them syncopated shops when I dodged a guy all flustered. "Godd!" to take my offer, "Minnie!" he says to the slim Jane what was playing light as a feather and programmatic, if you get what I mean.

"Nohin' doin'," she says, breaking into a harmonious bleat.

"But my movie opens next week and I gotta have a play!" he says.

"I should wawry," she hands him "Not a Thousand Years."

"I'm nothing if I ain't ambitious," "I'll play for you, mister," I says.

"Can you play, girl?"

"Like a extremist," I lied like a brazen woman.

REPORT ON JAILS

Grand Jury Find Toronto Jail Not Large Enough for the Purpose.

An order in council has been issued authorizing the superintendent of the municipal farm to obtain employment for eleven men prisoners of the institution and to collect and hand over their pay to their dependents.

A copy of the grand jury's report on the various places of detention is as follows:

Victoria Industrial School for Boys, Mimico—The only fault was in the bakery, where improvement should be made in "dry sweating" as at present. Jail Farm, North Yonge street—The institution was in fair condition. The telephone system was reported to be inadequate. The jury recommended its extension to all the outlying buildings and that telephone stations be placed in different parts of the jail for the convenience of the guards. There were almost 200 male prisoners.

Toronto Jail—The institution does not appear to be large enough for the demands made upon its space, the new governor being of the opinion that it was absolutely necessary to open up the east wing, and that they had to accommodate a number of prisoners in the corridor.

The charge has been changed to manslaughter since the death of Hickey. An inquest will be opened in the morgue today.

POLICE CONFISCATE TAGGERS' BOXES

Seventh Day Adventists Collect $280 Without Commissioners' Permission.

The police stopped a tag day yesterday being carried on by the Seventh Day Adventists to raise funds for their magazine. Early in the morning forty girls from Ossawa stepped off the train and proceeded to tag people. Deputy Chief Dickson heard of the campaign and sent out plainclothesmen to bring in the taggers. Examined at headquarters, the girls satisfied the police that they did not know the persons responsible for the campaign had not received permission to do so from the board of police commissioners. The collection boxes were confiscated and $280 in five and ten cent pieces found in them. Benjamin Heald, in charge of the movement in this district, told detectives that he did not believe it necessary to have the sanction of the police board. The matter will be placed before the commissioners this afternoon to decide whether or not further action will be taken in the matter.

BROUGHT BACK FROM LOS ANGELES

Robert E. King, arrested in Los Angeles, was brought back to Toronto last night from Vancouver. Detective-Sergeant Taylor went to Vancouver where King was handed over to him. The accused is charged with theft of $800 from the Canadian National Exhibition by whom he was employed during the fair as a ticket seller in the midway.

The Power of Inspiration

GEORGE BROWN'S ambition was to build up a Great Family Newspaper that would be a source of inspiration to each succeeding generation to go forward.

He wanted them in reading The Globe to get a broad outlook on life, and sympathy for, as well as an understanding of their fellows that make men and women of us all.

He urged upon others the same unselfish devotion to public service that he himself rendered.

All men and women cannot rise to positions of fame and fortune, but they can do something to leave the world better for their coming.

The Globe has been a part of the family life of many men and women who have come from humble circumstances to rise in the service and estimation of their fellows.

It has received a daily welcome in the homes of thousands who have left the world brighter and better for their sojourn here.

To give some idea of the exceptional influence The Globe has in the homes of its readers, take the result of a test of The Globe's circulation.

Out of 2,949 renewals of subscriptions made to The Globe in the usual course of business for a period prior to April 1st this year, 1,969 subscribers answered the question "How long has The Globe been read continuously in your family?"

This is the result:—

Readers for 50 years or more	255 or 13%
" 40 "	" 436 or 22%
" 30 "	" 681 or 34%
" 20 "	" 962 or 48%
" 10 "	" 1340 or 68%

On the basis of this test, out of the 30,000 families who subscribed to The Globe 30 years ago, 17,000 families are subscribing to it today; and out of the 45,000 families who subscribed to The Globe 10 years ago, 30,000 families are subscribing to it to-day.

In the 75th Anniversary Edition of The Globe on March 5th, 1919, names and addresses were printed of 300 families who have read The Globe continuously for 50 years or more.

The Globe has enjoyed three generations of leadership and inspiration of the people. What it has been in the past it will be in the future.

To maintain this position—to give The Globe a place in every home—to stimulate the aspirations of the people as well as to record daily events—is the fulfilment of the policy laid down by its founder, and continued from George Brown's time down to the present.
